DAILY, FIVE CENTS.

REPUBLICANS MAY RETAIN LEAD IN BOTH HOUSES

Bare Majority Apparently Held in Lower Chamber and Plurality of One in Senate Possible

Republicans appear to have retained a bare majority in the House as Tuesday's late election returns give them 216 members with eight districts, now Republican, still unreported. A majority is 218.

The Democrats need all eight of the unsettled districts to win 218. The districts include two normally Republican seats in Minnesota and six in Kentucky.

In their bid for House supremacy the Democrats are leading in five of the Kentucky districts, but the Republicans have the advantage in the other.

Republicans also revived hope of retaining the Senate as Senator Shipstead, Republican, Minnesota, cut the lead of his Democratic opponent, Einar Hoidale, from 24,000 to 20,000 with 600 more precincts to be heard.

MARGIN OF ONE

Hoidale's election would give the Republicans forty-eight in the next Senate with forty-seven Democrats and one Farmer-Labor. Hoidale's election would give the Democrats a one margin.

These figures are based on the reported defeat of the Republican candidate in the only other unsettled Senate contest in which Republicans is trailing the Democrat, M. M. Logan, in Kentucky.

With forty-eight Senate seats, the Republicans will have a plurality of one over the Democrats. Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor of Minnesota, the ninety-sixth member, has voted in the past with the Republicans on organization of the Senate, but without an actual majority in it is doubt whether the Republicans would seek to retain control of the Senate organization.

The Democratic uprising broke out in all sections of the country, and in spots most unexpected to leaders of both parties. Democrats gained in the Senate from the Republican strongholds of Kansas and North Dakota.

LIST OF GAINS

Democrats who won Senate seats now held by Republicans are:

Henry A. Coolidge, Massachusetts, who defeated former Senator William M. Butler.

Former Senator M. M. Neeley, West Virginia, who defeated J. [illegible].

Robert J. Bulkley, Ohio, who defeated Senator McCulloch.

Former Senator J. Ham Lewis, Illinois, who defeated Ruth Hanna McCormick.

George McGill, Kansas, who defeated Senator Allen.

Former Senator William J. Bulow, South Dakota, who defeated Senator McMaster.

J. P. Costigan, Colorado, who defeated George Shaw.

Democrats also were leading in the race for two other Republican seats, those Hoidale, Minnesota, ahead of Senator Schall and A. B. Logan was leading Senator Sackett in Kentucky. Ben Will-

DRYS RETAIN WHIP HAND

Congress Sway Continues

Senate's Arid Forces Hold Large Majority Despite Tuesday Results

Wets Still Shy Two-thirds Line-up Needed to Swing House for Repeal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (AP)—Tuesday's election produced accretions to the Senate wet group from Ohio, Massachusetts, Illinois and Rhode Island, and at least one dry gain—from Iowa.

Many prominent drys were returned to the Senate, too, and the large arid majority in that body is expected to be continued.

The preponderant prohibition majority in the House also was cut, but while the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment is claiming large net gains in both houses, the Anti-Saloon League points out the wets still are far below the necessary two-thirds majority needed to submit a repeal amendment to the States.

BATTLE PROSPECT

The antiprohibitionists recorded overwhelming victories in the repeal referenda in Illinois, Rhode Island and Massachusetts and provided further ammunition for a wet-dry battle which the Prohibitionist Borah has forecast in the early future.

A resolution to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment introduced last session by Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, is pending before the Senate Judiciary Committee. Whether there is any chance of this being debated in the short session starting next month remains to be seen. Senator Norris, of Nebraska, who was re-elected, heads the judiciary group. He is an advocate of prohibition.

ROLPH WINS BY 650,000

All Republicans Swept In

Merriam Defeats Welsh by 450,000 as State Elects Full G.O.P. Ticket

Daylight Saving and Sunday Closing Both Defeated by Huge Majorities

Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, elected as the twenty-seventh Governor of California since Statehood was acquired, was swept into office by a majority of more than 650,000 over Milton K. Young of Los Angeles at Tuesday's general election.

State Senator Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach, the State's next Lieutenant-Governor, although receiving a smaller total vote than Rolph, won over Martin I. Welsh of Sacramento by one of the most substantial majorities ever given a candidate for the office.

The total State vote will approximate 1,400,000.

Victory for Rolph and Merriam, Republican nominees, was a part of a State-wide Republican victory for all partisan offices. In the eleven Congress contests, ten Republicans were elected.

EVERY COUNTY WON

Rolph carried every one of the State's fifty-eight counties and Merriam lost in but two—Sacramento and Mariposa. The tremendous lead of Merriam, bone dry, over Welsh, avowed wet, in San Francisco was one of the great surprises of the election.

In a tabulation of 9439 of the State's 10,283 precincts, the vote for Governor was: Rolph, 926,562; Young, 311,609, and Sinclair (Socialist,) 45,914.

Returns from 9337 precincts on Lieutenant-Governor gave, Merriam, 903,940; Welsh, 399,663, and Shapiro, Socialist, 31,626. Merriam's indicated lead over Welsh on complete returns will exceed 450,000.

SOME ISSUES WIN

Of the twenty-six State propositions on the ballot, late returns indicate success for fourteen and defeat for twelve. Some of the propositions apparently carried by the State vote were rejected locally, and others supported by majorities in Southern California, were not successful in the State as a whole.

Those approved include: The veterans' welfare bond issue of $20,000,000; equalization of street railway tax; State retirement salaries; San Francisco harbor bonds; livestock indemnity; permanent registration; exemption of Huntington Library from taxation; regulation of corporations, adjustment of marine insurers' tax; judicial disqualification; municipal charter amendments and suffrage requirements.

The daylight saving and Sunday closing propositions received tremendous negative majorities throughout the State. Other propositions listed among the rejected measures are: Apportioning firemen's fund; compensation of State executive offices; exempting hospitals and sanatoriums from taxation; usury law; fish and game initiative; limitation of expense for legislative help; changing motor vehicle taxation; Governor's council; constitutional convention; absence of judicial officers, reimbursing counties and toll bridge taxation.

The vote on a few of the propositions in each division is sufficiently close to indicate a possibility of a reversal of position when all votes are counted.

NEW REGISTRATION

As a result of the vote for Propositions No. 14 and No. 26, each relating to elections, California voters will be placed on a permanent registration basis after January 1, 1932, and residence of forty days in a precinct preceding election, instead of thirty days as at present, will be required, an added provision, however, permitting a voter to return to his precinct to cast a ballot if he has removed therefrom within forty days preceding the election.

Although Proposition No. 19, relating to the judiciary, contains an apparently contradictory clause, it is

HUGE BOND ISSUES VOTED

Expenditures of More Than $300,000,000 in States and Cities Approved by Election

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS]

The expenditure of more than $300,000,000 in State and municipal construction programs appears to have been approved at Tuesday's election.

But while some voters were indorsing bond issues for that sum, others refused to let their governments assume $37,000,000 indebtedness for similar work.

The largest issue which apparently carried was in New Jersey, where $83,000,000 is to be spent on highways, $7,000,000 for water district improvements and $10,000,000 on public institutions.

Louisiana approved constitutional amendments including provisions for the issuance of $75,000,000 bonds by the State against anticipated gasoline taxes for twenty-five years for road building, $5,000,000 for a new State House and a $4,000,000 issue with which New Orleans will refinance itself.

County and city issues at Cleveland for about $40,000,000 worth of street, sewer and river betterments were reported to have substantial majorities.

Other issues which seem to have passed are:

New York State, $50,000,000, some for public institutions; Chicago and Cook county, $28,250,000, street work, playgrounds and water filtration; Baltimore, $16,000,000, paving and other improvements; San Francisco, $850,000 for a new jail; Wyoming, $2,800,000, roads; Oregon, $155,000, bridge.

Voters seemed to have rejected: $19,300,000 for power projects and sewers in Los Angeles; $10,000,000 for Arizona highways; $5,200,000 for an airport and an incinerator at San Francisco; $1,675,000 for public improvements in Washington and $1,250,000 for Oregon water front improvements.

SCHALL IN MINNESOTA CREEPS UP

Democrat in Senatorial Race Only 4000 Ahead and Losing Hourly

ST. PAUL, Nov. 5. (AP)—Bit by bit rural Minnesota shaved away the margin of Einar Hoidale, Democratic candidate for United States Senator in Tuesday's election, leaving him with a lead of only 4171 votes over Thomas D. Schall, Republican incumbent, when tabulation of the poll paused late tonight.

Missing precincts are in counties where previous returns have strongly favored Schall, and his supporters look forward confidently to gaining the lead when a concerted effort to bring in all returns is made tomorrow.

When 3140 out of 3705 precincts in the State had reported, Schall had 244,602 votes to 248,773 for Hoidale, whose lead early in the tabulating when the urban vote stood out more prominently once exceeded 26,000. Ernest Lundeen, Farmer-Labor candidate, was credited with 148,930 votes and Charles Lund, independent dry, with 17,860.

For Governor the Farmer-Labor victor, Floyd B. Olson, piled up a heavy majority, his ratio of advantage being about the same throughout the State. His majority over Ray P. Chase, Republican, passed 115,000 votes.

Incomplete returns offered the possibility of one Congressional upset. In the Tenth District Representative Godfrey G. Goodwin, Republican, trailed Erling Swenson, Farmer-Labor. Returns from 219 precincts out of 318 gave Swenson 27,509 votes to 24,793 for Goodwin.

Longworth Has Slim Majority

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 5. (AP)—A slim majority of 3101 in a total vote of almost 100,000 was given Nicholas Longworth, Republican, Speaker of the National House of Representatives in yesterday's election, according to complete returns from the First Ohio Congressional District. The vote was Longworth, 48,051; John W. Pattison, Democrat, 45,850.

De Priest Wins Chicago Fight

CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (Exclusive)—Oscar De Priest, Republican, only Negro member of Congress, who appeared last night to have lost in his Chicago district contest with Harry Baker, Democrat, leaped into a commanding lead early tonight and held it.

De Priest, according to final figures, polled 23,805 votes to Baker's 16,422.

W. H. TALBOT SUCCUMBS AT BAY CITY

Veteran Lumberman and Capitalist Passes After Years as Invalid

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5. (Exclusive)—William H. Talbot, 72-year-old millionaire lumberman and capitalist and president of the Pope and Talbot Lumber Company, died at his Hillsborough home on the peninsula today after an illness which enfeebled him several years ago.

He had been identified with business development on the Pacific Coast for half a century. He was the last of five children of the late Capt. W. H. Talbot, who came around the Horn to San Francisco in 1858 with a cargo of lumber from Maine. Although unable to go to his office in recent years, Talbot maintained a direct interest in the affairs of the company, which had grown into large stature in the lumber, shipping and financial activities of the Pacific Coast. He also discussed with his associates the recent deal by which the Pope and Talbot Company was sold to the Charles R. McCormick Lumber Company.

He leaves three children by his first marriage, Miss Vera Talbot of Hillsborough, Frederick C. Talbot of Los Angeles, and William C. Talbot of Los Angeles, besides his widow, his second wife, Susan Darneal Talbot, whom he married in 1917.

RELEASE OF CAMERAMAN ANNOUNCED

Chilean Officials Free American Photographer on Ambassador's Protest

SANTIAGO (Chile) Nov. 5. (AP)—Capt. Albert W. Stevens, aerial photographer for the National Geographic Society, was released after three hours of detention, William S. Culbertson, American Ambassador to Chile, announced this evening. The Ambassador himself demanded Capt. Stevens be liberated.

Ambassador Culbertson tonight prepared a written protest against Stevens's detention by the military which he plans to submit tomorrow to Col. Merino, who is in charge of the aviation section of the army. The Ambassador said he will demand immediate clearing up of the case.

He emphasized the point that his complaint will not be against the government of Chile but against Merino, since the colonel himself had approved the photographing of scenes within the boundaries of this country.

While the reason for Capt. Stevens's detention was not announced by the authorities, his friends here believe it was due to his refusal to submit to the Chilean army photographs he had taken in this country for the National Geographic Society of the United States.

Youth Braves Fiery Death to Rescue Child

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 5. (AP)—Braving death in a heroic rescue, Thomas Short, 19 years of age, saved the life of Adelaide Everson, 3, when she was trapped in a burning house here today.

During the mother's absence the water heater exploded and sent flames shooting skyward. The child was horror-stricken and unable to call for help. Short dashed into the home after breaking down the door and carried the child to safety.

The girl suffered minor burns while attempting to fight the flames. Short nearly collapsed from smoke fumes after he made the rescue.

Firemen Fight Blaze in Clouds

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (Exclusive) Firemen had to drag their hose up into cloudland today to fight a small but smoky blaze which broke out on the forty-seventh floor of the Empire State Building now in the course of construction on the site of the old Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

The fire started in a cafeteria constructed to provide meals for the workmen. Lines of hose were pulled up by the workmen in elevators and short work was made of the flames once the firemen got there. The new building is to be the world's tallest skyscraper.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (AP)—The condition of Mayor William Hale Thompson, recovering from the effects of an appendicitis operation, continued favorable today.

An optimistic bulletin by his physicians last night indicated fear of general peritonitis has passed.

BLASTS IN OHIO COAL MINE KILL BETWEEN 150 AND 160

Twenty Discovered Alive May Die; Seven Officials Among Victims; Troops Keep Order Above

MILLFIELD (O.) Nov. 5. (AP)—Between 150 and 160 persons were killed by gas explosions and fire in the No. 6 mine of the Sunday Creek Coal Company here today, Andrew Ginnan, State mine inspector, told Pearl Hill, veteran book-keeper for the company, after traversing the entire mine tonight.

Twenty men entombed in the mine were found alive from the blast-shattered workings tonight. The men are reported to be in bad condition. The rescuers feared to bring them to the surface for fear they had inhaled deadly gas and contact with fresh air would kill them. Doctors were taken down the mine shaft to care for the rescued.

The disaster, which miners said was the worst in the history of mining in the Hocking Valley, came suddenly this afternoon with an explosion that sent smoke and flame shooting from the shaft and the airways.

Four ponies were taken down into the workings to haul bodies out as the explosion wrecked the rails upon which the mine cars traversed the tunnels. Most of the bodies were one and one-half miles from the elevator in the main shaft, George Maurer, member of the rescue force, said, after exploring the mine.

BODIES EVERYWHERE

Hill said that Ginnan went entirely through the main shaft of the mine and that he reported seeing bodies everywhere, but not a sign of life. Ginnan, according to Hill, said there is a remote possibility some of the trapped men may have taken refuge in tunnels leading to the main shaft and escaped death, but he considers this barely possible.

At least seven of a party of officials of the company and their guests, in the mine at the time of the explosion, are known to be dead, officials said. The known dead are: W. E. Tytus, Columbus, president of the Sunday Creek Coal Company; P. A. Coen, Columbus, vice-president of the company; E. E. Upson, assistant to Tytus; H. E. Lancaster, Athens, chief engineer of the mine; Walter Hayden, Athens, mine superintendent; Joseph Bergen, Zanesville, superintendent of the Ohio Power Company at Philo, O.; Robert Parsons, Zanesville, superintendent of the Columbia Cement Company, division of the Pittsburgh Glass Company; Thomas Trainer, official of the glass company; Joe Bean, a mine boss; Emerson Lefeve, Floyd Crabtree, Andy Kelsh and a man named Cunningham, employees of the mine.

DESPERATE EFFORTS MADE

Positions of some of the bodies seen by Maurer showed the victims had made desperate attempts to flee the gases and reach fresh air. Ten men succumbed in the entrance of a ventilating shaft not far from the apparent center of the explosion, while six others fell lifeless just outside the air shaft.

Many others lay scattered about the floor of the tunnel, some seemingly having dropped as they dashed for safety, others apparently killed or rendered helpless by the force of the explosions, Maurer said.

Officials said bodies of the known dead were identified within the mine.

WOMEN HYSTERICAL

The quiet of a cold, damp early winter day in the little mining town was shattered during the afternoon as the gas let loose far down in the earth. Residents of the surrounding countryside, coatless and hatless, ran to the shaft mouth and begged for some assurance their kin were safe. Many of the women were hysterical.

Like wildfire news of the blast spread through the Hocking coal fields. Hundreds rushed to the mine—some to offer their services in rescue work—others to stand by and do nothing and still others to get excited and cause confusion. Finally mine officials summoned the National Guard and, when the soldiers arrived, the situation settled down and all semblance of disorder disappeared.

Expert rescue workers, including teams from near-by mines, from the Ohio Department of Mines and from the Federal Bureau of Mines at Pittsburgh, reached the scene tonight. Masked squads of twenty men worked in relays, remaining inside the mine just as long as they could resist the gaseous air.

NOBEL PRIZE FOR LEWIS

'Babbitt' Creator Wins Honor

First Writer of This Country to Receive International Literary Award

Money Consideration Now $46,350, Largest Since Establishment

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 5. (AP)—George A. Babbitt, that rather pathetic, frustrated "typical American" created by Sinclair Lewis in 1922, has taken the Nobel prize in literature to the United States for the first time in the twenty-nine years since the award was established.

Lewis, who declined the Pulitzer prize of 1926 for his novel "Arrowsmith," was selected today as the Nobel prize winner on the basis of "Babbitt," which Sweden regards as his masterpiece. The money value of the award is $46,350, a greater amount than in any previous year.

IN NOTABLE COMPANY

The red-haired, temperamental American writer now joins the notable company of authors which includes George Bernard Shaw, Thomas Mann, Anatole France, Romain Rolland and others who have received the award since the first of the series was presented to the Frenchman, Sully Prudhomme, in 1901.

The Swedish Academy makes it clear the choice of Mr. Lewis was based on "Babbitt," but it is understood appreciation also was expressed for "Elmer Gantry" and "Dodsworth," others of his novels.

Many of Lewis's novels have been translated into Swedish.

AWARD TO SHAW

In 1926 when Lewis was returning the Pulitzer award of $1000 George Bernard Shaw received the Nobel prize. Shaw declined to accept the money for himself, but established a fund to create an Anglo-Swedish Bureau of Exchange for the translation and publication of the great literary works of both nations.

Kipling is the only other writer in English to have won the Nobel prize. It has been awarded five times each to France and Germany, three times to Norwegian writers, twice to Denmark, Sweden and Poland. Other awards have gone to Switzerland, Ireland, Italy, Spain, Belgium and India.

RECIPIENT ADMITS HE'S "NERVOUS AS A CAT"

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—"Red" Lewis, the one-time Sauk Center (Minn.) boy, left his Connecticut farm today and came to town to hear and talk about his winning the Nobel prize in literature for 1930.

He was as nervous as a cat. He said so himself, after being photographed at his publishers' office for the papers and news reels. "I feel," he said, when he had caught his breath, "the highest honor and gratification at being the first American to be awarded the Nobel prize in literature, and I am accepting it with pleasure.

"I shall use it to support a well-known young American author and

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 5.

[To the Editor of The Times:] Democrats give me a birthday yesterday. November 6, I was 51 years old, and they elected fifty-one Democrats. When I am 90 we will be running this country. The Republicans carried California but lost America. Gov. Rolph was a Democrat running under assumed colors. The Democrats nominated their President yesterday, Franklin D. Roosevelt. I bet Mr. Hoover is tickled to death for they will support him better than his own party did. And the wets, why they just saturated everything they got their hands on.

DO-X AT LAST TAKES WING

Huge German Plane Hops to Amsterdam on Way to Start Ocean Flight From Lisbon

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 5. (AP)—The great bulk of the German flying boat DO-X, largest seaplane in the world, floated tonight in the Schellingwoude Basin at the end of the first lap of her trans-Atlantic voyage to New York.

A full moon picked out the figures of mechanics tinkering with the twelve engines which had borne her from Switzerland in less than five and a half hours, and thousands watched them at work from the locks which protect the port of Amsterdam against the Zuider Zee.

Nobody knows for certain when she will roar off again toward Lisbon, Portugal, where the ocean flight is to begin about the 12th inst., but it is thought likely only bad weather will cause further postponement of the flight which has been delayed so long.

It was 11:25 a.m. when she lifted herself off Lake Constance, whence she had begun so many short trial flights, and at 4:50 p.m. she pushed her way through the haze over Amsterdam, circled once or twice and nosed down to a perfect landing on Holland's inland sea.

She had scarcely settled when a squad of leather-coated mechanics scrambled about the motors. Commander Fredrich Christiansen superintended their operations until darkness fell.

Only sixteen passengers made the flight from Altenrhein in a cabin large enough to accommodate 150 or more. The radio operator bulletined progress to land stations.

Claude Dornier of the Dornier Works, which built the plane, was to meet her here tonight. His brother Maurice will go to Lisbon by train and board the plane there. Pilot Merz, who guided the ship on this first lap, probably will be at the controls for most of the trans-Atlantic voyage.

County Returns Traeger but Defeats Four Superior Court Judges

CHANGES MADE IN SUPERVISORS

Thatcher and Mahaffey to Be Board Members

Power and Sewer Bonds Get Ax in Balloting

Most of City Propositions Indorsed at Polls

Re-election of Sheriff Traeger, election of two new County Supervisors and four new Superior Court judges, defeat of the power and sewer bonds and the adoption of most of the city propositions was assured last night as practically all of the returns from over the city and county were tallied. Only one precinct from Chatsworth and three from Catalina Island remained to be counted.

Late returns confirmed the decisive victory of Hugh A. Thatcher over Albert N. Chamness as Supervisor in the First District. In the Third District, Sidney T. Graves, incumbent and chairman of the board, was defeated by J. Don Mahaffey.

THREE JUDGES RETURNED

Voters of the county retained three of the seven incumbent Superior Court judges who were running for re-election and substituted four Municipal Court judges for the others. Superior Judges Arthur Keetch, Hartley Shaw and Edward T. Bishop were retained; Superior Judges Hardy, Crawford, Hanby and Haslett were defeated by Municipal Judges Turney, Valentine, Stafford and Sheldon, respectively.

In the city bond issues and charter amendments, the chief interest of the voters swung around the power bonds, which went down to a defeat that was construed as a rebuke to the management of the Bureau of Power and Light. Despite the fact that a very intensive campaign was conducted in behalf of the power bonds, in which almost every known method of appealing to the voters was employed, the bonds failed by a large margin of obtaining the necessary two-thirds vote.

SEWER BONDS FAIL

The sewer bonds, concerning which but comparatively little was heard during the campaign, also went down to defeat.

Voters manifested little interest in the charter amendments, most of which carried. Practically complete returns showed the following as adopted: 1-A, clarifying budget procedure; 2-A, permitting interest earned on special department funds to be credited to general fund; 4-A, permitting the Department of Water and Power to use revenues for advertising and sales promotion; 5-A, permitting the Water and Power Commissioners to spend funds for betterments and extensions; 7-A, creating trial boards in fire and police departments; 10-A, clarifying terms of offices for members of the Board of Education and three city commissions; 11-A, providing for emergency contracts with approval of Council; 12-A, prohibiting boards or commissions from making contracts longer than three years without ordinance.

PURCHASING FIGHT

There was a real fight over 3-A, providing for centralized purchasing of city supplies. This was defeated, owing to a vigorous campaign against it conducted by certain boards and commissions which want to do their own purchasing. Amendments 6-A and 9-A also were defeated, the former governing suspension and demotion of civil service employees, and the latter giving power to general managers of city departments to lay off and transfer employees.

Proposition B, providing for the transfer of funds from the 1923 viaduct bonds from the Alisa-street project to the Sixth-street project failed by a narrow margin to obtain the necessary two-thirds vote and was defeated.

With their election to the Board of Supervisors assured, Mr. Thatcher and Mr. Mahaffey issued statements expressing appreciation to the voters of their districts for the support given them. Both pledged themselves to live up to the responsibilities of the high office.

Clyde Plummer also issued a brief statement of thanks to the many friends and supporters who voted for him for Sheriff. "It was a great race," said Capt. Plummer, "and while I regret I was not the successful candidate, I am proud of the vote that was cast for me."

Following the compilation of semi-official election returns which indicated that he had been re-elected by a substantial majority, Traeger issued a brief statement in which he thanked his friends and supporters.

"I take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation to the many persons who aided me in my campaign for re-election and to again assure them that it shall always be my purpose to maintain the Sheriff's office at the highest peak of efficiency," the official said.

ROLPH VICTORY NOTABLE ONE

the opinion of judges and lawyers that the act is workable and that under its requirements a judge in California may not hereafter practice law either in or out of court and, further, that the present prohibition against judges of the Superior Court and of the Municipal Court seeking election to other public offices has been eliminated.

SWEEPING VICTORY

Mayor Rolph carried his own city and county of San Francisco almost nine-to-one over Young, and in Los Angeles county defeated the Democrat by a majority in excess of 134,000.

Merriam, whose San Francisco lead over Welsh was more than 10,000, swamped his antagonist in Los Angeles county, where his majority was in excess of 200,000.

Other Republican nominees for State offices, including Secretary of State, Treasurer and Controller, won by majorities running into hundreds of thousands.

The State Legislature will be overwhelmingly Republican.

QUINN EXPECTED TO HEAD BOARD

Supervisor Control Change Due With Graves Out

Frank Shaw Considered as Second Choice

Support of Mahaffey and Chamness Forecast

As a result of the defeat of Sidney T. Graves, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, in Tuesday's election, administrative control of the government of Los Angeles county will change hands for the second time within a year when a reorganization of the Board of Supervisors takes place on December 1.

Graves, who has been chairman of the board since the death of R. F. McClellan last April, will be succeeded by J. Don Mahaffey as a member. Hugh A. Thatcher who overwhelmingly defeated Albert T. Chamness to replace Supervisor Beaty, will be the other new member of the board. Beaty did not seek another term.

SPECULATION RIFE

Following the election returns yesterday revealing the defeat of Supervisor Graves speculation became rife as to who will succeed him as chairman. John R. Quinn, Supervisor from the Fourth District, it is believed by many, has the best chance, with Frank L. Shaw from the Second District a possible second choice. Some, however, place Henry W. Wright, Fifth District, oldest member of the board in length of service and chairman of the Finance Committee, as first choice.

Both Shaw and Quinn have intimated they will not seek the chairmanship. Quinn admits that strong pressure is being brought to bear upon him by citizens of his district to seek the chair of honor. He believes, however, he can serve his district to a better advantage by sitting merely as a member of the board.

QUINN FAVORED

Many who are speculating on the chairmanship believe that Quinn is the logical choice. While the opinion of Mahaffey and Thatcher could not be ascertained yesterday it is known they both ran on a platform of "reorganization" and severely criticised the present administration. As Quinn is a new man with good executive ability and has been on the board long enough to become acquainted with the county's business, it is predicted he will be backed by the newcomers. It is also believed that he will be backed by Supervisor Shaw.

Supervisor Quinn was appointed a member of the board by Gov. Young early this year to succeed McClellan. He was elected in the recent primary to serve McClellan's unexpired term of two years. He must run again in 1932 if he desires to remain in office. The term of office for a Supervisor is four years.

Chairman Graves is in Mexico on a Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce excursion. He expects to be gone three weeks, almost until the time his term of office expires.

Ohio's Defeated Candidates Lay Blame on Slump

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 5. (AP)—General economic conditions resulting from the business depression and the drought were held responsible today by Senator McCulloch and Gov. Cooper for the Democratic landslide which carried them to defeat yesterday.

Robert J. Bulkly of Cleveland, the Democratic Senator-elect, attributed the Democratic victory to disapproval by voters of "the method of tariff making embodied in the Hawley-Smoot law" and their "dissatisfaction with the results of the Eighteenth Amendment."

The vote on Senator and Governor in 8431 precincts out of 8985 in the State was: Senator, Bulkley, 969,604; McCulloch, 821,848; Governor, White, Democrat, 971,605; Cooper, Republican, 865,776.

At least six Republican Representatives fell by the wayside to bring Democratic representation at Washington to nine.

STATE VOTE ON PROPOSITIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5. (AP)—Little doubt was left of the fate of the twenty-six propositions on the State ballot as the Associated Press tabulation of the State's 10,283 precincts passed the two-thirds mark late today.

Views on Election Differ Widely

POLL CALLED "CRAZY-QUILT"

Fess, for Republicans, Cites Lack of Uniformity

Shouse Sees Victory for Democrats in 1932

Other Political Oracles Air Varying Opinions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (AP)—Republicans tonight viewed the pattern of yesterday's elections as a "crazy quilt," but Democrats looked into the same design and saw victory for their ticket in 1932.

Chairman Fess of the Republican National Committee, in a statement through that group tonight, analyzed the returns and said there is no uniformity to the result—"what we have is simply a crazy quilt." Neither prohibition nor the tariff has been a controlling factor and "it would be extremely difficult to measure the effect of the business depression," he said.

Meantime, Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic National Executive Committee, perused the incoming reports and said it has been "axiomatic in our records that when the administration in power loses control of the National Legislature in a bi-election, it has to surrender the entire government in the next following general election."

MORE THAN EXPECTED

Fess made no mention of the Senatorial or gubernatorial elections, but said the Democratic gains in the House have exceeded the thirty-five seats the Republicans expected them to gain, but not by an overwhelming margin.

"Viewing yesterday's election as a whole," Fess said, "there is an apparent absence of the general effect of any outstanding national issue. It is obvious prohibition cut both ways across the party lines, but while forming a controlling factor in some instances, it developed no national trend. The tariff may have had its effect in isolated sections, but certainly it was not a dominating issue in a national sense."

EARLY FOR PREDICTIONS

The Republican chairman said it is too early to predict "the precise majorities that will eventuate," in Congress.

"Even without such a disturbing factor as the economic depression," he said, "it was to have been expected that the Republicans would lose approximately thirty-five seats in the House, as this is about the average the party in power loses in off-year elections, particularly after landslides in Presidential contests of the proportions that attended the election of President Hoover. While this number has been exceeded, it hasn't been exceeded by an overwhelming margin."

The statement came from the national committee after a day and night of watching the administration majority dwindling in both houses of Congress.

HOOVER GETS RETURNS

President Hoover, too, had remained silent, but was in constant touch with the changing record of developments. By radio, from private sources, and from press associations, the news went to the White House and the national committee and there was a continual interchange of information between the two.

Fess singled out a number of instances to show that neither the tariff nor prohibition had been a controlling factor. He pointed to the results in New York, Ohio, Montana, Massachusetts, Kansas, Virginia, South Dakota, Oklahoma, Illinois, Idaho and Nebraska as indicating "no uniform pattern is discernible."

OTHER COMMENTS

Comments of other party leaders follow:

Vice-President Curtis: We expected the Democrats to be disappointed but it is we Republicans who were disappointed. However, it will only act as a spur to our party in the drive of 1932—they can't beat us in 1932."

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi: Without doubt in certain States the prohibition question played an important part, but taken as a whole it was a nation-wide rebuke to the Hoover administration for the flagrant violation of campaign pledges.

William M. Butler, former chairman of the Republican National Committee and defeated candidate for Senator: Unemployment conditions exploited by our opponents brought about this result. The sad part of it is that no beneficial results can come from this change. It will bring no benefit to the commonwealth or country . . . Our defeat is but temporary. Principles are worth fighting for, win or lose.

Senator Swanson, Democrat, Virginia: The election clearly indicates that the country does not approve of the policies and enactments of this administration for the relief of existing depressed conditions."

Alfred E. Smith: I am deeply gratified by the success of the Democratic party throughout the country. The people have responded to a truthful and direct presentation of the issues.

Iowans Defeat Senator Steck by Heavy Vote

DES MOINES (Iowa) Nov. 5. (AP) Iowa Democracy in Congress henceforth will be heard only in the lower house, the State's only Democratic Senator since the Civil War having met defeat by his Republican opponent.

Dan F. Steck of Ottumwa, who six years ago won his Senatorial seat in a contest with Smith W. Brookhart, Republican, was defeated in Tuesday's election by L. J. Dickinson by a majority of upward of 75,000 votes.

Representative F. D. Letts, Davenport, Republican, went down before Ben M. Jacobsen, a Democrat, campaigning for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Gov.-Elect Dan W. Turner and a Staff of Republican State officials were swept into their positions by a 2-to-1 margin.

liamson also was leading Senator Robsion in Kentucky for the short term.

It is the first time in the twelve years of Republican domination of Congress the Democrats have come within reach of power, and it gives President Hoover a new problem for the next two years of his administration.

ALLEN UPSET

The election casualties were confined to no particular group. Senator Allen of Kansas, intimate of Mr. Hoover and regarded as one of his spokesmen in the Senate, went to defeat along with two of the Republican independents who joined in the coalition with Democrats in opposition to the Hoover farm relief and tariff policies—Pine of Oklahoma and McMaster of South Dakota.

The leader of the Republican independents in the Senate, the veterans, Borah of Idaho and Norris of Nebraska, who were in opposition to the outstanding Hoover proposals last session, were easily re-elected.

Republican regulars, too, such as Hastings of Delaware and Metcalf of Rhode Island, beat down severe Democratic attacks. Senator McNary of Oregon, the assistant leader, came back.

HEFLIN BEATEN

Senator Heflin, of Alabama, who was forced from the Democratic ticket for his failure to support the Presidential candidacy of Alfred E. Smith, bowed to the regular Democratic nominee, John H. Bankhead.

Representative Dickinson of Iowa gave the Republicans their lone gain in the Senate, overcoming Steck of Iowa, a Democrat.

As the last House returns came in, one of the worried Republican leaders was Speaker Longworth. His First Ohio District was among the last to be settled. Representative Hawley of Oregon, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee which framed the new tariff act, was another of the crowned heads in danger, but finally won out.

The women members of the House were returned without great difficulty, but Representative Ruth Hafina McCormick of Illinois, who was the first woman to win a Senatorial nomination, was administered a decisive defeat by her Democratic opponent, J. Hamilton Jewis.

GAINS ANALYZED

Representative Kunz of Illinois was the lone Democrat now in the House to give way to a Republican, Peter C. Granata winning the Eighth Illinois District.

Missouri, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania contributed most of the Democratic gains in the House.

The Democrats recaptured all six of the seats they lost two years ago in Missouri in the Hoover landslide. While the Republicans kept the three they won in 1928 in Ohio, they yielded six others to the Democrats. Such Republican veterans as Fitzgerald, Speaks, Thompson, Kearns and Morgan fell in the Ohio sweep.

Representative Elliott, who has been in the House for seven terms, and is chairman of the Public Buildings Committee, was one of those to go down in Indiana.

LEADERS WIN

Representatives Tilson of Connecticut, Republican floor leader, and Snell of New York, chairman of the powerful Rules Committee, were among the party commanders to be returned to the House.

The Congress elected Tuesday does not meet in regular session until a year from December. There already is speculation whether the Democrats, should they finally have majorities in both branches, would seek to force a special session next spring. This could be done, among other ways, by blocking action at the approaching short session of the old Congress on the vital appropriation measures.

There has been no indication of such strategy from Democratic leaders.

Majority Over Phillips of 2000 Votes Assured

PHOENIX, Nov. 5. (AP)—George W. P. Hunt's ambition to occupy Arizona's gubernatorial chair for a seventh time materialized today as the State's count of yesterday's ballotting, nearly completed, assured him a majority of upward of 2000 over John C. Phillips, Republican incumbent.

The vote, with thirty-seven precincts, mostly small, of the State's 491 missing, stood 46,995 for Hunt and 44,366 for Phillips. The Governor conceded defeat at noon, when insufficient precincts remained unreported to allow him to recoup.

It was a smashing comeback for the grizzled Democratic campaigner who, after having served as chief executive for twelve of Arizona's sixteen years of Statehood, was defeated by Phillips with a plurality of 3276 in 1928—his only defeat in a gubernatorial campaign. In 1916 he was involved in a contested election with Thomas E. Campbell, now chairman of the Federal Civil Service Commission, but assumed the gubernatorial post after eleven months of litigation. He did not enter the lists in opposition to Campbell in 1918 and 1920, serving during part of that time, as United States Minister to Siam. Campbell and Phillips are the only governors Arizona ever has had besides Hunt.

The entire Democrat State ticket preceded rather than followed Hunt into office, with majorities ranging up to 20,000.

"I had suffered terribly from stomach trouble for five years and I was always in distress after meals from indigestion. I was also told I had gall bladder trouble and at times the pains through my body were so severe I could hardly walk. I steadily lost strength and I don't know what would have happened to me if I hadn't found Sargon.

"I've had lots of experience with medicines and treatments, but I found Sargon to be entirely different from the rest. It restored my stomach to a healthy condition and I eat heartily now, without having a sign of indigestion. My gall bladder seems to be in good condition and I'm stronger and better in every way. Prohibition Forces Keep Congress Control

WHIP HAND HELD DESPITE SHIFTS

Wets Fail to Gain Objectives in Senate and House

Referenda Provide Added Battle Ammunition

Tuesday's election, the controversy monopolized the stage in many States. Bound up in the many wet victories, together with the adoption of wet State platforms, are possibilities for 1932 which only time can develop.

The Democrats with their dry South and wet East and the Republicans, divided between the wet East and dry West, admittedly are facing a complex problem for the Presidential race two years hence.

President Hoover's law enforcement commission is working on its prohibition report. Should it be transmitted to Congress at the next session, the recommendations undoubtedly will be the subject of sharp debate.

POLL'S HIGH SPOTS

The high spots of the election from the wet-dry standpoint are the Senate victories of anti-prohibition Democrats in Ohio, Massachusetts and Illinois—Bulkley, Coolidge and Lewis—and the re-election in Delaware of Senator Hastings, Republican prohibitionist, over Thomas F. Bayard, Democratic repealist, and in Montana of Senator Walsh, Democratic dry leader, over Albert J. Galen, Republican advocate of State liquor control.

Senator Metcalf's Republican victory in Rhode Island over former Senator Gerry, Democrat, was a wet gain despite that both were running as repealists. Metcalf came out for repeal during his campaign. He formerly was listed in the dry column.

SENATE DRY GAIN

Representative Dickinson, Republican, Iowa, chalked up a Senate dry gain by defeating Steck, Democratic incumbent, who favored repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment in replying to the anti-prohibition organization's national questionnaire.

Secretary Davis, who stood on the 1928 prohibition enforcement plank of the Republican party, won over a Democratic wet in the Pennsylvania Senatorial race, while former Gov. Pinchot, a prohibition leader, took into camp John M. Hemphill, Democratic-Liberal, who had the support of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment in the gubernatorial contest.

Among the dry leaders returned to the Senate are Borah, Republican, and Robinson, Arkansas; Sheppard, Texas, and Glass, Virginia, Democrats.

VOTES NOT BINDING

Offsetting the dry Governor victory in Pennsylvania, was the election in Massachusetts of Joseph B. Ely, Democrat, over Gov. Allen, Republican. Ely advocated repeal of the State enforcement act, while Allen wanted it retained.

The majorities for repeal in the Illinois, Rhode Island and Massachusetts referenda do not bind the legislatures to follow the results, but merely are expressions of sentiment.

Complete returns from Rhode Island, one of two States which never ratified the Eighteenth Amendment, show 172,215 for and 48,845 against repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Beside voting for repeal of the amendment Illinois also gave a large margin for repeal of the State enforcement act and for modification of the Volstead law.

LATER CLAIMS

The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment later claimed five repeal gains in the Senate and seventy in the House as a result of the election.

"Congress still lags behind the sentiment of the people," said a statement by Director Curran. "The people are now about 3-to-1 in favor of immediate repeal. How long will a hesitating Congress do the dog-in-the-manger act and refuse to let this vital question go before the people for a vote?"

TEMPERANCE UNION PREDICTS FINAL VICTORY

CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (AP)—A statement issued today at the headquarters of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union at suburban Evanston, unsigned, declares "the wets will not be victorious in the final campaign."

"The next Congress will be drier than the Congress which enacted the Volstead Act," said the statement. "We are sorry to lose some strength, but the brilliant success of the drys in West Pennsylvania is in cheerful contrast against the wet strength in the already wet states of Rhode Island, Illinois and Massachusetts.

"We regret that the wets of Illinois are victorious in the referendum which may result in the repeal of the State prohibition law, a situation which will make it easier for bootleggers. Before the next election the wets will know that while they may win a battle now and then they will not be victorious in the final campaign."

BOARD RESUMES DRY LAW SURVEY

Wickersham Commission Once More at Work

Fuel Report on Prohibition Expected in Month

Review of Control Abroad May Hint Opinion Trend

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (Exclusive)—Election returns, hailed by the wets as evidence of growing popular sentiment against prohibition, confronted the Wickersham commission today as it reassembled to prepare its recommendations to Congress on the liquor question.

Members of the commission spent three hours this morning in the first of a series of daily meetings which will continue probably for a month, and is expected to result in a full and possibly final prohibition report. All the commissioners were present except Judge W. S. Kenyon and Newton D. Baker, both of whom are expected later in the week.

CONTROL STUDIED

Although it was denied at the commission offices that the members took any interest in the wet trend of the election, it was learned on unimpeachable authority that the so-called law-enforcement group is giving serious consideration to the testimony of antiprohibition witnesses, and is carefully studying the liquor-control system of other countries.

Approximately 200 persons have been called before the commission at its secret meetings, among them high labor authorities, who united in a plea for 2.75 per cent beer. The commission will hear tomorrow from American diplomatic representatives in Sweden, who will tell of the working of the Swedish liquor license system. The control plans of Canada, Great Britain and other countries also are being studied.

ATTITUDE MODIFIED

It was further revealed that the commission in its forthcoming report will recommend no more prohibition enforcement legislation such as that sent to Congress by President Hoover last winter. It has, in fact, decided to abandon in its present form the "juryless trial" bill passed by the House and now pending in the Senate. The commission was sharply divided at the outset upon this bill, which provides for trial of minor liquor cases before United States commissioners and the support it did have has waned since its alteration by House amendments.

TO DEFINE STAND

The commission is concentrating upon fundamentals of the wet and dry question with a view to taking a definite stand. The members still are at odds, however, over the question of their authority to say openly whether prohibition is good or bad, wise or unwise, one group insisting that they are concerned only with enforcement and another demanding a show-down on the principle.

It was learned definitely that recent reports that the commission is on the verge of recommending 4 per cent beer and that it is considering a proposed constitutional convention on prohibition are without foundation. Neither proposal has figured in the discussions.

Democrats Gain Additional Seat in Congress

NEWARK (N. J.) Nov. 5. (AP)—Compilation of late returns today brought closer to the predicted landslide proportions Dwight W. Morrow's victory in New Jersey's Senatorial election yesterday.

With all but fifteen of the State's 3321 districts reported, the Republican advocate of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and State control of liquor has been elected by a margin exceeding 185,000.

His vote was 583,896, against 398,328 for his Democratic opponent, Alexander Simpson, a plurality of 187,568. The missing districts were in strong Republican territory, indicating possible increase of the plurality.

Miss Thelma Parkinson, Democrat, who opposed former Ambassador Morrow for the unexpired Senatorial term of Ambassador Walter E. Edge, was snowed under. Returns from 3134 districts gave Mr. Morrow 515,644 votes against 348,570 for her.

Returns from the twelve Congress districts in the State show the Democrats have gained one seat in the House of Representatives. The victory of William H. Sutphin, of Mattawan, in the Third Congress District brought the Democrats three seats instead o fthe two they held formerly.

BAY CITY VOTES STREET CAR AID

Private-Ownership Railway Given New Franchise

Unions and Hearst Papers Opposed Proposal

Municipal System Advocates Discredited by Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5. (Exclusive) — Paralleling in interest here the tremendous landslide of votes which made Mayor Rolph the Governor-elect — a vote locally larger than any ever accorded a San Francisco candidate for public office—is the stinging rebuke administered by the electorate to the political juggling of this city's street railway transportation system.

Steadily during the last several years there obviously has been growing among the people at large a clearer conception of the pork barrel method of playing the privately owned system against the so-called municipally owned system and the bitterest and most concentrated campaign which yet has been directed against the privately operated lines was rebuffed in salutary fashion at yesterday's polls.

IMPROVEMENTS USED

The voters by a margin of 15,000 ballots gave permission to the Market Street Railway Company to go ahead with needed extensions and improvements to the end that San Francisco's growth be not retarded while some economically sound plan is being evolved to acquire the private system, if that is decided to be the ultimate solution to the city's transit problem.

The voters apparently have reached the conclusion which is apparent in the books of the two systems, that is, that the private company, paying taxes, is able to operate on a sound business basis and the municipal system, without being burdened by taxes, is not. Even the executives of the municipal system have admitted an increase in the tax rate or some other means of revenue must be found to keep the municipal railway from going from bad to worse.

Meanwhile, the Market Street Railway, facing the problem of steadily expiring franchises and some that already have expired, has not been in position to carry its development forward.

Yesterday's vote gives them, with the approval of the Legislature, a twenty-five-year operating permit which is revocable when and if the city takes over the lines at any time within that period.

RESULT IMMEDIATE

The first immediate result, according to President Kahn of the Market Street Railway, will be the launching of a five-year improvement program assuring better and needed service and helping to ease the unemployment situation by giving construction work on new cars to San Francisco mechanics.

Some idea of the tremendous influence behind the campaigning against the measure is found in the fact only one local newspaper had sufficient temerity to stand for the twenty-five-year permit. That paper, the News, an afternoon publication, had the following to say editorially today:

"Three factors contributed to the adoption of Amendment No. 35.

"One was the bitterly vicious attack made upon the amendment, its advocates and the Market Street Company by the Hearst newspapers. The voters saw the lack of merit in reckless charges and in appeals to passion and prejudice, totally unsupported by facts.

"Another was the continued failure of the politicians to advance any better solution to the street railway problem.

UNIONS REBUKED

"The third was the attempt of a few so-called leaders of organized labor to make their fight against the amendment appear as a great union issue. The real interest of laboring people, organized and unorganized, is in better transportation and lower fares, and this interest will be served by Amendment No. 35.

"But the president of the car men's union dragged the municipal railways employees into the campaign, where they had no business to be, because their interests were involved and where their activities lent support to the charge that public ownership is dangerous because it tends to create large and pernicious political machines."

THE SAFE INHALANT FOR CHILDREN'S COLDS

Vapex breaks up a cold swiftly and surely—yet it is as pleasant to use as perfume

It is pitiable to see a child with a cold. His nose running, his breathing labored. And it's silly to allow a cold to grip a child.

For colds can be checked at the start. Just put a drop of Vapex on the handkerchief or blouse during the day, and a drop at each end of the pillow at night.

Vapex is safe, swift, and sure. It dries up sniffles, clears the head and promptly relieves colds.

Vapex is very inexpensive. The $1 bottle contains fifty applications—an average of only 2c apiece. Millions of bottles are sold yearly. It is approved by Good Housekeeping because it is safe for every one—even little children.

For safety's sake, always ask for V-A-P-E-X—the original inhalant—and do not accept an inferior product that claims to be "just as good."

A drop on your handkerchief

I Was Skinny, Run-down. Gained 34 lbs in Few Weeks

"I was so skinny and run-down friends thought I had a fatal disease. At last I tried Ironized Yeast and gained 34 lbs. in few weeks." —Paul Blanch.

"Skinny," weak, nervous people are delighted as new Ironized Yeast adds 5 to 15 lbs. in 3 weeks. Changes "scarecrow" body quick to strong, well-developed form. Blotchy skin clears like magic. Nervousness, indigestion, constipation end overnight. Sound sleep, pep quick.

Two great tonics in one—special weight-building Brewer's Yeast and strengthening iron. Pleasant little tablets. Far stronger than unmedicated yeast. Results in ½ time. No yeasty taste, no gas.

Don't be "skinny," tired, unattractive. Get Ironized Yeast from druggist today. Feel great tomorrow. Money back from manufacturer if not delighted with results. —[Advertisement.

Deaf Hear Again Through New Aid

Earpiece No Bigger Than Dime Wins Enthusiastic Following Ten-Day Free Trial Offer

After twenty-five years devoted exclusively to the manufacture of scientific hearing-aids, the Dictograph Products Co., Inc., Dept. 752 M, 661 Market Street, San Francisco, Cal., has just perfected a new model Acousticon that represents the greatest advance yet made in the recreation of hearing for the deaf. This latest Acousticon is featured by a tiny earpiece no bigger than a dime. Through this device, sounds are clearly and distinctly transmitted to subnormal ears with wonderful benefit to hearing and health alike. The makers offer an absolutely free trial for 10 days to any person who may be interested and a letter will bring one of these remarkable aids to your home for a thorough and convincing test. Send them your name and address today!

A free demonstration may be had at the Los Angeles Office of the Dictograph Products Co., 34th Floor, 510 S. Spring St. Also at the Marshutz Optical Co., 318 W. Sixth St.—[Advertisement.

The modern product of a great music house

the new 1931 BRUNSWICK RADIO

For years Brunswick has been a name always closely allied with fine music. Great artists have recorded their interpretation of the world's greatest music on Brunswick records. Brunswick-built reproducing instruments have long been made by Brunswick craftsmen who handed down the tradition of fine workmanship from father to son.

It is only natural to suppose that this name, so long celebrated in the concert halls and salons of America, when applied to radio, would be placed only on an instrument worthy of Brunswick's musical reputation.

Investigate for yourself the rich tonal beauty of a Brunswick radio. Note the unusual features that make it years ahead in design and reproducing quality. Your Brunswick dealer will be glad to explain to you the importance of the UNI-SELECTOR, Tone Control, and other Brunswick improvements that place this new radio in the forefront of the future!

KENTUCKY VOTE RETURNS SLOW

Fate of Senatorial Race Hangs in Balance

Reports Still Due From 946 C.O.P. Precincts

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 5. (AP)—With all indications that eight out of eleven of the Kentucky Congressional delegation in the next House will be Democratic, the fate of the Senatorial race hangs in the balance tonight pending more complete returns from three Republican strongholds.

Judge M. M. Logan, Democrat, piled up a 30,000 lead over Senator John M. Robsion for the long term on reports from 2394 out of 4158 precincts and Ben Williamson on 2310 precincts had 187,261 to 149,000 for Robsion.

However, there are still to come returns from 946 of the 1499 precincts in the Fifth, Tenth and Eleventh districts, all normally Republican by big majorities. In the other eight districts, where Democrats are leading for Congress or are unopposed, there are 805 precincts to come out of 2636.

DEMOCRATS HEARTENED

Only fifty-two of the 633 precincts in the Fifth had been counted when tabulation ceased tonight and it appears it will be several days before the final result can be known. The fifty-two counted gave, long term, Logan, 2176; Robsion, 4221; short term, Williamson, 2096; Robsion, 4217. The returns, though meager, hearten the Democratic hopes the Republican majority will be smaller than expected. In the Tenth and Eleventh Robsion piled up heavy majorities.

In the Congressional races returns from more than half the precincts of the Tenth District provide a surprise in that A. J. May, Democrat, is giving Mrs.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

Does a pimply face embarrass you? Get a package of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few days, if you are like thousands of others.

Help cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel: there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effective—but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

Thousands who take Olive Tablets are now cured with a "dark brown taste," bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad complexion, pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound; known by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the fast-acting effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.—[Advertisement.

KENTUCKY VOTE RETURNS SLOW

Fate of Senatorial Race Hangs in Balance

Reports Still Due From 946 G.O.P. Precincts

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 5. (AP)—With indications that eight out of the seven of the Kentucky Congressional delegation in the next House will be Democratic, the fate of the senatorial race hangs in the balance tonight pending more complete returns from three Republican strongholds.

Judge M. M. Logan, Democrat, piled up a 20,000 lead over Senator Arthur M. Robsion for the long term with reports from 2394 out of 4155 precincts and Ben Williamson on 2310 precincts had 187,261 to 149,060 for Robsion.

However, there are still to come returns from 946 of the 1499 precincts in the Fifth, Tenth and Eleventh districts, all normally Republican by big majorities. In the other eight districts, where Democrats are leading for Congress or are supposed, there are 805 precincts to come out of 2656.

DEMOCRATS HEARTENED

Only fifty-two of the 633 precincts in the Fifth had been counted when tabulation ceased tonight and it appears it will be several days before the final result can be known. The fifty-two counted gave, for short term, Logan, 3176; Robsion, 2217. The returns, though they hearten the Democratic leaders, the Republican majority will be smaller than expected. In the Tenth and Eleventh Robsion piled up heavy majorities.

In the Congressional races returns from more than half the precincts of the Tenth District made a surprise in that A. J. Elliott, Democrat, is giving Mrs. Katherine Langley, Representative incumbent, a decidedly close race. The figures on 127 out of 326 precincts are May, 10,529; Langley, 11,206.

OTHER RETURNS

The Democrats won unopposed in the First, Second and Third, and the Republicans won in the Fifth and Eleventh. In other districts, returns show:

Fourth, 165 out of 318 precincts, C. R. Carden, Democrat, 18,722; J. D. Carddock, Republican, 13,676.

Sixth, thirty-seven out of 305, Brent Spence, Democrat, 3378; J. L. Newhall, Republican, 2089.

Seventh, 267 out of 369, Virgil Chapman, Democrat, 23,534; Tobert Blackburn, Republican, 14,311.

Eighth, 185 out of 266, Ralph Gilbert, Democrat, 19,103; P. H. Taylor Republican, 13,674.

Ninth, Fred Vinson, Democrat, 23,110; E. R. Kendall, Republican, 23,369.

In the Eleventh the figures were, 358 precincts out of 540, Charles Finley, Republican, 29,854; W. W. Duffield, Democrat, 17,439.

DEATH CANCELS GRIDIRON RALLY

Counselor to Pupils of Vallejo High School Succumbs

VALLEJO, Nov. 5 (Exclusive)—Because William F. They canceled the rally. Willsey died during the night.

EVANGELIST OFF FOR COSTA RICA

Mrs. McPherson Departs From Canal Zone

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.]

CRISTOBAL (Panama) Nov. 5. (Exclusive) — Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson sailed this afternoon aboard the Tolon for Port Limon, Costa Rica, on a one-way ticket, apparently endeavoring to avoid the limelight. Her original intention was to return to Panama City Sunday and wait until the 14th inst., and then proceed to Los Angeles aboard the Pennsylvania.

This morning she refused to leave her cabin. She is accompanied by Mrs. William Smith and her 11-year-old son, for whom Mrs. McPherson asserts she is governess.

Passengers today said that Mrs. McPherson traveled incognito during the voyage, although Sunday evening when she played the piano and sang hymns in the ship's lounge, a woman passenger exclaimed: "Why, you look and sing just like Aimee McPherson." The situation was saved by a man near by who threw out his chest and stated that he looked like Lord Chesterfield. The evangelist, attired in a chic, snug-fitting helmet hat and a stunning gown, attracted much attention. Her friends state she has lost twenty pounds.

In order to avoid reporters Mrs. McPherson while traveling east left the train at a wayside station and boarded a bus connecting with another line, eventually reaching New Hampshire and taking refuge in the house of a wealthy apostle. Later she determined to return to California by way of the canal. She traveled by train to Key West and flew to Havana, where she boarded the Tolon for Panama.

CHIMNEY SWEEP'S SANTA STUNT GOES ALL FLOOEY

EVERETT (Mass.) Nov. 5. (Exclusive)—Agitated cries for help issuing from the air above her home startled Mrs. Peter Reynolds, housewife, into telephoning for the police.

Three policemen, after a search, were ready to give up when one of them saw a pair of hands waving wildly over the rim of a chimney on the roof of a near-by house.

At the cost of much effort, the policemen scrambled up to the roof and, peering down the chimney, were greeted by a scared and sooty-faced individual who begged assistance.

Fifteen minutes of tugging and hauling brought the victim of a tight chimney into the open air. The man gave his name as John A. McKay and was placed under arrest on a charge of drunkenness.

At the station he said: "I'm a chimney worker practicing."

ITALY ARRESTS CONSPIRATORS

Anti-Fascists Thrown Into Prison En Masse

(Copyright, 1930, by New York Times)

PARIS, Nov. 5. (Exclusive)—Mass arrests, including the seizure of Bortolo Belotti, former Cabinet member, have been made in Italy among former Liberal and Conservative leaders for an asserted conspiracy with military chiefs to overthrow the present Fascist regime, according to news reaching well informed Italian circles here tonight.

Prominent professors and a large number of army officers were said to have been arrested. Signor Belotti was seized in Milan and is said to have been condemned to be deported without trial. He is one of the best known financiers in Italy. Details of the asserted conspiracy have not been announced.

VOTERS OF KANSAS AID DEMOCRATS

Senate Seat for Bourbon While Governorship Still Falters in Balance

TOPEKA (Kan.) Nov. 5. (AP)—Kansas voters contributed a seat in the United States Senate to the Democratic column, electing George McGill of Wichita, a newcomer in national politics, over Senator Henry J. Allen, Republican, and gave a Democrat a chance for victory in the Governor's race.

With all contests settled tonight except the gubernatorial battle between Harry H. Woodring, Democrat, and Frank (Chief) Haucks, Republican nominee, it appears the official count will be required to determine the race.

MAIL FRAUD LAID TO NEW YORKER

Typewriter Concern Official Faces Double Charge

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—George W. Griffin, 49 years of age, said to be treasurer of the L. C. Smith and Corona Typewriters, Inc., is under arrest tonight on a charge of mail fraud. Authorities charged the company's books had been falsified to cover the theft of between $200,000 and $250,000 in the last two years.

In another cell in the same police station is Griffin's wife, Mrs. Bessie Griffin, 42, of Syracuse, N. Y. She is charged with felonious assault and violation of the Sullivan anti-firearms law. The accusations grew out of her asserted attempt to shoot three detectives.

LEWIS PACE TOO SPEEDY FOR TICKET

Senator-Elect Leads by 700,000 but Democrats as Whole Lag in Illinois

CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (AP)—A backwash of ballots from down-State Illinois further enhanced tonight the triumph of James Hamilton Lewis as United States Senator-elect, but turned the current against his fellow-Democrats, running for State office.

Col. Lewis's lead grew until a plurality of 700,000 became a conservative estimate. The rest of his ticket, however, showed conspicuous lack of parallel strength, indicating the Illinois electorate chose between Lewis and Ruth Hanna McCormick more than between their two parties.

The Congressional delegation is still dominated by Republicans but with at least three Democratic gains and four other Democrats leading uncertain races.

"A Remarkable Revelation"

Says

HON. JAMES FRANCIS BURKE

General Counsel of the Republican National Committee

Congressman 1905-1915. Government Director of War Savings during World War.

"Americans love to do their own thinking—but they welcome facts from others. You are wise in letting every smoker know that you employ the modern Ultra Violet Ray principle in 'Toasting' LUCKY STRIKE tobaccos. This 'extra secret process' is a remarkable revelation."

James Francis Burke

Everyone knows that sunshine mellows —that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray. LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so TOASTING removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating!

Consistent with its policy of laying the facts before the public, The American Tobacco Company has invited Mr. James F. Burke to review the reports of the distinguished men who have witnessed LUCKY STRIKE'S famous Toasting Process. The statement of Mr. Burke appears on this page.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

LATE RETURNS FROM SOUTHERN COUNTIES

More Complete Figures Confirm Trend of Earlier Reports on Candidates' Standing

SANTA ANA, Nov. 5.—Defeat of Sheriff Sam Jernigan by Logan Jackson of Orange, a decisive victory by Sam Collins over Harry Westover in the race for District Attorney, and a triumphant indorsement of Supervisor George Jeffrey of the Fifth District, who defeated Stuart Lucas of Corona Del Mar, were outstanding results of a tremendous outpouring of Orange county voters to the polls yesterday.

E. B. Trago, Santa Ana business man, defeated Deputy County Clerk Earl R. Abbey in the contest for County Treasurer by 14,847 to 10,788, with a dozen precincts missing. Collins led Westover by approximately 2500 votes, the count being 15,072 to 12,315. Jackson's lead over Sheriff Jernigan was surprisingly large, more than 4700, the incomplete vote being 16,485 to 11,748.

Supervisor George Jeffrey gained a handsome majority of about 720 votes over Lucas, the count being 2704 to 1984, with one Laguna Beach precinct missing.

The most smashing victory of all was that scored by Senator Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach, Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, who led the ticket with 23,594, to 6185 for Welch, Democrat, and 453 for Shapiro, Socialist. Gov.-elect James Rolph, Jr., however, withstood well the attempt to lead a bolt to the banner of Milton K. Young. Rolph polled 17,142 to Young's 13,712, with three precincts missing.

More than 30,000 voters cast their ballots yesterday, setting a county election record, and representing 60 per cent of the registration. This fact provided another surprise. Among the various amendments voted upon, few were favored and both of the proposals relating to purchase and maintenance of the county fairgrounds by the county were "snowed under" by a ratio of more than two-to-one. Amendments 1, 4, 9, 13, 15, 17 and 19 appear to have carried, while Nos. 6, 14 and 21 are doubtful, but all the rest faced defeat, upon the face of incomplete returns.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY AGAIN ELECTS SHERIFF COOPER

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 5.—With only thirty-four precincts yet to be heard from out of 384, results today increased the leads obtained early in the returns, assuring election to Sheriff Ed Cooper, Thomas Whelan as District Attorney, Will S. Heller as Treasurer, James Hervey Johnson as Assessor, Leroy Bailey as Public Administrator, and Chester D. Gunn as Coroner.

The $1,000,000 bond issue for a city-county civic center was badly beaten.

Substantial and probably decisive leads were maintained by O. M. Snope, running for Recorder against Harriet Crane; Claude L. Chambers, incumbent City Court Justice, over H. C. Hopkins, and in the San Diego township constable contest by Howard Jopling, aspirant, and Harry Webber, incumbent, over George Cooley, incumbent. The constable race is a "best two out of three" contest, the two highest to be elected and the third man eliminated. Cooley, historic figure in the city for many years, was third man in the election.

The result in the run-off for Supervisor, Fourth County District, was doubtfully close until a late hour, when the Encanto vote, giving Councilman S. P. McMullen 116, to only 44 for Charles L. Good, incumbent Supervisor, was received. This swung the balance in favor of the City Councilman, against the Supervisor who had represented the district for sixteen years.

VENTURA CITY ADOPTS CHARTER; COUNTY RESULTS

VENTURA, Nov. 5.—Robert S. Cooney of Santa Paula, was elected County Tax Collector, and John W. Newby, constable of Ventura township in the only two local races on the general election ballot.

Cooney received 6226 votes, against 4622 given his opponent, T. L. Eustis of Ventura, with three small precincts still to be heard from; while Newby defeated J. J. Salcido, incumbent, by 3517 to 1781.

The Ventura city charter fight resulted 1738 to 1647 for adoption of the Council-Manager plan.

The county vote, seventy-four precincts out of a total of seventy-six, on the State ballot measures was as follows:

Veterans' Bond Act, 7641 for and 1180 against; daylight saving, 2153 for and 8497 against; usury law, 2097 for and 8684 against, and fish and game measure, 3818 for and 4817 against.

Ventura has adopted the City Manager form of government, by approval of the charter drafted by the board of fifteen Freeholders by a majority of ninety-one. Thirteen of the twenty-one precincts gave "yes" majorities.

The contest was marked by heavy balloting, an unusual amount of effort put forth by both proponents and opponents in bringing out the voters, keen interest on all hands as the canvass progressed and a spirited race as the figures slowly trickled in.

The charter was opposed vigorously by a group of city officials and was advocated by the fifteen Freeholders who drafted it and by a citizens' committee.

The charter will be sent to the Legislature this winter for ratification, a formality that is carried out almost automatically. It then goes into effect for the April election, at which time seven Councilmen will be chosen. It is the duty of this first Council to appoint a City Manager and bring about the reorganization of the municipal government as outlined in the charter.

CAMPBELL ELECTED AS IMPERIAL COUNTY SHERIFF

EL CENTRO, Nov. 5.—George Campbell, Seeley merchant, defeated George L. Pulliam, Calexico Supervisor, in the contest here for Sheriff yesterday by two and one-half-to-one. With ninety-one of Imperial Valley's ninety-three precincts reporting, Campbell had 6290 and Pulliam 2616.

The race between C. B. Collins of Holtville and Mrs. Kathryn Watts of Calexico for the office of school superintendent was still in doubt today. Collins had 4401 and Mrs. Watts 4387 votes in the ninety-one precincts. Returns from Palo Verde and Pichaco precincts, with a total of about twenty-five voters, may determine the final result. These two small voting places are located along the Colorado River in the northeast corner of the county and Mrs. Watts carried both of them in the primaries.

For County Coroner, returns today indicated that A. R. Underwood of El Centro had defeated Dr. F. W. Peterson of El Centro by about 300 votes.

In Calexico district William J. Best won from Walter Hartman with a margin of 106 votes in a complete count of the fourteen precincts.

WHITTIER VOTES TO KEEP THEATERS OPEN SUNDAY

WHITTIER, Nov. 5. (AP)—The proposal to keep amusement houses open here on Sunday carried in yesterday's election, 2722 to 2613. The question had been submitted to voters in three previous elections and had met defeat each time.

POMONA ELATED ABOUT LARGE NUMBER VOTING

POMONA, Nov. 5.—Much elation was manifest here today as the result of 67 per cent of Pomona's registered voters visiting the polls yesterday in the general election.

Merrill E. Fellows, chairman of the co-ordinating committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and head of the Get-Out-the-Vote Committee, today issued a statement thanking local voters for their ready response to appeals sent out by the committee.

"As chairman of each of these committees," Fellows said, "I wish to extend appreciation for the good work done by the various organizations and individuals that put forth such strenuous efforts to get out the vote. In the face of general indifference so frequently apparent among voters at election time, Pomonans are to be commended on the 67 per cent vote cast yesterday."

DENNIS WINS IN RACE FOR LOMITA'S JUSTICESHIP

TORRANCE, Nov. 5.—Unofficial returns from all precincts give John Dennis a majority of eleven votes in the race for justice of the peace of Lomita township over the incumbent candidate, Judge P. D. Patterson. The tally stands, Dennis, 1621; Patterson, 1610. Dennis is Mayor here.

WOMAN ELECTED SANTA BARBARA SCHOOL HEAD

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Muriel Edwards of Santa Ynez was victor in the race for County Superintendent of Schools here over Melvin Bowman of Santa Barbara, with 100 of 112 precincts in the county complete. She polled 6946 as compared to 5458 received by Bowman.

For district offices in this county, H. E. Fruer won the Santa Maria constableship from H. B. Johnson by 1166 to 830, and Ronald Adam of Lompoc was re-elected to the Board of Supervisors.

ONTARIO WILL CLEAN UP

Council Approves City Manager's Plan for Program of Improvement in Appearance

ONTARIO, Nov. 5.—Ontario, long noted as a city of beautiful homes and gardens, isn't clean enough, according to City Manager Austin Burt, and a program is planned for remedying the defect.

Burt has proposed to City Council that he be permitted to experiment in a clean-up program over a four-months' period, using city equipment and workmen.

If his plan doesn't work, he will propose that the job of cleaning up the residential district be done by contract. Using the city equipment and workmen will be a saving to the community, he said.

Burt's plan is to divide the city into four districts, and have a clean-up squad visit each district at specified times to haul away trash and rubbish.

Residents who become overenthusiastic and pile their rubbish out in the streets too far ahead of time for the collectors will be punished by cash fine or probably a short stay in jail, it was intimated.

In the past a definite clean-up program has been maintained in the business district, but the residential districts have been neglected.

Council authorized Burt to go ahead with his experiment in making the city cleaner.

FEMININE LEAD IN DESERT PLAY GIVEN

Dolores Brown

PALM SPRINGS, Nov. 5.—In portraying the leading feminine role in "Tahquitz," the tenth annual desert play, to open here the 15th inst., Dolores Brown, prominent young actress of Hollywood, will make her first appearance in outdoor drama.

As the heroine, Suena, Miss Brown will portray the role of an Indian girl for the second time, having recently played the part of a tribal maiden with Richard Dix in "Cimarron," a film production of R.-K.-O. She has appeared with Mae Robson, Edward Everett Horton and other stars in numerous legitimate productions, among them "Love 'Em and Leave 'Em," "Serena Blandish," and "The Streets of New York." She is the daughter of Melville Brown, widely known film director.

Miss Brown will appear opposite Wallace MacDonald, prominent stage and screen star, who also will make his first appearance in outdoor drama in the leading masculine role of Tenoc. Many other widely known stage and screen folk have been engaged by Director Phil Whiting and Arthur Belasco, his production manager, to take part in the spectacular play, which will be presented without the use of artificial properties of any kind in Tahquitz Canyon, adjoining the city limits here.

Vance Webb Shoots Self Through Heart at Upland Before Horrified Diners

UPLAND, Nov. 5. (AP)—Diners at a cafe here at noon were panic-stricken when Vance Webb, 22 years of age, seated at the lunch counter, shot himself through the heart while police attempted to disarm him. He died immediately.

Police said it was Webb's third suicide attempt, and they believed him deranged. He leaves his mother, Mrs. D. Jones of Bivins, Tex.

Coyote Shot by Motor Officer at Pasadena

PASADENA, Nov. 5.—A bold coyote which allowed his weakness for breast of chicken to overcome discretion was shot and killed this morning by Motorcycle Officer A. O. Boyd after a chase through the heart of the business section.

The poultry thief was the first of his species to lope along Colorado street, principal business thoroughfare, in the last fifteen years.

He was sighted by Charles Hamm, Hamm shouted to Boyd and the Motors, who shouted to Boyd, and the motor officer was forced to pursue the coyote at a forty-mile gait for more than a mile before the quarry finally dropped exhausted and waited for the inevitable end whic hthe story books hold out for criminals.

Second Garden Tour Saturday

PASADENA, Nov. 5.—The second garden tour of the series arranged for the benefit of local Girl Scout work will be held Saturday, when the public will have its first opportunity to view the floral landscaping of wealthy residents in the southeastern section.

The tour this week will encompass the gardens of the following: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Bourne, Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Sanders, Dr. and Mrs. Leroy Sherry, Mrs. W. L. Stewart, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fairbanks.

Tickets may be obtained from the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce.

MURDERER GETS LIFE SENTENCE

Joseph A. Vice, Killer of Landlady, in Court

Says He Stabbed Woman While Intoxicated

Death Penalty Asked for in Ventura Crime

VENTURA, Nov. 5.—Joseph A. Vice, confessed murderer of Mrs. Pauline McLeold, was sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin State penitentiary by Superior Judge Edward Henderson at 2 p.m. today.

Vice testified this morning that he was intoxicated when he performed the cold-blooded killing last Friday night in Mrs. McLeold's room in a local hotel, of which she was the proprietress.

Vice voluntarily took the stand in Superior Court to testify in his own behalf.

In an impassioned plea for justice, Dist.-Atty. James C. Hollingsworth demanded the death penalty for Vice as he made his closing argument to the court.

Vice was interrogated by Judge Henderson and cross-examined by Hollingsworth. The confessed murderer told the court he had been drinking heavily all last week, and that he had consumed a pop bottle full of alcohol on the day of the crime.

The liquor angle had been left out of testimony until today, when Vice brought it up. Dist.-Atty. Hollingsworth called witnesses to the stand to testify Vice was not under the influence of liquor when he was apprehended immediately after the crime. However, Vice told the court he was drunk, and "had no reason" for committing the crime.

The courtroom was packed, with every inch of standing room occupied, and crowds pushing at the doors for admittance.

Vice said that he had never had any difficulties with his victim, and that while he remembered stabbing Mrs. McLeold, he had no reason for the deed.

Sheriff Robert E. Clark testified Vice made a statement immediately after the murder to the effect he took a "good jolt" of alcohol after committing the crime.

Dr. Ralph W. Homer, County Physician, told from the stand that Vice, while his breath reeked of liquor, was not under the influence of intoxicants when the former conducted a sobriety test following Vice's apprehension.

Manslaughter Case in Death of Teacher Set

ONTARIO, Nov. 5. — Pleading not guilty to a charge of manslaughter filed against him, L. H. Wadsworth, Los Angeles, will appear in Superior Judge Charles L. Allison's court December 2 for trial, it was announced today.

Wadsworth entered a plea of not guilty of manslaughter, following the death October 6, of Miss Gloria Lopez, member of Chaffey Union High School faculty, in an automobile crash said to have been caused by Wadsworth not stopping his automobile at a boulevard intersection.

Miss Lopez was killed near Fontana, when Wadsworth's automobile struck hers, and hurled the young woman against a tree.

Although he stood on his constitutional rights and refused to make any statement at the inquest, his son-in-law, B. M. Thornest, a passenger in Wadsworth's car at the time of the crash, testified that Wadsworth did not halt his automobile at the intersection.

Miss Ruth Lewis, also of Chaffey faculty, on her way to teach in Fontana branch of Chaffey Union High School, was riding with Miss Lopez, but received slight injuries only. The case is prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jerome B. Kavanaugh.

Gierlich Will Plan Foothill Road Widening

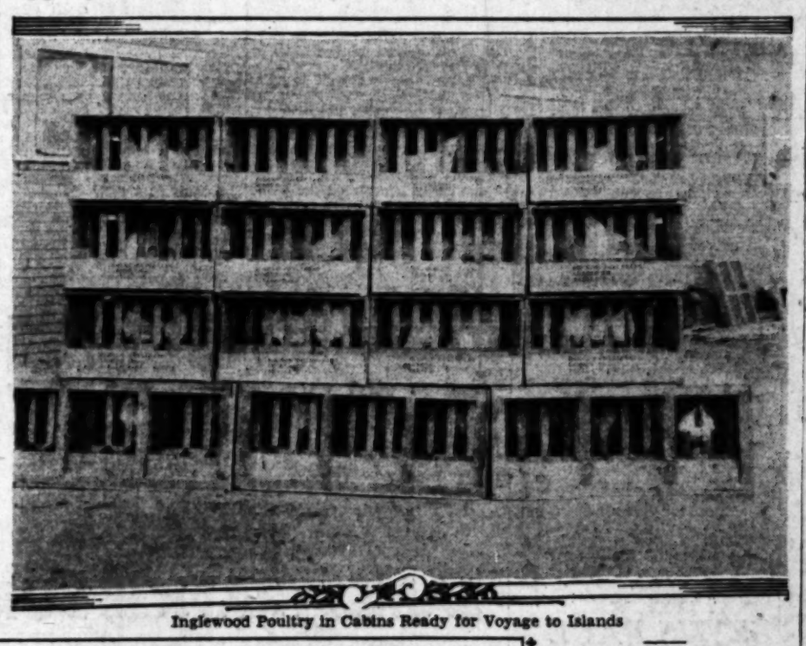
MONROVIA, Nov. 5.—Henry S. Gierlich, former City Engineer and now consulting engineer for the municipality, has been retained by the City Council as special engineer for the widening and improvement of Foothill Boulevard from Mayflower to Fifth avenue.

The road will be improved under the 1911 act and widened to a width of eighty-two feet to conform to the present width of the highway from Mayflower avenue to Canyon Boulevard. Acquisition proceedings are now under way and are expected to be finished within the next few weeks.

According to the city's contract with Gierlich, the engineer will receive a flat sum of $6500 for all engineering work during the course of construction of the highway, in addition to compensation of $3500 for preparing plans and specifications and other work preliminary to actual construction.

FILIPINOS TO GET AMERICAN CHICKENS

Egg-layers Go Under Hatches, Fowl Weather Expected



Inglewood Poultry in Cabins Ready for Voyage to Islands

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 5. — Time was when they chopped off the wings of the domestic hen to keep her in her own backyard. That was her domain, and there she lived her placid life and died her violet death. The fastest travel she ever knew was when she flew all around the yard in a wild, final frenzy while the household's husband-and-father stood by unmoved, ax in hand, assuring his agonized wife and children that "she don't feel nawthin' now—that's the way all hens die."

But nowadays it's different. Proponents of hone life to the contrary notwithstanding, nomadic tendencies keep right on spreading. Where once the old homestead afforded everything that was asked of life by all the household, including the cat and dog and the cows and chickens, today everyone is constantly going somewhere else, and modern transportation has given us the traveled hen.

Now, of course, there are hens and hens. And perhaps, as yet, only the really ultra-ults of poultrydom are enjoying foreign travel. For there are class distinctions everywhere, and this morning a select group of the local poultry elite, all single-comb white Leghorns, departed on a twenty-two-day tour, with accommodations all arranged for a pleasant voyage to Manila. There the Negros Philippine Lumber Company will meet them and about Thanksgiving Day they will be warmly received by Filipinos, employees for the betterment of their flocks.

Born and raised on the England Egg Ranch of this city, it is predicted by George E. England, sponsor of the brood, that the travelers will be a credit to their early training. They are making the trip on the boat Muncaster Castle, and are quartered in fifteen coops, in which are a total 100 breeding hens and nine breeding cockerels. This is not the first export shipment of the England Egg Ranch poultry. Last August a contingent went to Sydney, Australia. This foreign demand for the England poultry comes as a result of the records which the England breeds have consistently set in official contests, it is said by poultry experts. Official records show that this strain of hens, bred, hatched, raised and entered by England, has established the world's egg-laying record for hens of any breed.

Other honors won by the George E. England poultry are as follows: Egg-laying contest in Texas for the years 1928 and 1930, first place, 1929, third place. Michigan contest, which is the largest contest in the country and in which are entered hens from every State in the Union and from most of the Canadian Provinces, 1929, third place; 1930, second place.

"Southern California no longer ranks second in the poultry industry," said England, today, "as the record for any breeder in California was won by these hens, as well as the world record for eggs from five ten-hen pens."

RIGHT SIDE PROVES WRONG

State Patrolman Advises West Virginian Where He Should Walk on Road, According to Law, But Contrary One Refuses; Lands in Jail

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 5.—Because he considered the admonition of a State highway patrolman too lightly, Frank W. Roell, 22-year-old West Virginia steel worker, will have ten days in the Riverside County Jail to ponder the trouble California has put itself to in protecting him while walking along her highways.

Picked up between Arlington and Corona yesterday by Ray Hastings, State highway patrolman, Roell was taken before Justice of the Peace Stahl of Corona and fined $20 or ten days in jail for violating the little-used, but new California law requiring pedestrians to walk on the left side of the highway facing approaching traffic. It is believed yesterday's use is the first in this and several other Southern California counties.

Hastings, riding his beat along the Arlington-Corona highway, came upon three men walking along on the right-hand side of the highway, their backs to traffic. Hastings pulled up his motor.

"Better walk on the other side of the road, fellows, you might get hit on this side," advised the officer, and told them of the law in this State compelling them to use the left side of the roads when outside of cities. The officer then rode on.

Down the highway a short way Hastings looked back. He saw one of the trio walking on the wrong side yet, the other two having heeded the advice, so he wheeled his motor around and rode up to the contrary individual. After a question or two he was as contrary, or even more so. He was on that side of the road and on that side of the road he was going to stick.

"I guess there's only one thing to do," replied the officer, so he transported Roell to Corona. The judge heard the story. "Twenty dollars or ten days," he said. Roell came to jail.

MASONS DEDICATE TEMPLE

New $100,000 South Pasadena Edifice Scene of Rites in Which Grand Lodge Officers Participate

SOUTH PASADENA, Nov. 5.—More than 500 Masons witnessed the dedication ceremonies of the new $100,000 Masonic Temple Monday night. The guests of honor were officers of the Grand Lodge of California, Grand Master John Stewart Roas conducting the convocation services.

Judge W. Cloyd Snyder, president of the local Masonic association, and John Coutts, Worshipful Master of the lodge, served as joint toastmasters at the banquet.

Rev. Leslie Learned, Grand Orator and rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Pasadena, was the principal speaker at the public dedication service.

Five Injured in Traffic Mishaps

MAYWOOD, Nov. 5. — Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Barineau of San Miguel street, South Gate, were fixing their car on Maywood avenue last night while it was parked near a curbing. A truck driven by R. M. Brown of East Fifty-sixth street, Maywood, came along and, according to Brown, a car passed causing his truck to swerve, striking Mr. and Mrs. Barineau, and also Martin Volkiff of San Luis street, South Gate, who was with them. All three were injured about their bodies and limbs, and Mrs. Barineau received possible fracture of one of her ribs, according to reports made at local police headquarters.

A. A. Werner of 737 South Westlake avenue, Los Angeles, was driving his car on Pacific Boulevard last night. Andrew Fairde of Gage ranch, Laguna, ran in front of the automobile in an effort to catch a car. The Werner machine struck him, fracturing his shoulder, according to police reports.

Samuel Thompson of 2911 Olive street was driving his machine on Pacific Boulevard when Frank C. Crown, who started across the street, was struck by Thompson's machine, according to police. He was taken to the Huntington Park Hospital for treatment.

BOY, PAGE DIOGENES! HERE'S HONEST MAN

MONROVIA, Nov. 5.—That there is one honest man in the world is now a proved fact, and had Diogenes been informed, his long search would have ended in success, for the man he sought is none other than Joseph Malget, of 250 Norumbega Drive.

It seems that several days ago Malget found a wallet containing $110 in cash, a $350 note, and other valuable papers, belonging to Ralph Glover of 607 North Avenue 64, Los Angeles.

He mailed the billfold immediately to Glover's address, accompanied by a brief note stating that he had taken the privilege of taking 25 cents for the postage and registration of the parcel.

To say that Glover was surprised, is putting it mildly, and he hurried to Monrovia to offer Malget a reward, but the latter refused to accept it, despite the fact that he is in straitened circumstances and in ill health. Glover, however, persuaded Malget to accept an order of foodstuffs which he had delivered at the sanatorium where Malget is a patient.

SUPERVISOR DINGEMAN QUITS POST

Ventura County Official From Oxnard District Has Resignation Accepted

VENTURA, Nov. 5.—Resignation of A. J. Dingeman, County Supervisor from the Oxnard district, was received and accepted today by the Board of Supervisors, to become effective tomorrow.

Dingeman gave business pressure as his reason for quitting the post. In his letter to the board he declared his business interests demanded more time, and stated that with the new Courthouse addition under way the post of Supervisor would demand even more of his time than it does at present.

The resignation now will be forwarded by the board to Gov. Young, who has the power to appoint Dingeman's successor.

It is understood that Joe McGrath, prominent Oxnard rancher, is being warmly indorsed for the position by many of his friends although several other men in the Oxnard district also have been named as possibilities.

Brockway Rites Will Be Today

PASADENA, Nov. 5.—Funeral services for Leon C. Brockway, local architect, who died suddenly early yesterday, will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the Ives & Warren chapel. Burial will follow qin Mountain View Cemetery.

Brockway designed the First Congregational Church building, erected two years ago at the intersection of North Los Robles avenue and Walnut street.

He was 54 years of age and came to this city from Barton Landing, Vt., as a boy. Organizations to which he belonged include the Rotary Club, Pasadena Athletic and Country Club and various architectural groups. He was affiliated with the Pasadena lodge, F and A. M.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Lulu Brockway of 306 North Raymond avenue, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Brockway Sivertson and Miss Marjorie Brockway, also residents of this city.

Parents of Alden Ladd, San Diego Youth Found Hanging From Tree, Believed End Accidental

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 5.—Coroner's officers and National City police continuing today their investigation into the strange death of Alden Ladd, 13-year-old schoolboy, whose body was found hanging from a tree near his home in Lincoln Acres yesterday.

Two theories are under investigation by authorities. One is that the youth committed suicide and the other is that he accidentally hanged himself while engrossed in an attempt to frighten his playmates. The latter theory is held by Roscoe Ladd, the father, and Nellie Ladd, the mother.

They told authorities that the youth had an adventurous spirit and probably was attempting to play a joke on his friends when he accidentally hung himself.

There is no evidence of foul play connected with the case, officers declare.

AWARD TO HERO ON RADIO TODAY

President Hoover to Bestow Congressional Medal

Rickenbacker of California to Be Recipient

Only Fifteen Minutes Given West on KFI, 11:45 a.m.

The Times Forum, KHJ, 1:30 p.m. S. Fred Hogue, Editorial Staff Writer on The Times, "The New Crop of Dictators."

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

President Hoover will present the Congressional Medal of Honor to Col. Edward V. Rickenbacker, famous war ace, at Bolling Field, the army air station at Anacostia, D. C. This will come over KFI at 11:45 a.m. 'oday.

While KFI will take only the last fifteen minutes of the program that will start over the eastern network at 11:30 a.m., it is to be hoped that the quarter hour allo ted to Southern California will include the presentation speech by President Hoover and Rickenbacker's acceptance. It also promises an elaborate program by exhibition flyers of the Army Air Service, with a radio broadcast including descriptions of these events. War-time members of the Ninety-fourth Pursuit Squadron and high officials of the War Department are expected to speak.

They tell us that—

You should bring the kiddies to dial KHJ at 6:30 tonight. A gay, musical and unusual half-hour with Santa Claus, Bonzo, the dog and Koko—noises and effects that delight children and bigger folks, too.

All the way from Edinburgh on KFI at 12 noon—The Reid orchestral concert conducted by the English-Russian conductor, Albert Coates. With weather conditions right it should be good.

KTM, KMTR, KMPC, KFOX and KGB tonight take the Sparton Spotlights 9 to 10. Remember they promised tonight will be the best on the air.

Ker-lunk', KHJ, says "the darkest hour was struck." 9 o'clock tonight. "Polgeria." Everbody but the villain knows where Eliza is—the marines are taken prisoner. We're all in tears—but shh. "They save Eliza.

Somebody mailed us an oyster that it is claimed will broadcast. It hasn't spoken yet.

If you will dial KHJ at 8 o'clock Raymond Paige and his orchestra will hold your dial with immortal classics, Kammenoi Ostrow, Prelude to "Lohengrin," Hallelujah Quartet "Marche Slave" and "Caprice Viennois." A Perfect repertoire.

On KFI at 7 tonight, an NBC starring Dennis King, screen and stage star, numbers from "The Vagabond King," recitations, "Macbeth," a symphony.

KNX at 6:15 p.m., if you want to smile at the supper table, Frank Watanabe.

KFWB's Orchestra, 8 tonight—Gary Breckner and Eleanor Gail, singing duets—their first debut as a musical comedy team. Give them a hand.

KFI, 7:30 tonight. If you love good music try Standard Symphony Hour, San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, Basil Cameron, conductor, "Die Meistersinger," "Peer Gynt," Liszt's "Les Preludes." No disappointment.

I think that oyster is dead—but how can one tell?

"The pick of concert repertoire"—KECA at 10 tonight, or, if you like to travel, at 7:30 tonight, a Nomad Novelist with Round's String Ensemble. Far away places, with their music.

KFWB at 9 tonight, United chain program, KFWB Orchestra, first of a series titled "Modernistic" Buster Dees's trio.

Paul Lowry, sports editor of The Times, quizzes Charley Erb, quarterback of California's wonder teams, KHJ at 9:30 tonight, a radio touchdown for those wondering what U.S.C. will or will not do to California this year.

A sacred hour, KHJ at 7 tonight, Edward Rechlin, world-famous organist, Bach's music, also an inspiration sermon. The best of Bach's compositions.

Even an oyster would appreciate a radio set-up like that above.

Swooning Girl Held for Quiz

Fainting for the second time after her arrest on felony charges, Madge Walker, alias Joyce Langdon, was sent to the psycopathic ward of the General Hospital by Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday for observation, pending her preliminary hearing.

Miss Walker, who fainted when she was arrested on a charge of grand theft of an automobile, fainted again in court when she was arraigned on the charge. Her preliminary hearing was set for the 18th inst. and she was ordered released on $1000 bail. Officers reported that she abandoned a car which she had hired from a Los Angeles dealer after driving it to San Francisco and wrecking it there.

Children Fight Mother's Will

Mrs. Josefa Nesa of Beverly Hills having been unable to speak English, two of her children have filed a contest to her will, which bequeathes property said to be worth more than $10,000.

Louis J. Canspa, the son-in-law, an attorney, is asserted to have unduly influenced the decedent, who, it is contended, was mentally incompetent. Under the will P. J. Guerra and Peter Guerra, nephews, get $2000 each, and other property is divided among Canepa and the contestants, Catherine Nesa Conterno and Bernard Nesa, Jr.

College to Hear Spring Concert

Through the benefaction of William Andrew Clark, Jr., of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Euclid W. McBride of Pasadena, the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra will present an educational concert in the Occidental College hillside theater next April, it was announced yesterday by President Remsen D. Bird. College students and older school children of the vicinity will be admitted free of charge.

The program will be selected two months in advance so the pupils may study the composers and selections.

OCCIDENTAL MUSEUM RECEIVES NEW GIFTS

Additions to the Esterly Museum of Natural Science at Occidental College were announced yesterday by Dr. Frank J. Smiley, professor of biology and president of the Southern California chapter of Sigma Xi, national honorary science fraternity. Dr. B. F. Krause of Santa Monica has donated a collection of Southern California plants which includes 1800 specimens of local flora. Harold Hopkins of Hollywood and Balboa, alumnus, is the donor of a large mounted flying swordfish, caught in Florida waters.

BONFIRE PLANS TO BE MADE

Active preparation for building the pajamerino bonfire at the University of California at Los Angeles will be begun today when members of the freshman class convene to organize working divisions. The pajamerino will be held as a part of a night rally for the football game with Oregon State College the 21st inst.

WHITNEY'S KIN GIVEN ESTATE

Nothing Willed to Charity but Provision Made

Employees Remembered by Late Sportsman

Amount of Riches Left May Reach $150,000,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (Exclusive) The will of Harry Payne Whitney, financier, sportsman, and one of the richest men in America, was filed for probate this afternoon in the surrogate's office of New York county. It provided for the distribution of an estate variously estimated at $125,000,000 to $150,000,000 among the members of his immediate family, four employees and one former servant.

The will contained a declaration that while Mr. Whitney made no specific bequest of a charitable nature he requested his wife and children to continue the support which he had given during his life to public institutions and charities. It also declared that there were many faithful employees and servants for whom he had made no provision in the will because his wife, knowing Mr. Whitney's wishes in respect to their remembrance, would provide for them in accordance with an understanding he had reached with her.

GIFTS TO FAMILY

The principal beneficiaries of Mr. Whitney's will are his three children, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney of 430 East Fifty-seventh street; Mrs. G. McCulloch Miller of Old Westbury, Long Island, and Mrs. Barklie McKee Henry of 25 East Sixty-seventh street. Mrs. Miller formerly was Miss Flora Whitney and Mrs. Henry was Miss Barbara Whitney.

To his widow, Mrs. Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney, who was the oldest daughter of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt and who inherited a fortune of her own, the late financier left the family home at 871 Fifth avenue during her lifetime, and left to her outright their country place at Old Westbury, L. I., together with all his personal effects, jewelry, automobiles and the like.

CASH BEQUESTS

The will contained the following cash bequests:

Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, son, $2,000,000; Flora Whitney Miller, daughter, $1,000,000; Barbara Whitney Henry, daughter, $1,000,000; G. MacCulloch Miller, son-in-law, $500,000; Barklie McKee Henry, son-in-law, $500,000; Thomas J. Regan, Mr. Whitney's secretary, $200,000; James M. Frank, employee, $25,000; Charles Jones, employee, $20,000; Lawrence Fitzpatrick, employee, $10,000; William Stewart, former employee, $10,000.

At the offices of Dunnington, Gregg and Church, lawyers for the estate, today, it was said that Mr. Frank, Mr. Jones and Mr. Fitzpatrick were office employees of the late financier and Stewart a former valet.

The will divides the residuary estate into four equal parts, of which one is to be held by the trustees for the benefit of Cornelius V Whitney until he is 35 years of age and then delivered to him. Mr. Whitney is now 31.

The three remaining parts are to be held by the trustees, one part for the benefit of each of the three children during their lives and the lives of the eldest child of each; with the income of each part being paid to the children during their lives and to their children after their deaths.

HOLD-UP MAN GIVES CASH TO PENNILESS "VICTIM"

CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (Exclusive)—It sometimes pays to be held up in Chicago. John Franklin is out of a job and was doubtful how he was going to eat. He walked into a drug store. Just inside the door he was stopped by a man who demanded his money.

"I haven't a thing, not even a job," Franklin replied. "Well, here's $2," said the bandit, handing Franklin the money. "Go buy yourself something to eat."

The bandit walked out with $310 in cash he had just taken from H. A. Smith, the drug-store manager. Smith didn't have the heart to ask Franklin to return the $2 the bandit had given him.

MOONEY-BILLINGS WITNESS RELEASED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5. (AP)—Vagrancy charges against Estelle Smith, two men and another woman arrested here yesterday were dismissed today when the quartet appeared in Police Court. They were arrested on arrival from Sacramento. Estelle Smith was a leading prosecution witness in the trials of Warren K. Billings and Thomas J. Mooney, convicted of complicity in the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing here.

DOMINION SHIP POLICIES FIXED

Imperial Conference Heads Agree on Procedure

Full Delegation Will Get Marine Law Plan

Privy Council Appeals Not So Clearly Defined

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Nov. 5. (Exclusive)—Two of the most important constitutional questions were discussed by the heads of the delegations to the imperial conference, and one of them, it is understood, was settled. That is the question of merchant shipping legislation.

The heads agreed to recommend to the full conference that the Dominions be given the fullest control of shipping in their own waters, and under their own flag and in their own ships in any other waters, and that all British legislation restricting such rights be repealed.

COULD PASS LAWS

The effect of this is that Canada, for instance, if she so desired, could pass protective coasting laws, like those of the United States restricting coasting trade to the American flag, driving out all British ships.

The other question was the vexed one of privy council appeals which was under discussion for several hours this morning without final agreement. The heads agreed that the Dominions, by virtue of their status, have the right to deny their nationals appeal to the Privy Council against their own supreme courts.

In the case of Ireland, however, it was argued that this right is reserved for Irish citizens by Art. II of the Anglo-Irish Treaty, and can only be taken away by an alteration in this contract between England and Ireland, with the consent of both countries. It would seem not to be difficult to obtain such an agreement, but in practice it would require legislation of the Dail Eireann and the British Parliament, and neither party is anxious to reopen treaty discussion. Efforts are being made to find some other way out.

MINISTERS TO TOUR

It is also true that the discussion was largely academic as no one denies the right of the Irish legislator to destroy the effect of a Privy Council decision by post facto legislation, as it has already done on three occasions.

MINE EXPLOSION TAKES 150 LIVES

Rescuers Find Twenty Alive in Coal Disaster

Blast Sends Smoke and Fire Shooting From Shaft

Frantic Relatives Hopefully Watch Rescue Work

porary hospital was established in an engine room of the mine buildings. Here medical supplies were prepared to care for any who might be brought out alive. Here, too, cots were placed and alert nurses established themselves, preparing for any emergency call. The entire region responded to the call for help. The State was represented by seven officials, sent by Gov. Cooper, to render what aid they can and to alleviate any suffering.

After the rescuers had bratticed themselves forward toward the scene of the explosion in the west section of the workings they decided to explore all the entries, airways and safeways. On one of the safeways they found the body of a miner who had made a fruitless flight from the deadly gas.

Men who escaped alive, but bore injuries, told of the terrific blast. They said the mine officials had entered the workings to examine a new air shaft and inspect the installation of a fan. As the officials walked through one of the west tunnels the explosion came. It was so terrific a heavy steel mine car was picked up and hurled down one of the underground passageways.

CONSIDERED SAFE

The mine is a shaft operation with one level 200 feet below the surface. Normally the mine employs 325 men. The mine was not known as a gaseous operation, and to both miners and officials was considered perfectly safe.

The mine is located in a typical coal-mining center, a short distance from this village and about nine miles northeast of Athens. The region has been hard hit by unemployment and poor business conditions. Col. Wade Christy, assistant Adjutant-General of Ohio, one of those sent to the scene by Gov. Cooper tonight, visited the region only last week on an inspection tour and he reported to the State's chief executive that much poverty exists in the region and that relief in the form of food and clothing will be needed this winter.

Rescue work was proceeding in an orderly manner tonight with troops of the Ohio National Guard doing patrol duty. Frantic relatives of the trapped miners who gathered about the mine mouth soon after the first explosion were quieted, and those needing medical attention were treated at the impromptu first-aid hospital.

Tonight mothers, daughters, wives and sons milled about behind the soldier picket lines, anxiously peering toward the mine shaft where rescue parties went back and forth into the working. Some moaned softly, others were silent. As each relay of relief workers came out, anxious eyes strained, hoping against hope.

LEWIS WINNER OF NOBEL PRIZE

his family and to enable him to continue writing."

The prize is worth $46,350. The young American author is Sinclair Lewis himself.

As for his acceptance in the face of his rejection of the Pulitzer prize for "Arrowsmith" in 1926, he explained:

"The reason is the enormous difference between the two prizes. The Nobel prize is an international prize with no strings tied. It is awarded on the basis of excellence of work.

"The Pulitzer prize, on the other hand, is cramped by the provision of Mr. Pulitzer's will that the prize shall be given 'for the American novel published during the year which shall best present the wholesome atmosphere of American life, and the highest standard of American manners and manhood.' This suggests not actual literary merit, but obedience to whatever code of good form may chance to be popular at the moment."

As a result, he said, the Pulitzer prize has been given to some mediocre novels.

The dead are Thad Hardy, 26 years of age; Clyde Haney, 28, and the injured W. A. (Red) Wetzel, 28, and Coleman Hardy, 30.

WOODCOCK RECALLED FROM HAWAIIAN TRIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—About to board a steamer for the Hawaiian Islands on an inspection tour, Prohibition Director Woodcock was recalled to Washington today by Atty.-Gen. Mitchell. The administrator gave no explanation for his sudden recall, saying he had been given none. William G. Walker, administrator for this district, and William G. Woods, in charge of the industrial alcohol permit section, left for the islands.

THOUSANDS RELEASED BY MEXICAN RAILWAY

[Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 5. (Exclusive)—Following former President Calles's plan for the reorganization of the Mexican National Railways, 3000 workmen have been let out since the 1st inst., according to a statement from the labor union today. The railways state that these dismissals are only the beginning of the readjustment of employees, as readjustments must take place all along the line if the roads are to be placed on a paying basis.

La Temperatura Comenzará a Bajar Gradualmente a la Normal

El área de alta presión, responsable de las temperaturas muy sobre la normal, que hemos tenido aquí en estos últimos días, al punto de que el termómetro acusó ayer 85 grados Fahrenheit, se está disipando y caminando hacia el este, según declaración hecha anoche por la oficina meteorológica de los Estados Unidos en esta ciudad.

Hoy se espera que sigan las temperaturas sobre la normal; pero la niebla que se predice para en la mañana a lo largo de la costa indica un ligero descenso del termometro respecto de las cifras registradas ayer. Tal dicen los meteorólogos.

El área de presión tenía ayer su centro sobre la Dakota Septentrional, y los vaticinadores esperan que disminuyan sus efectos sobre Sud-California a medida que se aleje hacia el Atlántico.

Uniforms

Correct for the Household Staff

THE WELL APPOINTED HOUSEHOLD, WHETHER LARGE OR SMALL, IS A TRIBUTE TO ITS MISTRESS. THROUGH DETAILS THE ATMOSPHERE OF THE HOME IS UNERRINGLY SENSED. UNIFORMING IS A SENSITIVE INDEX OF THE DEGREE OF EFFICIENCY. CLEANLINESS, NEATNESS, TASTE AND HARMONY IN EACH HOME.

Efficiency is largely determined by suiting the apparel of each individual to his or her duties. This is more or less accomplished by an ideal for maximum cleanliness and practicability which in turn is necessary to neatness. Good taste achieves harmony through color, cut and material. Quiet color, simple cut and serviceable material is time proved and least conspicuous. J. W. Robinson Co. are prepared to provide these uniforms and to give competent assistance in their selection.

Morning Uniform

HOUSEMAIDS, parlor maids and waitresses are dressed as nearly alike as possible. For morning, a work dress of plain cotton broadcloth of a solid color chosen for the house, or striped percale, is preferred. There are long sleeves and no cuffs. Large white aprons with high bibs and shoulder straps are suitable. As illustrated, in blue, orchid or green, simply cut, and trimly belted with tucked front and collar attached, priced at $3.95. The apron of fine white lawn, with embroidered insertion, is $2.95. The white lawn cap with removable ribbon, 65c.

Afternoon Uniform

FOR afternoon, or beginning at luncheon, if she is serving, a plain black dress is the general choice for the housemaid, with which is worn a smaller apron, with shoulder straps, and a small cap if desired. Soiesette, crepe de chine, moire and other materials are used. Real antique filet edges the apron, the matching collar and cuffs, and the cap, also of organdy. The dress of black rayon is $6.00, the apron with collar and cuffs is priced at $4.95 a set. The cap is 85c.

The Lady's Maid

ALTHOUGH some wear all white in the morning, and others wear grey or color afternoons or for occasions, black is the uniform for the lady's maid. Her costume is daintier, because her duties are lighter. A small black apron of taffeta or satin is very smart, while net or organdie with lace and a black ribbon band are also used. She wears no cap. The costume illustrated combines a black moire dress, $17.50, and a black taffeta apron trimmed with velvet ribbon, $6.95.

The Nursemaid

THE nursemaid in a private home usually wears white. There are several styles of uniforms, simple and with long sleeves. In the morning the nursemaid may wear a plain colored chambray uniform with white collar and cuffs. When she goes out she wears a simple dark coat and hat over her white uniform. Illustrated is an easily laundered uniform of white poplin, with detachable pearl buttons, priced at $5.00. The cap is 65c.

The Cook

FOR the cook, white is preferred, with short sleeves for convenience and cleanliness. Upon her rests the well-being of the entire household and her uniform should be one thoroughly businesslike and neat. With an ample apron, as illustrated, and the cook's cap to cover her hair, she is dressed to suit the most fastidious. The dress is $2.95, the apron $1.75 and the cap 65c. Butcher's aprons, $1.00.

The Small Household

IN THE small household, where general work is done by one or two, the plain colored cotton uniform is used until dinner time. For luncheon a fresh white apron is substituted for the kitchen apron and for dinner the black uniform with white serving apron is worn.

NET PROFITS OF GILMORE OIL UP

First Half of Fiscal Year Shows $515,634

Increase Over 1929 Period 31 Per Cent

Capital Stock Earns $2.24 Per Share

Gilmore Oil Company, Ltd., for the first six months of its fiscal year ended September 30, last, yesterday reported total net earnings, inclusive of earnings divided and undivided of affiliate companies, of $515,634, as compared with $392,580 the 1929 period, an increase of $123,054, or 31 per cent.

The 1930 period earnings are equal to $2.24 a share on the 229,823 shares outstanding, as against $2.13 a share on the 185,387 shares outstanding in the 1929 period.

Earnings of the company, which include only dividends and divided earnings from affiliated companies as actually received totaled $438,595 for the six months ended September 30, last, or an increase of $80,841, according to the report. The earnings of the Gilmore Oil Company, exclusive of income from affiliated companies, were $423,540, or a gain of $152,941 over the 1929 period.

During the 1930 period the company eliminated its obligation to the A. F. Gilmore Company in the amount of $167,918 and paid dividends of $190,529.70 to stockholders.

"Our position is materially strengthened over the previous year by the intensive expansion program instituted in December, 1929, and carried on up to date," C. S. Beesemyer, vice-president, stated. "During this time we increased our branches from ten to forty and the number of dealers handling our products now totals approximately 3000.

"Our domestic sales of gasoline on the Pacific Coast for the six months ended September 30, last, reached a total of 43,672,071 gallons, compared with the same period a year ago of 15,529,022 or an actual increase of 181 per cent."

The cash position of the company was increased by $340,147.89 over September 30, 1929, and now totals $476,540.66. Total current assets as of September 30, last, were $1,948,027.33 and total current liabilities were $1,602,824.21. Total assets were listed at $6,294,628.24, with total net worth shown at $3,905,283.62.

Earned surplus increased from $593,788.98, as of April 1, last, to $630,854.63 after deduction of $190,529.70 for dividends. Total surplus, including $43,794 surplus paid in on capital, increased from $636,572.98 on April 1, last, to $674,638.62 on September 30, last.

Local Weather Trade Handicap

Retail business in Los Angeles has been considerably affected by the continued hot weather, and unless seasonable rains and cooler weather set in soon merchants expect a decrease in holiday sales, the weekly survey of the Bradstreet Company stated yesterday.

Wholesalers report their stocks on hand are lower than a year ago with only a fair demand. They further state that prices are lower than in years and that orders are very small, practically all being stock "fill ins." Building has shown a little improvement principally in residential districts and building material prices have made a small advance, the report stated.

JOYCE JOINS STAFF OF PACIFIC COMPANY

Thomas P. Joyce, Jr., formerly vice-president of the Equitable Holding Corporation, an Eastern investment trust, has been named manager of the brokerage department of the Pacific Company, underwriters and distributors of securities and members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and the Los Angeles Curb. Mr. Joyce, formerly stationed in New York for his company, has been in California for more than a year familiarizing himself with local markets and conditions.

PROFITS OF TIDE WATER OIL DECLINE

Associated Company's Net for Nine Months Off $1,978,711

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Tide Water Associated Oil Company and subsidiaries today reported net income for the nine months ended September 30, last, of $7,886,823 after charges including depletion and taxes, the equivalent to 78 cents a share on 5,843,937 shares of common stock outstanding.

For the same period of 1929 net income totaled $9,865,238 after charges, equal to $1.17 a share on 5,632,829 shares of common.

In the third quarter of this year the company's net earnings were $2,297,887 after charges, equal to 20 cents a share on the common. In the same period of 1929 net income was $4,823,215 or 86 cents a share.

The Tide Water Oil Company, eastern subsidiary, reported net income for the first nine months of $3,068,263 after charges, equal to $1.48 a share on 2,191,821 shares, compared with $5,344,467 or $2.09 a share in the same period of last year. September quarter earnings of the subsidiary were equal to 41 cents a share, compared with $1 a share a year ago.

Nine months' net income of the Associated Oil Company, Pacific Coast subsidiary, were reported earlier in the week at $2.01 a share compared with $3.32 in the nine months of 1929.

Income Told by Byron Jackson Pump Concern

Consolidated net earnings of the Byron Jackson Company, manufacturers of water and oil pumps, oil-well equipment, etc., amounted to $480,404 for the first nine months of the year after all charges including depreciation and Federal taxes, the company reported yesterday. This amount is equivalent to $1.37 a share on 356,676 shares of capital stock outstanding.

For the same period in 1929 earnings, after adjustments arising from new accounting methods, totaled $918,515 after charges, equal to $2.73 a share on 336,994 shares outstanding.

Current assets after deducting reserves totaled $3,623,991, including $565,940 in cash, as of September 30, last. Current liabilities were $290,112, or a ratio of 10.42 to 1. Current working capital position stood at $2,732,879 at the end of the nine months.

Directors recently declared a cash dividend of 25 cents a share payable December 1 to stockholders of record the 15th inst.

Kemper Radio in Economy Action

With the announcement of the removal of the general offices and service department of the Kemper Radio Corporation, Ltd., to new headquarters on South Hope street, the company yesterday mailed letters to stockholders outlining the present status of the company.

In order to effect further reduction in the overhead expenses in line with the economy measures approved by the creditors' advisory committee under the chairmanship of J. C. Parsons, vice-president of the Central National Bank, W. W. Charles as president and J. R. Woodbridge as secretary-treasurer and general manager have relinquished their respective salaries and retired from active participation in the control of the company, the letters stated. Harold B. Cluff, vice-president and sales manager, has been appointed general manager of the company.

ASSETS OF ARMOR BUILDING-LOAN UP

Resources of the Armor Building and Loan Association, sustaining a rapid growth over the past year, increased $22,000, or more than 5 per cent, in October, to a total of $456,280 on October 31, Louis A. Copeland, president, announced yesterday. The assets of the association increased more than 28 per cent in the third quarter this year, and in excess of 73 per cent for the full year ended September 30, last.

ST. LOUIS RATE FIRM

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 5.—Following a meeting of directors of the Federal Reserve Bank here today, no announcement was made regarding the rediscount rate of 3½ per cent.

STANDARD'S NET COMPUTED

Results for Year Placed at Approximately $3 a Share on Basis of Nine Months' Figures

BY EARLE E. CROWE

California's premier oil enterprise, the Standard Oil Company, should earn approximately $3 a share for the twelve months of 1930 on the basis of the nine months' income reported yesterday. At this rate the 1930 dividend requirements would be covered by a margin of 50 cents a share.

Computation of the estimate for the year is reached in this fashion: Net income for the first nine months was $30,435,563 after all charges, to which is added $8,000,000 as the estimate of fourth quarter's earnings. The total of $38,435,563 is the equivalent to $2.93 a share on 13,102,900 shares after giving effect to the 2 per cent stock dividend.

QUARTER ESTIMATED

Probably the estimate of $8,000,000 for the fourth quarter is conservative, although the last quarter usually falls considerably behind the third. Last year the fourth quarter produced $12,258,009.93 in net income.

Total estimated net income of $38,435,563, or $2.93 a share for 1930, would compare with $46,623,490 for the full year of 1929, or $3.63 a share on 12,848,980 shares.

Stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of California certainly should have no cause for complaint on this performance in view of the unsettled conditions in the industry and the general depression affecting all lines of business. Nor have they any cause for concern over the nine months' earnings, which were only 11 per cent under the similar 1929 period.

In fact, the disclosure of the nine months' earnings and the announcement that the company in the future will publish quarterly statements ought to increase public confidence in the shares of the Standard Oil Company of California. In pessimistic times especially, the company that does not report fully on its affairs is more susceptible to the unpleasant rumors and conjectures ordinarily current in periods of depression.

SETS PRECEDENT

By adopting this new policy of taking stockholders and the public into its confidence at stated intervals during the year, the California Standard Company becomes the first of the Standard Oil group to come to an enlightened attitude on the release of earnings. At rare intervals an estimate of earnings is released by some of the other Standard group, as occurred the other day when Charles F. Meyer, president of the Standard Oil Company of New York, announced record sales and earnings for the first nine months although actual figures were not given.

Standard Oil's release of quarterly earnings also throws more light on the pertinent question of depletion, depreciation, etc. The nine months' statement explains that a decrease in depletion is due to the increased amount of production shut in pursuant to the California conservation program. Depletion, depreciation, etc., decreased from $18,527,417.40 in the nine months of 1929 to $14,216,141.60 in the same period of this year. The statement adds that no change has been made in the method of determination.

Declaration of the extra stock dividend of 2 per cent was something of a surprise to the stock market since most companies have been omitting distributions of this character. The announcement failed to influence the market favorably.

Bank Subsidiary Names Officials

L. M. Giannini, president of Transamerica Corporation, and Armando Pedrini will be chairman of the board and president, respectively, of Corporation of America, subsidiary of the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association, it was announced yesterday. Members of the board include, in addition, James A. Bacigalupi, Louis Ferrari, A. P. Giannini, L. M. Giannini, P. C. Hale and A. J. Mount.

Since its formation seven years ago to effect a consolidation of various independent ice-cream manufacturers and distributors of dairy products, this holding company has rapidly expanded its interests in the food industry, ranking today as one of the two leading units in the ice-cream and dairy field. The more recent important acquisitions include the Kraft-Phenix Cheese Corporation, Sheffield Farms and Deerfoot companies. Subsidiaries do business in New York, New England, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Michigan, Iowa, Nebraska, Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia.

After increasing per share earnings from $3.82 in 1928 to $4.04 in 1929, the company was able to report continued progress in the first half of 1930 with $2.16 earned per share, as against $1.85 in the 1929 six months. Current earnings were reported by the president to be running at about the same level as that obtaining in the first six months of the year.

Auto-Lite Net Earnings Told

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Electric Auto-Lite Company reported today net profits for nine months ended September 30 of $5,456,459 after depreciation and interest, but before extraordinary charges, profit sharing and Federal taxes.

Earnings after provision for taxes, extraordinary charges and preferred dividends, were equivalent to $4.51 a share on 926,515 common shares, which is the balance outstanding, excluding 32,300 shares in the company's treasury, C. O. Mininger, president, stated. "Third-quarter profits were equivalent to $1.50 a common share, and our estimate for the fourth quarter indicates profits between $1.25 and $1.50 a share on this stock," he said.

EDISON PROFITS TO EQUAL 1929

Miller Predicts Earnings of $3.44 a Share in Year

Net Based on Larger Capital and Lower Power Rate

Operating Efficiency Offsets Decreased Revenues

Southern California Edison Company, Ltd., will earn at least $3.44 a share this year, the same as in 1929, despite the additional common stock issued through stockholders' rights and an increase of $345,000 in taxes, John B. Miller, chairman of the board, predicted yesterday.

Gross revenues, which in the first nine months amounted to $30,821,616, a gain of 3 per cent over the similar period last year, will aggregate $41,800,000 for the full year to show an increase of 2½ per cent over 1929, notwithstanding the voluntary lower rates that have been in effect since the beginning of the year, Mr. Miller estimated.

Moreover, operating efficiencies have been maintained with the result that net operating earnings will show an increase for the year of 5½ per cent.

BUSINESS GROWS

New business contracted to date compares favorably with the banner year 1929, and shows a substantial increase over 1928, he said.

Based on actual figures for the first ten months this year new business contracted for in 1930 will consume 338,000 additional horsepower, according to Mr. Miller. This will compare with 364,000 additional horsepower added for new business last year and 203,000 horsepower added in 1928.

CUSTOMERS ADDED

While energy consumption per horsepower has been a little below normal this year, the reduction has been more than covered by the new business connected and the company will start the year 1931 with a highly diversified connected load of more than 2,500,000 horsepower. The company will add 25,000 new consumers during the current year, he stated.

Net earnings available for dividends after all charges excepting depreciation for the nine months ended September 30, last, amounted to $15,394,853.69, against $15,253,221, for the same period last year, an increase of $141,631.77.

Net operating earnings, after deduction of operating expenses and taxes for the nine months amounted to $30,879,580.55, as compared with $30,216,518.94 a year ago, an increase of $463,061.61, or 2 per cent.

NET INCOME OF PACIFIC BELL GAINS

Increase in September Over 1929 Month Given as 26.9 Per Cent

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and its associated companies yesterday reported gross earnings of $8,977,908 for September, as compared with $8,538,155 for the same month last year, an increase of $440,743, or 5.2 per cent.

Net earnings after all charges for the month were $1,372,216, as against $1,238,189 for the 1929 period, a gain of $334,027, or 26.9 per cent. The increases over September, 1929, in gross and net earnings were attributed largely to the addition of telephones during the year.

The September gross earnings this year were $68,892 below the $9,046,800 reported for the preceding month, while the net earnings were $52,796 under the $1,625,012 net shown in August this year.

For the first nine months of this year, total operating revenues amounted to $79,421,348, as against $75,394,644 in the corresponding 1929 period, a gain of $4,026,704, or 5.3 per cent. Undivided profits after interest and dividend requirements for the period totaled $1,165,452, or a decrease of $1,877,772 as compared with the first nine months of last year, according to the report.

North American Utility Net Off

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—North American Light and Power Company and subsidiaries reported today consolidated net profits for twelve months ended September 30, last, of $5,393,630 after all charges including subsidiary preferred dividends and taxes, equal after preferred dividends to $2.85 a share on 1,489,379 average common shares outstanding.

Consolidated net profits for the same period a year ago amounted to $3,973,731 or $3.04 a share on 968,747 average common shares then outstanding. Gross for the year amounted to $47,020,851, against $45,037,936 a year ago.

Finance Concern Earnings Drop

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Commercial Credit Company and subsidiaries for the quarter ended September 30, last, in a report issued today showed profits of $1,117,928 after taxes, equal after minority interest and all preferred dividends to 53 cents a share on the average common shares outstanding during the period, as against $1,965,225 or $1.39 a share in the 1929 period.

Nine months' profits totaled $3,389,589 after Federal taxes, equal after minority interest and preferred dividends to $1.63 a common share, as against $4,902,179 or $3.73 a share a year ago.

AUTO GAS IMPORTS MENACE

Flood From Foreign Fields Held Responsible for Demoralized Market on East Coast

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—There has been much complaint recently regarding the vast amount of gasoline entering the eastern seaboard of the United States from Venezuela, causing a demoralization of the prices in the retail field.

The Dutch Shell is supreme in Venezuela today. It has one of the largest refineries in the world there and Venezuela oil production is now the second largest in the world.

"Unless something is done to protect American oil, overproduction will ruin us," said a big oil operator to me yesterday. "As a matter of fact, we are being drowned with the imports of foreign oil, especially from Venezuela and Colombia.

"You have mentioned from time to time the necessity of a tariff on copper to prevent foreign coppers from coming in to demoralize the purely American copper industry," he added. "Let me say that there's just as urgent need for a duty on oil imports as there is on copper. Ask any operator on the eastern seaboard and see what he says."

And there is plenty of truth in the observation.

One business observer made the point recently that if the merchants throughout the country would buy more stock themselves, instead of asking the general public to buy more goods at retail, they would find the public responding.

This, in itself, would scarcely meet the problem. The raw material prices have been receding right along. Naturally, merchants hesitate about buying any great amount of goods because the profits are usually absorbed in the lower price level.

It is true that raw material prices have been moving down much faster than the price of manufactured goods, or the goods at retail. But now, with inventories of manufactured goods very low, it would seem as if the large inventories of raw materials should be absorbed relatively faster than has been the case during the last twelve months. This situation, itself, should be a basis for optimism, not pessimism.

At the risk of being wearisome, let us repeat again this observation—one that I have mentioned time and again in this column: Business conditions will not improve until the commodity price level is stabilized at some definite figure.

Just how this will be accomplished remains in doubt, but it must be brought about before there's any great improvement in business. Every student of business knows this.

Build superhighways now and provide work for "millions of people over a long term of years," suggests John J. Raskob.

Mr. Raskob is a big business leader. He has made an outstanding success in the automobile field. He believes that building superhighways now would build up further industries to take care of "an annual automobile demand of 7,000,000 or 8,000,000 motor cars, requiring the production of countless millions of dollars in materials of every kind, with consequently more stable conditions."

The Raskob plan would call for the elimination of all grade crossings, thus preventing any possibility of a transportation glut in the future.

Edward H. Harriman

...Railroad empire builder, banker, heroic figure of finance and industry.

He made management pay Dividends

Master of finance and a dominant figure in Wall Street during his lifetime, Edward H. Harriman occupied a position unique in the annals of big business. An almost uncanny faculty of management enabled him to rebuild bankrupt railroads and turn them into immensely profitable, dividend-paying properties.

Back of his manifold interests in leading banks, railroads, insurance companies and other large enterprises loomed his strongest fortress—the UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD which became, under his able guidance, one of the nation's richest corporations.

The management policies which he inaugurated are today largely responsible for the successful operation of the UNION PACIFIC and ILLINOIS CENTRAL Railroad Companies which, together with 48 other corporations, are represented in the portfolio of common stocks which comprise—

DIVERSIFIED TRUSTEE SHARES

Series C

A Cross Section of America's Greatest Industries

This sound fixed investment trust offers many desirable investment features. It includes the common stocks of twelve "Billion-Dollar Corporations" and 38 others which, collectively, serve the entire nation. All are engaged in basic industries. Nine of the companies represented have shown ten-fold increases in the value of their stocks within a period of twenty years or less.

Folder "E" and circular giving further interesting details will be mailed upon request.

Created and distributed by the oldest fixed investment trust organization

(1) Participating ownership in the common stocks of 50 great corporations, widely diversified geographically and industrially.

(2) All underlying securities are listed, hence are readily marketable.

(3) Better-than-average dividend income. Stock dividends and split-ups retained, except in odd or fractional amounts, thus accelerating growth of principal.

(4) All management charges and Trustee's fees with respect to these certificates are payable by the Depositor.

(5) Reinvestment of dividends may be made at the bid price.

(6) Conversion into deposited stocks may be made by owners of 800 shares or multiples. Any number of shares less than 800 may be converted into cash. No redemption fee is charged in such conversions.

FOREMAN-STATE TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, Chicago, Trustee

SELECTED SHARES CORPORATION, Depositor

Certificates are issued in coupon form, in denominations of 10, 25, 50, 100, 250, 500 and 1,000 shares. The trust terminates on July 1, 1950. Dividends payable semi-annually on January 1 and July 1 of each year. Coupons payable at the office of the Trustee, Chicago, through the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, N. Y., or at any other designated paying agency in the United States or in foreign countries.

SELECTED INCOME SHARES represent an ownership interest in the following "unit" of common stocks, accumulated dividends and a Reserve Fund in cash. The stocks, dividends, cash and all other property are held in trust by The Foreman-State Trust and Savings Bank, Trustee. Each SELECTED INCOME SHARE represents 1/2500th of a complete "unit" of deposited property. The initial "unit" deposited with the Trustee is described as follows:

A Profit-Taking Trust—SELECTED INCOME SHARES while definitely of the Fixed Type, differs from the usual Fixed Trust in that it has been so set up as to: (1) Maintain the original balance from year to year; (2) Realize and pay back profits to the investor as the underlying stocks increase in value; and (3) Reduce possibility of loss from stocks which might turn out less profitably than anticipated.

A "Base Value" has been assigned to the investment in each stock. Once every six months the Trustee figures the then current value of the shares of stock in the Units. If the Units have appreciated over their Base Value, then the Trustee sells the net profits and pays the entire proceeds to the investor on January 1 and July 1. In this way the original balance is maintained and the investor gets his profits as they occur. New stock received from stock dividends and split-ups is retained in this trust. Only fractional shares which are received in this manner are sold.

Yield—All earnings of the underlying securities are paid to owners of SELECTED INCOME SHARES semi-annually on January 1 and July 1. These earnings include:

1. Cash dividends on the underlying stocks
2. Proceeds from the sale of rights
3. Proceeds from the sale of fractional shares
4. Interest on Reserve Fund
5. Interest on Accumulated Dividends
6. Profits realized

If SELECTED INCOME SHARES had been similarly set up in 1921, they would have paid an average annual dividend of $2.36 a share up to December 31, 1929. This is 21.45% per year on the average annual value of a share throughout the period. If the trust had been set up January 2, 1930, it would have paid $1.55 a share on July 1, 1930.

Reinvestment Rights—Rights coupons for the full period of the trust are attached to the Certificates for SELECTED INCOME SHARES. These coupons entitle the shareholder to such rights as may be declared from time to time, such as the reinvestment of semi-annual dividends in further shares at advantageous prices.

No Substitutions—No substitutions may be made in the underlying stocks either by the trustee or the Depositor, except in case of merger, consolidation, reorganization, or similiar corporate changes.

Eliminations—This Trust Not Only Takes Its Profits As They Occur; It Also Reduces the Possibility of Losses by a carefully worked out system of eliminations. All the stocks in the portfolio are high grade investments with bright futures. However, if some unforeseen development makes one of these stocks less attractive than it is now, it may be eliminated. The proceeds from the sale of such stocks must then be paid in full to the shareholder. The circumstances under which a stock may be eliminated are fully described in the Trust Agreement.

Reserve Fund—A minimum dividend of 60c per share per year is provided by the Trust Agreement. This dividend is protected by a Reserve Fund of $1.250 a Unit. Interest at the regular Chicago Clearing House Rate is paid to the shareholders on this Reserve Fund as well as on all Accumulated Dividends.

Should earnings of the underlying stocks fall below 30c per share during any six-month period, the Reserve Fund would be used to supply the deficiency and would be replenished in a later period when earnings exceeded the minimum dividend.

Market—SELECTED INCOME SHARES are listed on the Chicago Curb Exchange. These shares are also actively traded over-the-counter by many banks, brokerage houses, and other financial institutions. A bid price is maintained by the sponsors at a figure somewhat above the proportionate value of the deposited stocks, together with accumulated dividends, profits and cash reserve.

Conversion—Certificates representing any number of SELECTED INCOME SHARES may be converted through the Trustee into either the proportionate amount of underlying stocks and cash, or into the proportionate cash value thereof.

The above is subject to a more complete description as set forth in the Circular of the Trust. Legal matters incident to the creation of this Trust have been approved by Messrs. Pappenhusen, Johnston, Thompson, and Cole—Chicago. Audits to be made by James O. McKinsey & Co.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—Heavy selling of the utilities depressed active curb market issues 1 to 6 points today. The day's transactions aggregated 625,400 shares, the largest in a fortnight.

Electric Bond & Share was sold in large volume, declining nearly 5 points to 46¾, a new low. It penetrated for the first time the level of 50, where it met support in the decline of a year ago. American Superpower was carried down about 2 points to a new bottom at 12⅝. American Gas & Electric dropped 6 points.

Duke Power dropped 9¾ to a new low at 123¼. Natural gas issues also declined.

Industrials were only moderately active. Technicolor, which sold earlier in the year at high as 26½, dropped 3 points to 6, then rallied to 9. Newmont Mining declined 2½ to 53½, another bottom level. Gulf Oil dropped 3 points to a new low at 77¼. Cities Service lost only ¾.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

Natural Gas Uses Are Legion

...ever-increasing uses to which natural gas is being put in constantly enlarging areas of the United States constitutes one of the major economic trends in our national life. In the manufacture of steel, in the generation of electric power, in household requirements, in the operation of refineries, the making of glassware, chemicals and ceramics, just to mention a few of its uses, it is of first importance.

A growing realization of its superiority as a fuel has already been evidenced in the construction of a vast network of pipe lines. And thousands of miles more are being laid to connect with new markets. In all this there is a close parallel with the electric power and light industry of a decade ago. Pipe lines are being interconnected to form "super-gas" systems just as transmission lines were interconnected to form "super-power" systems.

The stability of the natural gas industry is assured by the wide diversity of demand. Rapid future growth is assured by the fact that a great number of cities and communities not now enjoying natural gas soon will be reached by the pipe lines now planned or under construction.

Appalachian Gas Corporation

The eight growing companies in the Appalachian Gas Corporation group are so located as to derive the maximum benefits from proximity to sources of supply and potential markets. The areas of production or distribution take in parts of Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Texas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana. Through hundreds of miles of pipe lines it supplies large public utility and industrial corporations under long term contracts.

Circulars describing the securities of this Corporation will be sent upon request.

United States Steel's low of the day was 141 3-4—a minimum, in fact, since 1928—but it rallied to close at 142¼, off 3½, and carried the rest of the market generally up from the bottom. American Telephone sagged to 192, finishing 3-8 above that quotation, also for a net loss of 3½.

Other stocks closing about 3 points lower included American Can, Bethlehem Steel, Westinghouse and Union Carbide. Allied Chemical lost 7, Eastman Kodak 9½ and North American 6.

Irregularity prevailed in the foreign exchanges.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Receipts were moderate for the midweek session with a few loads arriving around noon. Trade was not very snappy, but the sellaward movement during the forenoon included bulk of available offerings, including over 400 head of steers. Little change was noticeable in prices.

Load of 851-pound California steers on the city top, topped at 8.25, with a part load of slightly plainer kinds at 8.00. Two loads and a small lot of 1009 to 1106-pound intermountain steers brought 7.75 and 7.85. Two loads of California steers, averaging 758 to 1113 pounds scored 7.50@7.75. Three loads of arriving Imperial Mexican steers cashed at 6.65@6.75, and another part load brought 6.25. A load of 913-pound Utah steers on the yearling order went to a feeder at 7.25, with other light steers at 6.50@6.90 to feeders.

A small lot of medium to prime-sood heifers were taken at 6.25@7.00 and odd head of fairly good cows brought 5.75@6.00. Bulk of common to medium cows turned at 4.50@5.50, with a couple of loads of feeder cows at 4.25@4.75. Low cutters and cutters bulked at 2.50@4.25. A few good weighty bulls brought 5.75@6.00, with medium kinds at 4.00@5.50.

CALVES—Fresh arrivals were in small numbers and 178 head of holdovers were moving at about steady prices. A few head of native milk veales brought 10.00@13.00 and were medium to choice quality. A few loads and odd lots of southwestern calves went to killers and feeders at 7.00@8.00, with common kinds down to 6.00 and below.

HOGS—Offerings of nearly three loads sold in good season, but had to go at weak to 10c lower prices. A load of 162-pound Nebraska butchers topped at 10.60 and two short loads of 190 to 245-pound Texas butchers brought 10.25@10.40. A few lots of 210 to 220-pound local and long haul 10.25. Some 407-pound Texas packing sows brought 9.00, with 316-pound local fed packing sows at 8.75.

SHEEP—No fresh offerings were available and trade was slow on around 4000 head of holdover lambs. They finally changed hands at about steady rates with bulky decks of medium to good 70-pound Idaho making 7.00 and a deck of 67-pound feeders going out at 6.35. Choice lambs are quoted to 8.25 and medium to choice ewes quoted 3.00@4.00.

What type of trust is Nation-Wide Securities?

Flexible.

It is fixed to the extent that no new security may be added to the portfolio.

It is flexible to the extent that any may be eliminated whenever it is considered unsound.

This trust is based on the soundest investment principles.

CALVIN BULLOCK

We prove our self-confidence!

UNLESS A MAN HAS CONFIDENCE IN HIMSELF . . why should YOU trust him . . and that characteristic of self-confidence . . is proved by the unlimited liability, pro-rata . . back of $3,400,000 paid-in capital, surplus and reserve . . of the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA.

We take this responsibility seriously, among neighbors and friends whose life's savings are intrusted to us, after knowing each officer and director for 37½ years in Pomona Valley. Our OWN savings and fortunes go FIRST, if this management makes any mistakes for the MUTUAL.

WE HIDE BEHIND NO HOLDING COMPANY . . or any other modern form of evading personal responsibility . . and that is probably why the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA . . holds three State records . . for per capita accounts, percentage of population having accounts . . and is the only building and loan association to be the largest financial institution of its community.

Economy and conservatism are no mere advertising phrases, as your examination of 37½ years official records will SHOW you.

10th floor offices in Los Angeles are in keeping with these ideals. You get six per cent with SAFETY in any well-conducted building and loan association. Here is a management which can easily be cross-checked to your satisfaction.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (Exclusive)—Crude rubber prices in the outside market held their own today. The volume of dealings was small and price changes were confined to unusually narrow ranges. Spot and futures were alike unchanged on the day. Trading abroad was quiet with London closing unchanged but barely steady.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Earl's, Hollywood Boulevard near Highland—"Let's Go Native." Stuff and nonsense and Jack Oakie.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"A Devil With Women." Opens today.

California, Main and Eighth—"Mr. Wu." A very good version of an old program with the Spanish artist, Ernesto Vilches.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Just Imagine," a fantasy and simply swell. El Brendel and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"The Big Trail." Spectacular in setting and photography, production demonstrates the power and sweep of Grandeur film.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Billy the Kid." An exciting series of escapes in, furnished by the large film. John Mack Brown.

Fiesuras, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Douglas Boys." Buster Keaton's latest and its funny.

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"Because I Loved You"—A German musicale which means lots and lots of music.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Old English." George Arliss, the master trickster, with a beard.

Low's State, Broadway at Seventh—"What's in a Sailor?" Opens today.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"The Spoilers." Zane Grey's story is still good. Gary Cooper.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"Madame Satan." De Mille's hokum tries to hook 'em. Kay Johnson.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Derelict."

Rita, Wilshire at La Brea—"Hoosh Up."

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Today." Opens today.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Check and Double Check." Amos 'n' Andy bring their droll talk to the screen in an efficient and humorous vehicle.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"What a Widow." A silly something not exactly worthy of Gloria Swanson.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"Monte Carlo."

United Artists, Broadway near Ninth—"Du Barry, Woman of Passion." Norma Talmadge in a rather quiet portrait of a spectacular favorite.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Life of the Party."

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"The Life of the Party." A lot of merriment in popular order and Wilson the Lightner.

Wilshire, 8440 Wilshire Boulevard—"The Fall of Paris." Maurice de Canonge's offer to it which doesn't mean its good.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"Young Sinners." More of youth; wild doings which should prove good entertainment.

Biltmore, 5th near Grand—"New Moon." Romberg's lovely music and the spirit of adventure pervade this operetta which presents Mary Ashcam.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd., nr. Highland—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." Charlotte Greenwood strides onto the stage and the best matters not at all. Destined for a healthy and wealthy run.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Mister Antonio." The Italian tenor, Leo Carrillo returns in an ancient vehicle that creaks.

Mason—Broadway near 1st—"Women Who Take." A dramatic conflict of marital conditions in which Irene Rich acquits herself creditably.

Music Box, Hollywood Blvd., nr. Gower—"The Apple Cart." George Bernard Shaw's prediction of the future is ably portrayed by Alan Mowbray and fellow-actors.

Vine St., Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"My Girl Friday." A fast and funny farce about the business man at play. With John T. Murray.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

TOPSY AND EVA STOCK ATTACKED

Duncan Sisters, Inc., Song Scheme Promoter Faces License Inquiry

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5. (Exclusive)—The State Corporation Commission will ask the grand jury next Monday night to indict Paul Corbell for selling stock in "the Duncan Sisters, Inc.," without a State license, it was announced today.

One of the first asserted victims was Nils Asther, motion-picture actor and husband of Vivian Duncan, actress, who said Corbell got him out of bed at the Palace Hotel shortly before he married Vivian and sold him $5000 worth of the stock. Asther said he made out a check for $750 as first payment. Corbell, it is said, represented the company was to promote the work of amateur song writers by having the Duncan sisters "plug" their numbers.

Asther said Corbell intimated the Duncan Sisters—Vivian and Rosita—were interested in the company. According to the State Corporation Commission, Corbell has sold stock to more than 500 persons in amounts from $100 to $5000. The certificates were extremely ornate with pictures of the Duncan Sisters and copious gold lettering.

REEF-TRAPPED SHIP LIBERATED

Charges Taken Off of Point Fermin

Up Twelve Hours Before in Fog

Damaged in Bottom Before Being Freed

Twelve hours after the Grace Line steamer Charges, caught in dense fog, piled up on the reef at Point Fermin at Los Angeles Harbor, the vessel was hauled free at 9:30 o'clock last night by salvage crews of the firm of Chapman & Scott Corporation, assisted by the Wrigley tug Louie Black.

The seven passengers who had been aboard the steamer leaned anxiously on the rails as the Louie Black and the Merritt, Chapman & Scott tugs, Peacock and Homer, pulled their strength and combined weight tug on the hawsers.

The Charges moved. It had been for a time she would never budge, but the skilled salvagers finally outwitted the sea and got the certainly the perilled craft into clear water. The seven passengers shouted joyfully.

It was discovered quickly the vessel was leaking in Nos. 1 and 2 holds, and doubtless had suffered some injuries to its bottom, but the exact extent of the damage will not be known until this morning when she is examined at the Terminal Dock and Wharf company, where she was towed. Salvage praise was given Bob Chapman of the wrecking company for refloating the vessel.

The Charges struck the reef directly between the shore and the outer whistling buoy, at almost the exact spot where the lumber steamer David C. Meyer was wrecked in 1923. The ship's officers declared to discuss the accident yesterday, pending an investigation by the United States Steamboat Inspection Service, but told the salvage crew that an unexpected current had set the vessel inshore.

The Charges is in command of Capt. Robert Caughill, a veteran of many years service, and is manned by a crew of forty. She was due to arrive at daylight yesterday from San Francisco and North Pacific coast ports and was to have sailed late yesterday for Peru and Chile. In addition to seven passengers and a quantity of mail, she has aboard approximately 1,500,000 feet of lumber and 2000 tons of canned goods, mining machinery and general cargo.

She is a steel vessel of 5555 gross tons and of 9000 tons deadweight capacity. She was built as the Wacosta in 1919 at the San Pedro yards of the Southwestern Shipbuilding company for the United States Shipping Board. She was valued at approximately $100,000.

The Charges went on the reef at 7:30 a.m., just past the flood of a high tide, so that the outgoing tide left her bow high on the rocks. The Coast Guard cutters Alert and Unalga, and later the tugs Resolute and Louie Black made unsuccessful attempts to pull her free during the day.

Police Stations' Naming Studied

Because of so many requests from organizations for changes in the names of police stations and the need for designating the stations so they will be easily found the Police Commission yesterday directed Chief Buzzell to take the matter up with business interests and others in the various districts.

The commission signified that it favors stations to be named so that they will indicate the street or locality in the city in which they are located, and that those which already bear this point will remain as at present.

League Opposes Airport Project

Objections to the county leasing 160 acres of land at El Monte for an airport is set forth in a communication from the Municipal League of Los Angeles received yesterday by the Board of Supervisors.

Members of the field recently approved a proposition to the county to turn over the property as a well-equipped A-1-A airport for a period of forty years at a rental of $1,000 a year with an option to purchase the land within the life of the lease for $3,250,000. No action has been taken by the board.

'WHATAMAN' SHIRES GIVEN K.O. BY CUPID

Modest Baseball Player and Recalled Pugilist to Wed at Film Studio

In keeping with his usual bashfulness, Charles Arthur (Whataman) Shires, major-league ball player, recalled pugilist and now motion-picture actor, will be married Monday morning shortly after sunrise on the large sound stage at Universal studios in Universal City.

Announcement of the approaching nuptials was made last night by "The Great" Shires and Miss Elizabeth Greenabaum of 6915 Crandon avenue, Chicago, who admitted that earlier in the afternoon she had signed an agreement to spend the remainder of her life listening to tales of prowess as related by "Whataman."

Details of the ceremony are in an embryonic state, but the couple will reside at 2765 Belden Drive, Hollywoodland, while they await the outcome of Shires's first venture in the canned-talkie world. Shires is under contract to appear in two episodes for Universal, and, as expected, will appear in both as "the world's champion." It is reported that he will win his "movie knockout" as an echo of his attempts some months ago to "take" any and all ball players in the squared circle.

Shires, who has never sidestepped the spotlight, accompanied by his fiancee and her mother, Mrs. A. J. Greenabaum, appeared yesterday to file notice of intention to wed. His first question—he's always first—was anent the possibility of keeping it all a "secret."

Last night, however, he explained in full detail plans for the wedding and winter, including all those that are to follow and also let it be known, clandestinely of course, that the bride's wedding present is to be $1000 in gold. The gold is to be presented by officials at Universal studios.

The bashful bridegroom-to-be, speaking at about ninety words a minute, also said that he has known his future wife more than a year that she is a co-ed at the University of Wisconsin and a graduate

CHEST TEAMS QUICKEN PACE

Percentages Gradually Go to Higher Levels

Campaign Subscription Total Now $1,407,942

Total Showing Behind That of Last Year

Although Community Chest campaign totals to date still are 5 per cent behind those for the same period last year, reports at yesterday's luncheon at the Biltmore showed that team percentages gradually are creeping to higher levels.

In the various districts a substantial number of them have reached the halfway mark, with an encouraging group well up in the higher register of the 70 and 80 per cents, while three have rocketed to 100, 120 and 102 per cent. Fourteen of the thirty central division committees are on the upward side of 50 and others have shown marked gains in that direction during the past twenty-four hours.

For the past day's work $69,804 was subscribed, bringing the campaign total to date to $1,407,942, or 44 per cent of the goal. The central division has reached $1.96 per cent of its total and in the Million Dollar Committee the Ballard men still lead with 58 per cent of their goal and the Chandler team brings up with a score of 38 per cent.

CARDS OUTSTANDING

According to Campaign Chairman Kerr, the greatest difficulty in the way of a better showing for the drive is that in the central division there are still 1785 cards outstanding. In other words, there are 1785 prospective subscribers whose possible contributions represent something in the neighborhood of $750,000, who yet remain unsolicited by central division workers. When these contracts have been made, said Mr. Kerr, an encouraging advance in campaign totals may be expected.

Reports have come from many workers in the various districts and from vice-chairmen that the most hopeful phase of the drive this year is the fact that solicitors are meeting with less opposition among the residents of the city than in any previous campaign. In many instances, they say, it is not an unfriendly attitude toward the Chest which prevents giving, but a plain lack of funds to give.

ADDRESS OF DAY

Following an invocation by Dr. George Davidson, pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church, Dr. Gustav A. Briegleb gave the address of the day.

"There are two all-important requirements for the success of you people who are trying to put this campaign over," he said. "They are conviction and zeal. You must know your task, know the facts concerning the plea you are presenting and then have the conviction to believe that the Community Chest is the finest and best solution to our problems of poverty and charity. Then zeal gives you intensity of life or enthusiasm for the work you are doing and you need a great deal of that for a task of this kind."

Dr. Briegleb also told Chest workers that during the fourteen years of his work in this city, never has he had so many appeals for help and relief of distress as have come to him this year, and on this basis he called for still greater generosity from the more fortunate residents of this community.

Music for the day was supplied by the radio KNX orchestra, directed by Wilbur Hatch.

Fred Woellner will be the chief speaker today. Tomorrow has been designated as the day for the awards of merit to the various divisions and sections of the Chest attaining the highest percentage of their quotas.

DAM REPORT VEIL MAY LIFT

Mysterious Review of San Gabriel Work to Come Up Before Grand Jury Again Today

The mysterious San Gabriel dam report, withheld from publication more than two weeks by the grand jury despite the fact that the survey was made at an approximate cost of $20,000 to the county, will come up for consideration again today when the grand jury goes into session after a week's recess.

The survey was made after open charges had been made that the county had been overcharged approximately $700,000 for the abandoned San Gabriel Dam excavations. Three engineers were then appointed as a committee of experts to survey the excavations and to report back their findings to the grand jury.

Since the report was returned the grand jury has made no attempt to return indictments against anyone concerned in the matter. Meanwhile the members of the jury have stood divided on the question of releasing the report, some members demanding that it be released and others refusing to release it for publication.

With the election closed and political issues settled it is believed possible that the jury today may agree to make the report public.

Bids for Razing Buildings Called

Bids for the demolition of buildings along the line of the north extension of Spring street from Temple street to Sunset Boulevard, the first step in the physical creation of this artery through the Civic Center, were opened yesterday by the Board of Public Works.

Of the eleven bidders, the low, on first analysis, appeared to have been submitted by B. G. Carn at $28,080. All bids were referred to the City Engineer for analysis and recommendation. The successful contractor will be permitted sixty days to do the work.

ANTIFAG GROUP TO MEET

HUSH FALLS ON NOISE FIGHT

Mayor's Abatement Commission Meets in Secret to Outline Soft-Pedal Program

Mayor Porter's noise-abatement commission met yesterday afternoon for the first time, partly organized, and immediately engaged in a conflict with the City Council. The Mayor's commission, behind locked doors, named N. P. Alexander of the Downtown Business Men's Association as chairman, and then requested Councilman Williams to delay his completely drawn antinoise ordinance while the commission pursues its "scientific study."

Williams, when informed of the commission's action, declared that the public hearing called for next Wednesday afternoon upon his ordinance before the Health and Sanitation and the Public Welfare committees will go on as scheduled.

"We have arranged for this hearing," said Williams, "to which the public has been invited to attend, and it will not be canceled. The ordinance I have drawn includes all present city measures concerning noises, as well as some new material, occasioned principally by recent mechanical inventions and devices. The whole matter can be thoroughly discussed in the open with all elements of the city represented, and we hope to evolve a workable ordinance which the Council can pass."

Besides Mr. Alexander, the Mayor's commission includes Frank Kitson, acoustical engineer for the Johns-Manville Company, Gordon E. Nott, Southern California Telephone Company engineer; City Health Officer Parrish, and Mrs. Ella Atchley of the Woman's City Club.

In spite of the cloak of secrecy thrown about the session, it was learned from reliable sources that Mayor Porter outlined a sketch of the proposed work, the aim being to eliminate all unnecessary noises, from the home, from building operations and transportation activities, without, however, needlessly interfering with city life.

Chairman Alexander will call the next meeting, the members to assemble in Dr. Parrish's office, 116 West Temple street. A vice-chairman and secretary will be named at that time. Mayor Porter had a copy of the lengthy and thorough New York City report on noises, which was offered the commission.

BALLYHOO FOR VALENTINO FUNERAL TOLD IN COURT

Rudolph Valentino's funeral in New York was ballyhooed and deliberately made spectacular in order to build up value for his posthumous films and personal estate, it was testified yesterday by S. George Ullman, executor of the estate. He appeared as the first witness in Superior Judge Stephens's court yesterday at the commencement of hearing on a contest over settlement of the estate. Ullman seeks approval of his accounting, which is opposed by Alberto Guglielmo, brother, and Maria Guglielmo Strada, sister of Valentino.

Valentino's funeral on Broadway, with thousands standing in the rain to view the cortege, was worked up for advertising purposes to aid the estate, testified Ullman. He said that he hired 1500 policemen and forty press agents to handle the funeral and publicize it.

Ullman said he was an industrial engineer when he met Valentino in Chicago in 1923 and became the actor's manager. He said that at the time of his death Valentino left liabilities of approximately $500,000 in unsecured debts.

"My! He was a genius in acquiring financial obligations, as well as a genius of the screen!" exclaimed Judge Stephens.

Ullman continued that Valentino owed Joseph Schenck $187,000, had

FILM ACADEMY ISSUES AWARD

Norma Shearer and Arliss Win Acting Honors

Frances Marion and War Picture Praised

Will Hays Guest Speaker at Ambassador

Outstanding performance and distinguished individual achievements in the production of motion pictures during the past year were honored with awards of merit last night at the annual dinner of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences attended by 600 members and guests at the Ambassador.

Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., was the guest-speaker for the event, and he paid high tribute to the creative artists of motion-picture production for their loyalty, devotion, ambition and initiative in the industry.

THE MERIT AWARDS

The merit awards, the results of balloting by the Academy membership, were announced as follows:

Performance by an actress: Norma Shearer for "The Divorcee."

Performance by an actor: George Arliss for "Disraeli."

Writing achievement: Frances Marion for "The Big House."

Outstanding production: "All Quiet on the Western Front," Universal Studios of which Carl Laemmle is head.

Achievement by Director: Lewis Milestone for "All Quiet on the Western Front."

Cinematographic achievement: "With Byrd at the South Pole," to Willard Van Der Veer and Joseph T. Rucker, jointly.

Art direction achievement: Herman Rosse for "King of Jazz."

Sound - recording achievement: "The Big House." Award to the sound department of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

EDISON "ENTERTAINS"

The brilliant gathering of the hundreds of members of the academy and guests in the Fiesta Room was entertained by a sound recording film of Thomas A. Edison, entitled "Artistic and Otherwise," which lauded the industry's progress in the last decade. The famous inventor and George Eastman have been elected to honorary membership in the academy in recognition of their outstanding contributions to the production of motion pictures.

In paying tribute to the winners of the awards Hays asserted they were being honored because "they weren't satisfied with doing a good job; they had to do a better one. Genius does not serve contracts, but inspiration. Men and women who never give more than required have no nodding acquaintance with fame."

Hays pointed out that the awards were being made only to eight persons or organizations, but he said that high standards and high accomplishments in the industry do not belong to eight alone—but that hundreds of others in their contributions to the screen have closely approximated the perfection of the prize-winners.

ARTIST DEFINED

"An artist," he said, "is one who is never for a single instant content with accepted standards, but must work out each problem in accordance with some inner compulsion which bids him do more than is expected of him. An artist is one who works to the theme of inspiration, and not to the click of a time-clock. Nobody with a time-clock soul ever got halfway from scratch.

"Art is eternally a democrat, without class bias or racial prejudice. It has never consulted a social register or a genealogy to determine its judgments. Art does not climb family trees to search for the ripe fruits of genius. It does not care whether the forbears of originality crossed with the Plymouth Puritans, or an Ellis Island contingent. There is no room on the scales with which genius is measured for favoritism or influence. Therefore, history will always remember Nero as a poor fiddler, and Frederick the Great as a second-rate musician. A great artist will always find within his own soul the timbers to build a ladder to the stars."

Hays spoke warmly of the "constructive discontent" of the motion-picture industry, which has caused

FIRST OIL PLANT VENERATED

Plaque Unveiled at State's Old Refinery to Keep Alive Story of Great Industry's Start

Lest California be unmindful of the little beginnings that made it great, the Standard Oil Company stepped to the front yesterday and set up a unique memorial to the humble forerunner of the great oil industry that has brought so much new wealth into the land.

In the presence of more than 300 persons assembled in Railroad Canyon, a half-mile southwest of Newhall, company officials headed by Production Superintendent L. B. Little, dedicated to the industry's origin a restoration of the first refinery in the State. Some of the "boys" who worked there in the late '70's and early '80's were at the ceremony and spun a yarn or two of those stirring times.

Mrs. Rosamond B. Watson, granddaughter of D. G. Scofield, who pioneered in the industry in this State, unveiled a bronze tablet on which are the words:

"California's first oil refinery operated on a commercial scale, erected 1876, restored by the Standard Oil Company of California in 1930 as a memorial to D. G. Scofield and his pioneer associates of the California Star Oil Works Company, a predecessor of the Standard Oil Company of California. In 1875-76 Mr. Scofield and his associates obtained California's first commercial production of crude petroleum in Pico Canyon, six miles northwest of this point, and built this refinery for the manufacture of petroleum products."

Walton Young of Altadena, Clay Reynolds of Newhall, J. H. Whitney of Signal Hill and J. W. Saunders of Long Beach, who worked in the field in the early days, were on hand to see the dedication and say a word to the crowd and take a bow. Little, Sales Manager J. F. Jeffries of Los Angeles district and Supt. H. C. Hanna of the company's El Segundo refinery recited something of the history of the industry.

It was in 1875 that the Star company brought in the first commercial well in Pico Canyon. It yielded the enormous amount of 100 barrels a day. Other wells were brought in, and in the following year a huge pipe line two inches thick, the first

by Harry Carr

IF AL CAPONE gets away unpunished with the insolent challenge he has made to the law, then we are sunk.

The visit of "Legs" Diamond to Europe brought out some wise reflections relative to Chicago in the British newspapers. The Manchester Guardian pointed out that the meaning and purpose of civilization is the repression of violence. And that the unrepressed gang murders of Chicago show a definite failure of civilization—and of democracy. That the only remedy is a worse evil—tyranny.

SHYSTER LAWYERS

The irony is that Al Capone is protected from the law—not so much by his murderous gangmen, but by the constitutional safeguards for which the Anglo-Saxon race fought for valiant centuries. A few smart shyster lawyers have turned the Bill of Rights into a dagger for assassins.

FOREIGN INVASION

There are sections of this country from which the native American has been practically ejected. Parts of New England where you can't find one American name. Boston has become as foreign as New York.

The last time I was in New York I met a distant relative of the Roosevelts who had sold his home, closed his business and was moving out. I asked him where he was going. "I don't know," he said. "I am going on an exploring expedition and see if I can find America."

Without old Numa, the movie lion who died last Monday, life will be more filled with shivers for the human actors. If there is such a thing as a safe wild animal, it was old Numa.

GENE'S MILLION

Gene Tunney seems to have the last laugh, despite his lawsuit. There never will be—and there never has been—any other fighter who will make so much money with so little fighting. Gene picked the cherry out of the cocktail.

WARM HEARTS

For all their little childish peccadillos, Hollywood is a city of warm, generous hearts.

Father Caffrey writes me from the old mission at San Juan Baptista. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Gleason stopped to see this loveliest of the old missions. The next day there came by express a complete kitchen equipment for the priest who "baches" there—and a set of hand-painted dishes. Then came Ann Harding, and she sent back a radio.

THE SPIRIT OF MARIA

I have an idea that San Juan appeals with particular force to these Hollywood actors for a reason.

In the shelter of its walls lies a lonely grave—the grave of the beautiful Maria Antonia Castro, the greatest belle of all California; it was she who was the heroine of David Belasco's "Rose of the Rancho." She completes an old picture of sweetness and charm—the echo of her laughter and the click of her heels lingers in the shadows, and the sunshine seems to glint on the little gold specks where the confetti from the gay cascarones caressed her raven black hair.

Shotgun Murder of Sleeping Woman for $2.20 Pay Confessed

KILLER ASSERTS VICTIM'S EX-HUSBAND HIRED HIM

Accused Former Mate Declared to Have Corroborated to Police Admissions of Slayer

For $2.20 in dimes, Benjamin J. Brown, 27-year-old glass blower, confessed yesterday, he murdered Mrs. Merle Ells, 22, with a shotgun as she slept in bed with her 18-months-old boy at the home of her sister at 323 East Ninth street last Sunday morning, according to Captain of Detectives Davidson.

Brown in a confession which culminated a twelve-hour quizzing by Detective Lieutenants Baggott and Flikas, admitted they said, that he had received this small sum from Emery Ells, former husband of the slain woman, as a "deposit" on the payment of $2000 which he said Ells agreed to pay him for slaying his ex-wife.

EMORY ELLS

Ells, who hitherto had denied knowledge of the murder while held in the City Jail since Sunady broke down completely when faced with his accuser in Capt. Davidson's office at Central Police Station and corroborated Brown's confession in nearly every detail, Davidson said.

"I wanted custody of the boy," he said, according to detectives. "I didn't care what happened to her, and it was the only way I could get him. I offered him two grand for the job. I gave him $2.20 in small change, I think it was all dimes, to sat on until the job was completed."

The meeting of the two men was without emotional expression on the part of either. Brown had been taken into custody shortly after midnight at his home at 2575½ Randolph street, Huntington Park, by Flikas and Baggott. For hours he had submitted to continuous questioning by the detectives and Capt. Davidson. Then, suddenly, he had confessed, and his lengthy statement taken down by a shorthand reporter.

Ells, knowing nothing of the arrest of Brown, had been left alone in his cell in the City Jail.

With his asserted confession typed and signed, Brown had taken the detectives during the morning hours to re-enact the crime, and to direct them to where he had hidden the gloves he had used to prevent leaving fingerprints, the clothes he had worn, and the revolver he had used in a robbery to obtain the automobile in which he drove to and from the scene of the murder. All these articles of evidence, together with the shotgun left beside the slain woman's bed and the flashlight Brown admitted using, were recovered by the detectives and had been placed on a table in Davidson's office. Brown was placed in another room by himself.

HIS HANDS SHOOK

It was then that Ells was taken into Davidson's office. His first glance as he stepped inside ahead of the detectives rested on the pile of evidence. He stopped suddenly with an audible gasp of breath, glanced up quickly to Capt. Davidson standing by his desk and then walked slowly to a chair. As he sat down his hands were shaking.

For perhaps two minutes there was silence. Facing Ells was Capt. Davidson. On either side were Detective Lieutenants Flikas, Baggott and Ryan. The detectives waited. Twice during that ominous pause Ells's eyes wandered to the pile of evidence and turned quickly away again.

Then, quietly, Capt. Davidson pointed to the gloves and flashlight and began his questioning. The door of the captain's office closed. A few moments later it opened again and a shorthand reporter was called.

CORROBORATES STORY

An hour later the door opened again.

"Ells has made a complete confession of the whole thing," Capt. Davidson declared. "His statement corroborates in nearly every detail, except the actual killing, that of Brown."

Brown was then led into Davidson's office. As he was seated in a chair a nod of recognition was all that passed between him and Ells. Both were then given each other's statements to read and, when they had finished, both nodded in agreement, according to Davidson.

Brown's asserted confession of the slaying revealed details of one of the most cold-blooded murders ever recorded here. He told of first meeting Ells six weeks ago.

"I made him think I was a hard guy. I told him I was a machine gunner."

AGREED TO KILL

A week ago, he said in his statement, according to Davidson, Ells told him he could put him in a way to make "two grand," by "getting rid" of the wife of a "friend of his."

"I didn't even know it was his own wife," Brown stated. "He said the wife had a baby that was being ruined by living with her. I didn't want to have anything to do with killing a woman at first, but I was out of dough and so later I agreed to do it. He promised to pay me $2000 when the job was done."

Brown then went on to tell how Ells had taken him to the home of his brother, Alfred Ells, at 8153 Elizabeth street, and provided him with the shotgun, the gloves, flashlight and revolver.

HELD UP AUTOIST

"He told me," Brown declared in his asserted confession, "that I had better use the gloves to prevent leaving any fingerprints and to use the revolver for my own protection afterward.

"Saturday night I took the 'rod' and went out and stuck up a guy and took his car away from him. (Davidson states they learned that Brown held up A. Winchester of 5162 Melrose avenue at 5946 Malibar street, Huntington Park.)

"I drove the car home," Brown continued. "I got the guns and stuff and drove to the house where the woman was staying. Ells had gone out with me a day or so before and pointed out to me and also told me just where she would be sleeping on the porch.

BROWN FAINTED

"I left the car parked in front and walked around to the porch. I had a pass key but the door was open so I just pushed it open. She was lying in bed. My idea was not to hurt the kid. Ells had told me not to hurt the boy. (At this point in his asserted confession Brown fainted. After a few moments he was revived and continued with his statement.)

"So I wanted her to sit up. I said to her, 'Wake up Merle, I want to speak to you outside quick. But she didn't sit up."

"Did she speak to you, say anything?" asked Flikas.

"She just whispered something," Brown went on, "something like 'what's the matter,' or like that.

"You fired the shot then?" queried Flikas.

NERVE FAILS HIM

"No, I lost my nerve. I went back out and got in the car and drove around for a long while. Finally I got calmed down and went back again. I left the car in the same place again and went to the porch. But when I opened the door I again lost my nerve and went back and sat in the car. I got to thinking and decided I'd have to get it done quick so I went back to the porch a third time.

"The door, I opened it and that was that, only one barrel." (Here Brown showed signs of fainting again but recovered after a pause and continued.) "Well, anyhow you know that much of it. I was surprised I didn't make any more noise myself. But I got out. I dropped the gun but he'd onto the flashlight. Then I got back into the car and I drove it just as fast as it would go. Just after I started, about a block away, an officer yelled to me to turn on my lights."

HE HID GLOVES

Brown then went on to say that he drove the car to his home, hid the revolver in his own house and the gloves and part of his clothing in a vacant house adjoining, according to Davidson. Later he said he abandoned the car in Huntington Park, where it was later recovered by officers of that city.

"I went to Emery where he was working in the cafe and told him that the job was done. He said another guy had the money for me. I told him to hurry up and get the cash for me quick, and he said O.K. I gave him the flashlight and revolver."

This flashlight, according to Davidson, is the same one found by Detective Lieutenant Savage in the car of Alfred Ells, brother of the ex-husband. Ells said that he had put it behind a cushion when he drove his brother's car home from the Powell cafe at Slauson and Santa Fe avenues when he finished work Sunday morning, Davidson declared.

TRIO QUESTIONED

The arrest of Brown, which resulted in the sudden unexpected solution of the murder mystery, was made shortly after midnight yesterday by Flikas and Baggott after requestioning of the ex-husband, his brother Alfred and Ralph Moulton, an acquaintance, all held in the City Jail since Sunday.

Brown's name was mentioned, the detectives said, in a list of persons with whom the men admitted they were acquainted. Without having any definite information pointing to Brown as the man they wanted, the detectives went to his home and took him into custody "on the hunch" that he might have had knowledge of some incident to break down the alibi of the ex-husband, who had maintained that he was working all Saturday night and Sunday morning.

AROUSED SUSPICIONS

Brown, they said, was extremely nervous when taken into Central Station, and the first conflicting stories he told at once aroused the suspicions of his interrogators. Choosing a more direct line of questioning the detectives then talked to him hour after hour until, suddenly, they said, he slumped in his chair and confessed.

Following the asserted double confession of the murder plot, an inquest into the killing was conducted by Deputy Coroner Montfort; and on testimony by Detectives Baggott and Savage the jury found Mrs. Ells "died from a gunshot wound in the chest, inflicted by Benjamin F. Brown, he having been hired by E. L. Ells, ex-husband of the deceased, to do the shooting . . . with homicidal intent."

WITNESSES HELD

Two brothers were taken in custody by police last night as material witnesses. Fred S. Powell, 35, proprietor of a cafe at 2411 East Slauson avenue, and Oscar Powell, 38, of 8162 South Elizabeth street. They were booked by Detectives Savage and Pruitt, who say they admit Ells some time ago gave them a box of shells and that they concealed it in an old motor truck in an alley on Gage street, near Slauson avenue. Both Powells were mentioned by Ells several days ago, but until last night they had denied all knowledge of the shells in question.

BABY'S CRIES HEARD

The murder of Mrs. Ells was discovered shortly after dawn Sunday when her 18-month-old son, failing to awaken her, had run crying to the bedroom of Mrs. James Cannon, sister of the dead woman. Police were called. They found that Mrs. Ells had been killed by some one who had stood at the head of the bed and fired as she lay asleep. An old rusty shotgun, showing no fingerprints, was found on the floor. It contained one empty and one loaded shell. The bedclothing and walls were spattered with blood. No one could be found who had heard the shot. The Cannons' bedroom was separated from the glassed-in porch, where Mrs. Ells slept, by several other rooms which, police said, served to prevent them from hearing it. The fact that the child was not awakened at the time was accounted for yesterday when Mrs. Cannon said, the baby had gone to bed in her room and had later got up by himself and gone to his mother's bed. This, police believe, was after Mrs. Ells had been killed.

Ells had but recently been divorced by his wife.

Later Sunday morning Ells and his brother and Moulton were arrested at the brother's home. Ells was held on suspicion of murder and the others as material witnesses.

Following the confessions yesterday Ells and Brown were both booked on a murder charge. The brother and Moulton, Capt. Davidson says, will be released.

The evidence brought out at the inquest amplified by additional testimony probably will be presented to the county grand jury today for action, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson, who is in charge of the case.

DEAF AND DUMB BUT SELLS RUM

Woman Gets Thirty Days in Jail for Filling Order of Police Group

Although deaf and dumb, Mrs. Rosalie Duarte, 47 years of age, of 729 Clara street, was able to understand an order for liquor, police officers testified in Municipal Judge Curtis's court yesterday.

She pleaded guilty to a charge of selling a small jug of whisky to a police operative and was fined $200 and sent to jail for thirty days. In court her daughter, Maria Duarte, acted as interpreter.

LIONS AND NEIGHBORS BOTH ROAR

Police Commission Calls Owner of Two Animals to Offer Some Remedy

On complaint of neighbors against roaring lions, E. N. Snyder, who has two on his premises at 3440 Appleton street, yesterday was cited by the Police Commission to appear before it next Tuesday to see why his permit to have them in the city limits should not be revoked. The action was taken on motion of Commissioner Drake, who suggested that Snyder take the animals before the commission to decide as to their ferocity.

The petition, signed by A. V. Lockwood, 3823 Glen Felis Boulevard; Francis C. Beckley, 3830 Glen Felis Boulevard; H. L. King, 3815 Glen Felis Boulevard; J. Walter Cline, 3819 Glen Felis Boulevard, and W. G. Davis, holds that the lions disturb the peace of the neighborhood and are a menace.

Chief Investigator Carter explained that Snyder uses the animals to earn a living on the stage, is here but three weeks in the year and is leaving soon on a nine-months trip with the lions.

One is a 9-months-old cub, Carter stated, and the other is a lioness which roars its objection each morning when a motorcycle officer starts his machine.

Carter said his investigation disclosed that the petitioners live more than a block away, while children of nearer neighbors play with the animals, finding them tame and friendly.

STAFFORD DISMISSAL PLEA FAILS

Court Refuses Request Despite Girl Accuser's Unwillingness to Appear

Dismissal of an assault charge against Clayton C. Stafford, El Monte grain merchant, was refused without prejudice yesterday by Superior Judge Schauer. The motion for dismissal was made by David H. Clark, deputy District Attorney, on the ground that Miss Rae Schade, the complaining witness, is now in Utah and declines to return to California to prosecute the case.

In declining to dismiss the case Judge Schauer pointed out that if Stafford committed the crime charged, Miss Schade should return to California and testify in the case. He added that if the defendant is not guilty of the crime as charged Miss Schade has even a greater obligation and should appear in court and tell her story.

With this thought in mind Judge Schauer referred the matter back to the grand jury for consideration and deferred the hearing on the dismissal motion until the 19th inst.

Stafford was once tried and convicted of the assault charge, but won a new trial by appealing the case to the Supreme Court through his attorney, Charles Ostrom.

Throughout his trial the defendant maintained that he is innocent of the crime and the victim of a frame-up.

STECKEL'S JOB PERMANENT

$500 a month salary, similar to that which Steckel has been receiving since he resigned as deputy chief to take the emergency appointment. The difference is, however, that now his service counts toward the twenty-year period after which he is entitled to receive a pension, whereas, when he resigned a s deputy chief this service time was suspended. He has about eight months to serve to complete twenty years on the force.

The commission yesterday had planned, following the appointment, to take up Chief Steckel's plan for reorganization of the department, but it was decided that this will be a special order of business later.

ROBBERY TOTAL BOOSTED AGAIN

Total for First Four Days of Month Thirty-Eight

Burglaries Also Show Gains Over Previous Period

Thieves in Raid Get Furs Valued at $6250

Four more robberies yesterday morning brought the total for the first four days this month to thirty-eight, an increase of twenty-six over the same period last month. Burglaries leaped from fifty-four last month to seventy-three.

Foremost in the list of more than a score of burglaries reported yesterday was that perpetrated in the apartment of Mrs. Paulina Ratz-Kowuski, apartment-house owner, at 2933 West Eighth street. Mrs. Ratz-fecting entrance with a pass-key, obtained $6250 worth of furs, after ransacking her apartment.

Still declining to confine their activities to streets and highways the home bandits, who according to police reports have, garnered more than $100,000 worth of valuables in the last two months, appeared Tuesday night at the home of J. H. Cox at 481 East Forty-first street. Cox was bound and gagged with neckties and left in his bedroom. The bandits got only $20 in cash.

Other robberies reported were: R. R. Jones in the De Luxe Cafe at 715 West Eighth street, robbed by two bandits of $17; Robert E. Millasch held up in front of his home at 1382 North Ridgewood Drive and robbed of $26; and A. C. Martin held up in his cafe at 4442 York Boulevard by a bandit and robbed of $25.

Pajamas valued at $900 were taken from the locked automobile of N. C. Credis, salesman, of 1316 South Highland avenue, according to another report. Thieves broke a hole in the roof of the car, Credis said, while it was parked in front of 1363 South Kensington Road.

general debts totaling $236,000, and owed Cinema Film Corporation $106,000.

At the time he was named executor, said Ullman, he held an auction which netted $96,000. His attorney, Leonard H. Wilson, told the court that the value of the possessions sold was $16,000. Ullman added that he held the body for six days in conflict with the New York funeral laws, in order that the brother from Italy might view the dead actor.

"Guglielmo's first words on reaching New York were, 'What is the estate worth?'" testified Ullman.

He spent the day in identifying papers and accounts connected with the estate. The hearing will be lengthy.

Neither Guglielmo nor his sister was in court yesterday. Ullman's accounting for which he asks approval, shows a value of the estate at approximately $100,000. The dead actor's kin contended that the amount should be nearer $1,000,000. They accuse Ullman of mismanagement, misappropriation and attempted fraud.

Attorneys Wilson and Dwight Stephenson represent Ullman, Attorneys James O. Scarborough, Jr., and William M. Bowen represent Maria Strada, and Attorney W. D. Mann represents Guglielmo.

FIRST REFINERY SITE MARKED

in California, conducted the oil by gravity from California's first oil field to California's first refinery. The refinery took the crude petroleum and turned out 150 to 300 barrels a day of coal oil and a few other products. It was the beginning of an industry which the wildest dreamer of that day did not envision.

Today a single California well can produce as much as 13,000 barrels a day and there is a total refinery capacity of 800,000 to 900,000 barrels a day. The Standard's El Segundo plant has a 100,000-barrel-a-day capacity.

So, to prevent the first refinery from passing beyond the memory of man, the Standard restored it from ruins and yesterday it was dedicated. Signs on the inland route point to the near-by memorial. It stands sheltered by ancient oaks in a canyon that Supervisor Wright said ought to be made into a county park.

And six miles away the old Star well, "daddy of 'em all" in California, still chugs away and yields its quarter of a barrel of oil a day just for old-time's sake. It and the restored refinery are believed to be the only historic memorials to the oil industry in the United States.

STOCKHOLDERS' PLEA DECIDED

Brokers Not Named in Julian Complaint Win Fight

Sixteen, However, Must Go on With Fund Action

Appellate Court Tells Why It Renders Decision

Temporary restraining orders preventing Superior Judge Tappaan from hearing proceedings against members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange in a Julian Petroleum Corporation stockholders' $12,000,000 recovery suit were made permanent yesterday by Division Two, District Court of Appeal, in so far as those not named in the complaint are concerned.

The decision, written by Justice Schmidt, pro tem, and concurred in by Acting Presiding Justice Craig and Associate Justice Thompson, denied the writ in so far as the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, as such, and the respective individuals named in the complaint and summons are concerned.

SIXTEEN REMAIN

Reference to the summons and complaint shows that the opinion leaves sixteen stock exchange members as defendants, besides the exchange itself, and removes forty-six members from the action.

The decision states that a summons and complaint served on individuals not named in the summons or complaint is not in harmony with basic laws. The most that can be said, the opinion recites, is that the person served is informed that an action is pending against an association of which he may or may not be, in fact, a member at the time of the service of the summons.

Extra-official, or casual, notice is not sufficient, the opinion declares, stating that the law must require notice and an opportunity to be heard. Neither real nor reasonable notice is provided, the court holds, by procedure followed in the case of those not named in the complaint, but served, nevertheless.

FOUR APPEALS

The decision was rendered on four appeals, which were consolidated by stipulation. One of the appeals was by J. Earl Jardine, as president of the exchange. Another was by twenty members of the exchange, another by thirty-six members, and the fourth by six members.

Those members named in the complaint and who, by yesterday's decision, lost their appeal, are Clark Downer, S. H. Ells, C. W. Finnegan, F. P. Graves, E. G. Hay, A. L. Jameson, A. W. Morris, L. F. Parsons, M. S. Walker, T. C. Welch, P. J. Marasche and Robert R. Burns. The decision was not concerned with the liability, if any, of any of the brokers.

Whether liability of any character exists, what the rights and duties are between the exchange and its members and like questions, the court points out, are matters of fact to be determined by the trial court.

PLEDGE ON JOBS MADE BY PORTER

Mayor Tells City Club of Intention to Give "Edge" to Actual Residents

That the various departments of the Los Angeles city government, in employing men for many projects now under way or soon to be started, will favor bona fide citizens, is the assurance given by Mayor Porter in an address yesterday at the City Club at a meeting conducted under the auspices of that club and of the League of Women Voters.

Mayor Porter said that the harbor department now is employing 235 men and that the new breakwater, to be started soon, will furnish work for about 400 men.

"The Board of Public Works and all city departments are cutting red tape, wherever possible, in order to give work to the unemployed," said Mayor Porter.

"Fire Chief Scott informs me that about 100 men are to be employed in firebreak work within the near future. The playground department's construction of the new $40,000 swimming pool will provide work for many men. More than 800 men now are at work along the aqueduct in Mono Basin and in the water department's expansion program in Los Angeles. The Park Department now is planning to provide employment for at least 150 men during the winter months."

The need for a municipal lodging house as a means of partly relieving the distress caused by unemployment was voiced by Miss Dorothy Wysor, head of the Family Welfare Association of the Community Chest, and by Dr. George B. Mangold of the department of sociology at University of Southern California.

Other speakers included Dr. Arthur H. Briggs, chairman of the meeting; Mrs. O. S. Barnum, president of the League of Women Voters, and J. W. Buzzell, secretary of the Central Labor Council.

Sculptor's Loss of Studio, One Newsreel Item

Eviction of George Grey Barnard, world-famous sculptor, from his studio at the base of God's Thumb, rocky promontory on the Hudson, is one of the interesting subjects pictorially displayed in the current number of The Times-Universal Newsreel shown in Southern California theaters. He has been compelled to give up the studio and the plans for the $600,000 Arch of Peace that was to have adorned part of a park given by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to the poor of New York.

Graham McNamee, talking reporter, describes the episodes as well as the other pictures in the program.

Additional information concerning this schedule can be had by calling REpublic 3171 and asking about Newsreel No. 88.

Neither real nor reasonable notice is provided, the court holds, by procedure followed in the case of those not named in the "complaint, but served, nevertheless.

FOUR APPEALS

The decision was rendered on four appeals, which were consolidated by stipulation. One of the appeals was by J. Rust Jardine, as president of the exchange. Another was by twenty members of the exchange, another by thirty-six members, and a fourth by six members.

Those members named in the complaint and who, by yesterday's decision, lost their appeal, are Frank Downer, S. H. Ellis, C. W. Hodgson, F. P. Graves, E. G. Hay, A. L. Johnson, A. W. Morris, L. F. Pennell, M. S. Walker, T. C. Welch, P. J. Maraschc and Robert E. Burns. The decision was not concerned with the liability, if any, of any of the parties.

Whether liability of any character exists, what the rights and duties as between the exchange and its members and like questions, the court points out, are matters of fact to be determined by the trial court.

PLEDGE ON JOBS MADE BY PORTER

Mayor Tells City Club of Intention to Give "Edge" to Actual Residents

That the various departments of the Los Angeles city government, in employing men for many projects now under way or soon to be started, will favor bona fide citizens, is the assurance given by Mayor Porter in an address yesterday at the City Club at a meeting conducted under the auspices of that club and of the League of Women Voters.

Mayor Porter said that the harbor department now is employing 200 men and that the new breakwater, to be started soon, will furnish work for about 400 men.

"The Board of Public Works and all the departments are cutting red tape wherever possible, in order to get work to the unemployed," said Mayor Porter.

"Fire Chief Scott informs me that about 100 men are to be employed in firebreak work within the near future. The playground department, construction of the new $40,-000 swimming pool will provide work for many men. More than 500 men now are at work along the aqueduct in Mono Basin and in the water department's expansion program in Los Angeles. The Park Department now is planning to provide employment for at least 100 men during the winter months."

The need for a municipal lodging house as a means of partly relieving the distress caused by unemployment was voiced by Miss Dorothy Kahn, head of the Family Welfare division of the Community Chest, and by Dr. George B. Mangold of the department of sociology at University of Southern California.

Other speakers included Dr. Arthur H. Briggs, chairman of the meeting; Mrs. O. S. Barnum, president of the League of Women Voters, and J. W. Bussell, secretary of the Central Labor Council.

Sculptor's Loss of Studio, One Newsreel Item

Destruction of George Grey Barnard, world-famous sculptor, from his studio at the base of God's Throne, rocky promontory on the Palisades, is one of the interesting subjects pictorially displayed in the current number of The Times-Universal Newsreel shown in Southern California theaters. He has been compelled to give up the studio and the plans for the $600,000 Arch of Peace that was to have adorned Fort Thumb, because the land is part of a park given by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to the poor of New York.

Graham McNamee, talking reporter, describes the episodes as well as the other pictures in the program.

Additional information concerning this schedule can be had by calling REpublic 3171 and asking for Newsreel No. 82.

TOUR OF WORLD QUICKLY ENDS

Trio of Schoolboys Caught In Railway Yards Here and Detained

One for all and all for one, like the Three Musketeers, three 14-year-old boys of West Los Angeles started on a trip around the world. With but $1.40 left out of an original $2, they got as far as the Santa Fe Railway yards here where they were picked up yesterday morning by Officer Gregg and turned over to juvenile authorities.

The lads gave their names as Allan Post of 11603 Le Grange street, Ernest Schaub of 1226 South Westgate, and Jack Dunlap of 11615 Le Grange street.

After leaving for school Tuesday morning the boys stated they met at an appointed rendezvous, planned the round the world trip, and then walked into the city.

JOBS TO AID IDLE LISTED BY MAYOR

Prospective Construction of City Helps Residents Only, Says Porter

A survey and report on the employment situation was issued yesterday by Mayor Porter, who declared that the city administration is doing what it can to provide jobs. A warning is given, however, that these jobs are for city residents and should not encourage the influx of outside workers.

The Mayor lists extensions to the water system as taking up 500 men; the Park Department, 100 men during the winter; Santa Monica Mountains firebreaks, 100 men; $16,-000,000 worth of public improvement work, such as paving, storm drains and sewers; 400 men on the breakwater, this depending upon Federal action, and a $40,000 swimming pool to be built by the Department of Playgrounds and Recreation.

LUMBER COMPANY PLAN OUTLINED IN LETTER

A letter outlining a scheme to relieve unemployment was mailed last night to 5000 firms, business houses, banks and manufacturing plants in California and Arizona by L. E. Kunkler, president of the Pacific National Lumber Company, who proposes to give employment for the month of December to the same number of employees as were on the pay roll during the same period of 1929.

The same wages will be paid, according to the letter, which says it is hoped that the stimulus of employment will enable the firms participating to continue the increase in personnel indefinitely.

"The adoption of this plan will enable many thousands of unemployed people to have the opportunity of happily celebrating the Christmas season and to enter into the winter season with some money in their pockets," the letter says in part.

"It is the purpose of the Pacific Lumber Company to insist that every employee on its pay roll purchase for not less than $10 some article of furniture, radio or wood product. The idea is that each line of business make purchases of this amount in its particular product, thus boosting trade in every line of business."

The letter asks for a reply by wire or letter and also the request that the communication be sent to consumers to whom products are sold.

"This plan is being adopted for December by many eastern firms," Kunkler declared yesterday. "The Mengle Company of Louisville, Ky., I understand, will reinstate 15,000 employees during next month at the same scale of wages as last year. If it works there, it should be successful in the West. I feel that it is worth trying."

Lady Inverclyde Annulment Suit Expected Here

The filing of proceedings in London, Eng., by Lady Inverclyde, known to London and New York theater-goers as "June," to annul her marriage to Lord Inverclyde did not come as a surprise to her friends in Hollywood yesterday. Last month Lady Inverclyde was a visitor in Hollywood.

During her stay here there were rumors of domestic troubles but she emphatically denied she was going to file any proceedings to set aside her marriage. She declared she had come to Hollywood for a visit while her husband was in Scotland hunting. She drew caricatures of famous motion-picture actors for a London publication during her visit at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel.

Lady Inverclyde started court action immediately after her return to London from Hollywood. She married the wealthy Scottish peer March 21, 1929.

Officer's Slayer Receives Term at San Quentin

Juan G. Reyna, Los Angeles Mexican youth, yesterday was sentenced to San Quentin prison for a term from one to ten years for the slaying of Verne Brindley, Los Angeles police officer, and assault with a deadly weapon on another policeman. Sentence was imposed by Superior Judge Hardy.

Reyna was convicted of manslaughter and assault with a deadly weapon for the fatal shooting of Brindley on May 10, last, after he had been arrested on a traffic charge. The officer charged that Reyna seized Brindley's gun and shot him without provocation.

NO CONTEST IN SWANSON SUIT HINTED

Desertion Only Charge of Actress Asking Divorce From Titled Mate

Indicating there will be no contest to the divorce suit of Gloria Swanson against her titled husband, the Marquis Henry La Bailly De la Falaise De la Coudraye, Miss Swanson's attorneys yesterday entered a default in behalf of the defendant and Superior Judge Guerin set the trial for the 7th inst. at 9:30 a.m. in the courtroom of Department Forty-four on the fifteenth floor of the City Hall.

Miss Swanson's complaint, prepared by Attorneys Milton Cohen and C. O. Bacon, gives desertion only as cause of action, stating that the defendant "willfully and maliciously deserted and abandoned plaintiff and has refused, despite importunings, to return to her."

There are no children to the marriage and no community property is mentioned in the petition.

Ferguson Aide Resigns Place

Mason Case has tendered his resignation as vice-president in charge of subdivisions to the Harold G. Ferguson Corporation, it became known yesterday. Case, confirming the report, declared he has resigned to enter the realty field for himself, he having been engaged in business in this manner for some twenty-five years before joining the Ferguson organization about a year ago.

Case was president during 1929 of the Los Angeles Realty Board.

FINE NEW YACHT ARRIVES

Janidore, Owned by Isadore Zellerbach, Puts in Here on Way to San Francisco

Another important addition to California's yachting fleet is the 142-foot diesel cruiser Janidore, which arrived yesterday from the Great Lakes en route to San Francisco. She has just been completed by the De Foe Boat and Motor Works, Bay City, Mich., for Isadore Zellerbach, president of the Crown Zellerbach Paper Company, at a cost approaching $400,000.

Throughout the long leisurely cruise down the St. Lawrence River, the Atlantic and up the Pacific she encountered ideal weather until off Los Angeles Harbor, when the season's first fog hid the port and delayed by several hours the craft passing quarantine.

Propelled by two Winton Diesel engines of 350-horsepower each, affording a cruising speed of twelve knots, and full speed of fifteen, the large white cruiser is an ornately finished as any of the hundreds of pleasure craft on the Pacific.

She has a walnut-finished lounge, dining-room, and seven guest rooms, and accommodations for a crew of sixteen. Capt. T. H. Dobson, former master of the Dollar liner President Monroe, is her skipper, and Swan Bylander, a San Francisco aviator by avocation, is chief engineer.

The name Janidore is a combination of Janette and Isadore, the first names of Mr. and Mrs. Zellerbach.

Tentative plans call for a cruise to Catalina Islands today, a return to the Lasco dock tomorrow, and a departure Saturday for San Francisco, where she will fly the burgee of the San Francisco Yacht Club.

STREET PLANS ORDERED

Plans for the improvement of Whitnall Highway between Cahuenga Boulevard and Oxnard street with permanent pavement were ordered drawn yesterday by the City Council.

Steckel Ousts Mayor Porter's ex-Investigator

Dismissal by Chief of Police Steckel of Neil Morris, one of the officers assigned to special investigations out of Mayor Porter's office in 1929, and who bought the removal of Deputy Chief Davis when Davis was Chief of Police, was approved by the Police Commission yesterday.

Steckel reported that the dismissal was for conduct unbecoming an officer because Morris repeatedly absented himself without leave. On September 4 Morris was given a mental examination and was committed to the State Hospital for the Mentally Ill at Norwalk, Steckel reported to the commission.

DR. FARRAND TO SPEAK

Dr. Max Farrand, director of research of the Huntington Library, will be the speaker tomorrow evening at the monthly meeting of Los Angeles chapter, League of Western Writers. His address, "The Writing of History," will relate his own experiences. Dr. Farrand's works comprise important contributions to the literature of American history, a number of other books and many magazine articles.

TWO MORE FIRES START IN CANYONS

Additional Blazes Reveal Continued Peril to Woods as Hot Weather Goes On

Outbreak of two more brush fires yesterday warned forestry officials that extreme fire hazard, due to low humidity and high temperatures, still exists.

The first broke out shortly after noon in Piru Canyon, on the Ventura-Los Angeles county lines and close to the Angeles National Forest. Federal and county fire forces succeeded in subduing the blaze before it did much damage.

The second fire was reported in Placerita Canyon, about four miles east of Newhall. Again Federal and county men were able to cope with the flames and announced the fire was under control before evening.

Los Angeles County Fire Warden Turner again yesterday reiterated his belief that the two fires which originated on Ventura Boulevard, near Picture City, Tuesday afternoon, were of incendiary origin. Check of the fire outlooks' reports showed that the two fires, which originated about four miles apart, started about the time it would take for a man to drive an automobile the intervening distance.

Inquest into the death of Ray Taylor, Picture City business man, who died in the Valley Hospital at Van Nuys Tuesday night after having been trapped while fighting the Picture City fire, is scheduled to be conducted this morning at the Van Nuys Funeral Parlors.

Director Sued for Legal Fee

On a claim that $4000 still is due on a fee for legal services, William A. Seiter, motion-picture director and husband of Laura La Plante, yesterday was sued by Lorraine Mills, assignee of Attorney William V. Holohan, who represented Seiter in a suit involving stock and realty transactions which was settled out of court.

The petition, which was filed by Attorney Harold L. Judson, admits that Holohan has already been paid $500, but contends that the value of the services rendered was $4000 more.

Suit on Chaplin Film Postponed

Hearing on a $100,000 suit against Charles Chaplin, instituted by Antoinette Kopetsky, scenarist, was continued until January 7, when called before Superior Judge Craig. The plaintiff complains that sequences for the comedian's motion picture, "The Circus," were taken from a scenario she sent Chaplin on March 3, 1919. The picture was started in production in 1925.

Chaplin, in his answer, admits receiving the scenario, but contends that it was sent back unopened. He is represented by Attorney Lloyd Wright and the scenarist by Attorney John F. Dahl.

COLORADOANS WILL MEET

Former residents of Colorado will meet for a program and dance tomorrow evening in Moose Hall, 1024 South Grand avenue.

DONORS OF ATHENEUM TO BE FETED

Banquet Tonight Honors Allan C. Balch and Wife for Fund Contributed

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

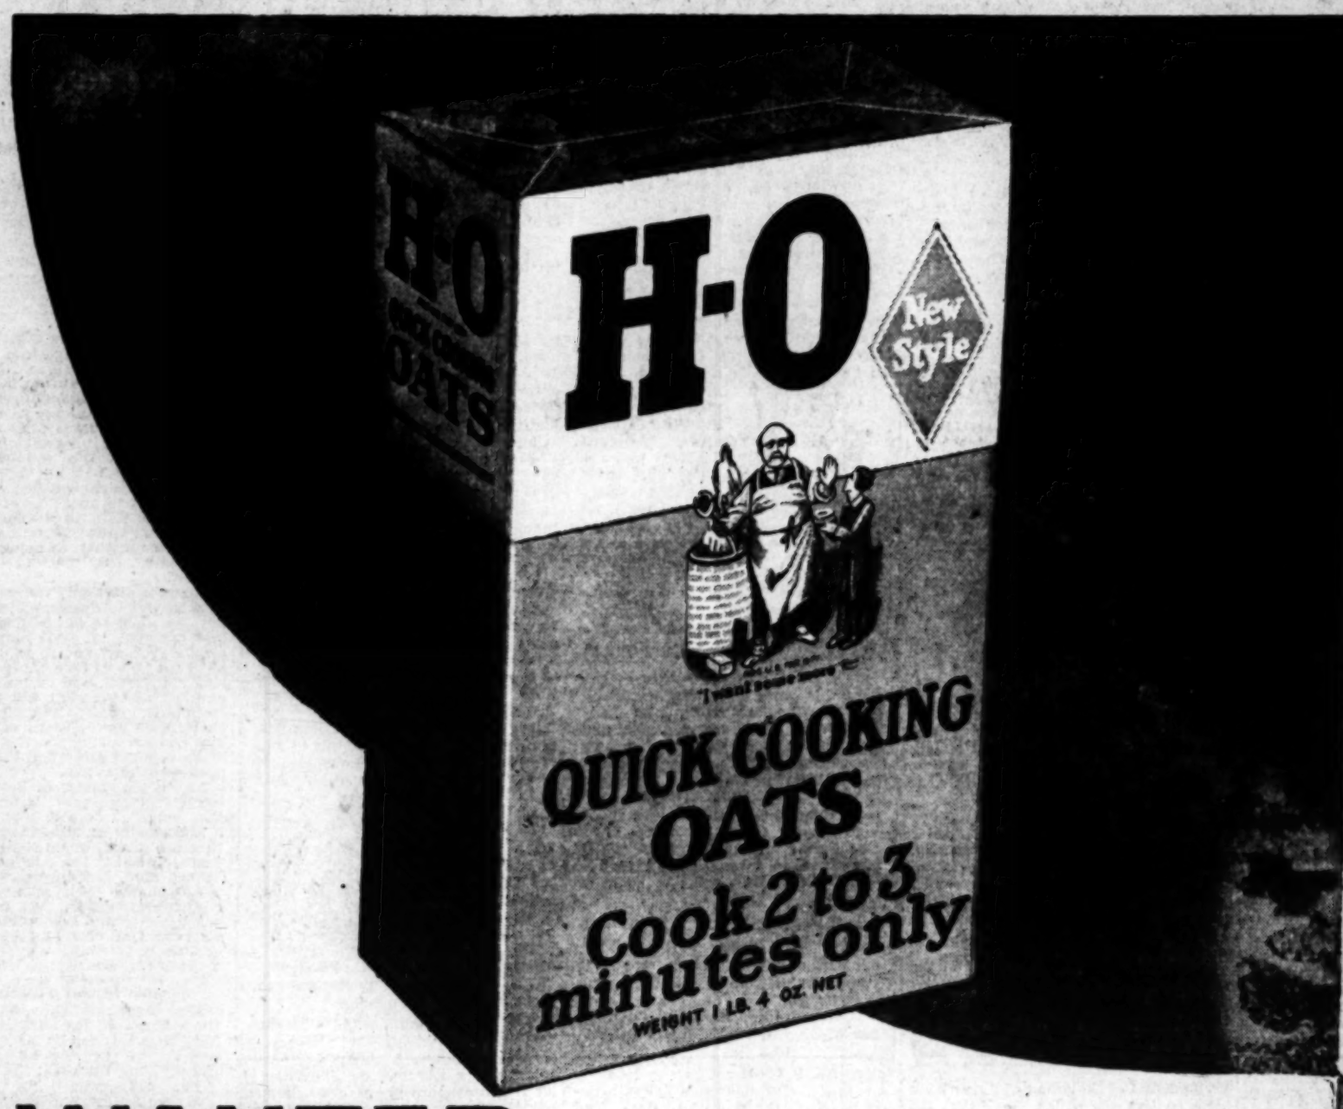
PASADENA, Nov. 5. (Exclusive)—Climaxing the series of events at the Athenaeum, recently completed, $500,00 retreat for intellectuals erected on the California Institute of Technology campus, a formal banquet will be given tomorrow night.

California Institute Associates, a group of public-spirited citizens whose vision and generosity have made possible development of the local scientific school, will attend the dinner, which is being given by the institute trustees in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Allan C. Balch, who provided funds for the Athenaeum.

Russell H. Ballard, president of the Institute Associates, will preside.

"TIMES" EMPLOYEE TO BE BURIED TODAY

Funeral services will be conducted for Mrs. Myron McDermott at 2 p.m. today from the chapel of R. B. McCormick, 4601 Crenshaw Boulevard. Interment will be in the Inglewood Park Cemetery. Mrs. McDermott, who lived at 1805 North Kingsley Drive, was connected with The Times advertising department for the past five years. She was killed in an automobile accident Sunday in San Bernardino. She leaves her daughters, Peggy and Patricia, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry A. Miller; a sister, Mary Miller, and brother, Lloyd C. Miller, all of 3418 Tallman street, Los Angeles.



THIS MIRACULOUS PLUME OF LIFE AND HEALTH

The robust oat, born of the sun and the soil, contains fat, mineralsalts, protein, phosphorus, sugar and starch. Vital elements for the human body... priceless. The more you know about oats the more you realize they are the kindly little friends of all mankind. We, the sponsors of H-O, respect the oat so highly that we give it the most exacting preparation known to the modern civilized world.

WANTED.... more Thrifty Housewives TO LEARN THE ECONOMY OF QUALITY

Off hand you would not think a couple of pennies would make much difference in a package of breakfast cereal. Yet a million American housewives will tell you that in nothing else they buy does this small additional sum give them near so much more for their money as in H-O Oats.

These same women have discovered that the best oatmeal is not "pasty" or "sticky". New Style H-O is nut-like in flavor and has a firm, delicate texture which is surprising to those who think oatmeal is an ordinary item of the morning table.

Nothing that grows is more wonderful than oats. They merit all the honest care a cereal-manufacturer can give them. Even the ideal H-O exclusive process is no more than these sturdy, life-giving grains deserve. H-O is pan-roasted over live hot coals. H-O is free of flour dust. H-O is the quickest hot breakfast. Cooks in 2 to 3 minutes.

Tomorrow, when you sit down to your first H-O breakfast, you will have a pleasant experience. You will learn what those extra pennies can do to quality when intrusted to human integrity and 60 years of happy effort in creating fine foods. Really extraordinary! And just watch your children thrive on H-O Oatmeal!

Today's Bible Text

He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; to him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.—Rev. ii:7.

THE GOOD PICKER

At any rate this "Buy It Now" campaign will offer advance peeps of some wonderful Christmas stuff. Those who can get their holiday shopping out of the way early in November can give the rest of the world the laugh. And at the same time they have been of substantial service to their country.

LIFE IN CHINA

Chinese farmers have to live close to the belt. One of them will consider himself lucky if he has $100 a year with which to support a family of six or more. About 20 cents of this will take care of the daily table—if any. On some days there won't be much. It is a sure thing that the Chinese have to economize and for some time will continue so to do.

BUGGY RIDES

There is still a use for the horse. It is said that last year buggies, phaetons and other horse-drawn vehicles were sold to the number of 122,000, at a price of $10,000,000, but in the last two years the value of these roly-polys slumped more than 15 per cent. They are shortening up everywhere and even the family wheelbarrow is being neglected.

THE GAME GOES ON

It is claimed that big baseball made money this year. The two major leagues are said to have garnered about $30,000,000 at the box office during the season and this is ample to pay off all hands—even those of Babe Ruth. Some of the smaller leagues didn't hit it off so well, but the game goes on. Now that they can play it day or night the customers get all sorts of chances.

WINDOWLESS BUILDING

The travel and transportation building at the forthcoming World's Fair in Chicago will be a novelty in at least one respect. It will have no windows. The light and air will be provided by machinery and are guaranteed to surpass anything that nature can offer. The air is cleaned and washed every few minutes and the temperature is automatically regulated no matter what the conditions are without. The lighting system will be a wonder of efficiency.

ENFORCEMENT NO FAILURE

Those who insist that dry enforcement is a failure might meditate upon recent reports from the Department of Justice of the United States.

More than 52,000 cases were handled under the prohibition law in the Federal courts during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930. Two hundred and six more cases were initiated during this period than the year before, and in addition 4286 more cases were pending than at the beginning of that period.

The wets in nets resorted to jury trials for defense in many cases. They seemed to think that public sentiment would sustain their crimes. What came out of the wash was that 73 per cent of those demanding jury trials were convicted by fellow-citizens.

The courts have tightened up. Jail and imprisonment were imposed in 27,709 verdicts, or exactly 5107 more than the year before. Eight thousand eight hundred and one "common nuisances" were closed for periods of from three to twelve months, an increase of 2498 above the preceding year.

More civil cases were also commenced under prohibition during the year by 1056 than the preceding year, or a total of 11,882. Of 12,938 cases terminated, 81 per cent resulted in judgments in favor of the United States, and but 16 per cent was dismissed.

During the year twenty-nine seizures of foreign vessels were made for smuggling, and twelve of these resulted in forfeiture. This is the largest number since 1927.

The outcome of jury trials in itself shows that the mass of the people is for the law. There are supine officials; but the whang about the impossibility of securing arrest and conviction is pure bunk. Enforcement officials are not lying down on the job. Uncle Sam is not a the mercy of hoodlums. The country shows no disposition to quit. It has never dreamed of turning its affairs over to the racketeering bootlegger.

CALIFORNIA STANDS FIRM

The splendid victory won by the entire Republican ticket, State and Congressional, in Tuesday's election, is an indication that California stands solidly behind the administration of President Hoover. In the nation generally, the Republican party has suffered expected reverses, the penalty which the party in power always pays for being in power at the time of a world-wide depression. But in California there has been no reverse; instead, Mayor Rolph and former Senator Merriam, with all their colleagues on the ticket, have been swept into office by unprecedented majorities. Every Republican Congressman has been victorious and the State Legislature remains strongly Republican in both branches. This expression of confidence in the Republican party by Californians will have its national effects, showing this State as the white spot in politics as in business.

Republican solidarity was well illustrated by the heavy vote given Lieutenant-Governor-elect Merriam in the north. He carried San Francisco by upward of 10,000, though that county is supposedly wet in sympathy and his opponent campaigned solely on the prohibition issue. The Republican organization in the Bay City evidently stood firmly for the whole ticket.

The complexion of Congress still appears in doubt. The Democratic gains have been considerable both in House and Senate, but seem, as this is written, not sufficient to assure Democratic control. Agrarianism and prohibition were issues in various degrees in different parts of the country and the "outs" had the advantage of the balloting.

In the two Los Angeles county supervisorial races, Hugh Thatcher was elected in District No. 1 and Don Mahaffey in District No. 3. It is to be regretted that the county thus loses the services of Supervisor Graves, whose intimate acquaintance with the complicated business of running county affairs was of great value to the community. The new Supervisor from the First District is a man of demonstrated ability and capacity, as The Times said before election, though it preferred his opponent, Albert Chamness, as having more executive experience. Supervisor-elect Mahaffey is largely an unknown quantity so far as the administration of public business is concerned.

In the judgeships, Judges Keetch, Shaw and Bishop were retained by heavy majorities and will continue to give strength and stability to the Superior Court bench as they have in the past. The county is to be congratulated on this result. Whether a wise choice has been made in replacing Judges Hardy, Crawford, Hanby and Haslett with Municipal Judges Turney, Valentine, Stafford and Sheldon remains to be seen. It is particularly unfortunate that such a fine jurist as Judge Haslett should have gone down to defeat.

W. I. Traeger has been re-elected Sheriff over Capt. Clyde Plummer and the administration of that office, largely in the hands of able subordinates, will continue as heretofore.

Defeat of the daylight saving and Sunday closing propositions on the State ballot by overwhelming majorities are matters for general satisfaction. The voters likewise declined to modify the usury law at the behest of money lenders. The amendment creating a Fish and Game Commission with real power got its only real support in the south and apparently is defeated. The San Francisco harbor bonds received good majorities all over the State and a particularly heavy vote in Los Angeles city and county. This should aid in creating better feeling between the two cities. The veterans' bonds proposal carried. Lowering of street railway taxes also carried. Both were meritorious.

Several State propositions which probably would not have been for the best interest of the people were defeated. No. 3, a plan to increase the compensation of State officers, and No. 18, providing for property taxation of motor vehicles by the State, were beaten. There will be no constitutional convention, at least not next year.

Desirable results were achieved in the victory for No. 19, removing the disqualification of judges as candidates for other office, and for Nos. 14 and 25, providing permanent registration and giving registrars more time to complete their lists.

The defeat of the proposed power bond issue on the city ballot shows that the people still lack confidence in the Power Bureau, and probably will continue to do so until it has been given the promised reorganization. The voters made a mistake, however, in defeating the $6,000,000 sewer bonds. These sewer extensions and improvements will have now to be provided in some other way, probably by assessment district. Charter Amendment 3-A, providing for centralized purchasing, doubtless met defeat because of a misunderstanding of its purpose. It would not, in fact, have dispensed with the services of department experts, as was feared, but would have installed a modern business buying system in the last three of the city's thirty-eight departments.

Nationally some surprising results were scored, of which the defeats of Senator Allen in Kansas, Senator Schall in Minnesota and Senator McMaster in South Dakota were the greatest upsets. The election of Coolidge in Massachusetts, Bulkley in Ohio and Lewis in Illinois, all Democrats, had been discounted. Lewis carried Illinois by an overwhelming vote against Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, the only woman candidate, and the surprise here was in the size of his majority. Explanations of Senator Allen's defeat will be awaited with interest, as his Republican colleague, Senator Capper, was re-elected. Dwight W. Morrow was easily elected in New Jersey. Rhode Island, which went Democratic in 1928, reversed itself and re-elected Senator Metcalf. Norris defeated Hitchcock in Nebraska.

THE TAXES MOUNT

The tax bills of the railroads have increased 1220 per cent since 1890. In the same time the net earnings of the lines have advanced 382 per cent. It is evident that income will never get ahead of the tax gatherer. And there are a lot of folks who think that between aviation and the automobile a good deal of the fat has been cut off rail transportation. The roads have to scurry for their revenue.

The LEE SIDE O' LA
BY Lee Shippey

OUR friend, Chief Yowlache, is leaving for New York, to sing in concert and over a national broadcasting network. In his public appearances in the East he will wear a deerskin suit which doubtless will attract much attention. It is as finely finished as a French glove and nothing in its make-up will suggest modern manufacture or even the thread, needles, buttons, machines or any other thing made by the white men. No doubt many a well-informed New Yorker will naively ask the chief if the Indians still dress that way out here in the wild West, and how a man whose steady job must be the hunting of deer and making of jerky ever found time to learn to sing so well.

The joke is that Chief Yowlache is a singer, not a hunter. He can hit high C with assurance, but he couldn't hit a deer with a machine gun. He is more familiar with transcontinental trains than with Indian ponies. Since early youth he has been studying music and languages, so that he can sing in German, Italian and French as well as in English and Indian dialect. So when he wanted a deerskin suit he had to ask his Scotch friend, Alexander McLaren, to bring in the hides for him. As soon as the deer season opened Alex hied for the hielands—or for the Feather River country, to be accurate—and came back with a husky pack of deer hides which White Bird, Yowlache's clever wife, made into the suit which will make the noble red man—or well-read man—look so primitive and untamed.

Gone Hollywood

There just aren't any primitive people any more. The whole world's going Hollywood. A couple of years ago some really primitive blacks were brought over from Africa for use in the filming of "Trader Horn." When they arrived here they wore native head-dresses and wouldn't wear shoes at all.

But movieland got them, as it gets nearly everybody. They're still hanging around Hollywood, getting occasional jobs as extras. The other day

Negroes were needed for the plantation scene in "The Southerner," Lawrence Tibbett's new vehicle, and those wild men from Africa showed up looking for jobs. They were wearing wide, flappy pants with up-and-down stripes which would have made a zebra's seem restrained. Their sport shoes were absolutely declamatory and they were wearing pale blue felt hats which looked as if made of camel's hair.

But they couldn't comprehend the scene. It was a lovely set, the "quarters" on a big plantation. It made you think of "Suwanee River" and "Old Black Joe." The atmosphere was convincing, the actors including some fifty members of the Ethiopium Etude Chorus. But the black men from Africa only stared and shook their heads. They'd never seen their people act like that before. They felt less than kin, even though their apparel proclaimed them to be more than kind.

Cooking by Ear

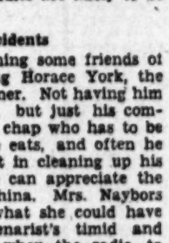
We like natural musicians, but when it comes to cookery we prefer those who play by note to those who play by ear.

If something is served you at dinner which tastes exceedingly queer it is likely to be the result of a radio recipe.

Cautious housewives always try these radio recipes on the dog, or husband, first. If one happens to have a pencil while the recipe is being radioed the telephone is certain to ring in the midst of it, or the door bell rings, or some one comes in to ask a question, or any one of the innumerable interruptions which make up a housewife's day occurs. So that whether or not she has a pencil and an honest intention to write down the recipe precisely, at least a few words of it must be trusted to memory. And the results are likely to be startling.

Bad Time for Accidents

The other evening some friends of ours were having Horace York, the scenarist, for dinner. Not having him boiled or stewed, but just his company. York is a chap who has to be careful what he eats, and often he shows no interest in cleaning up his plate so that he can appreciate the design on the china. Mrs. Naybors was wondering what she could have to tempt the scenarist's timid and furtive appetite, when the radio, to which she was only half listening, suddenly answered her prayer:



"To tempt a delicate and evasive appetite," came a calm, assured voice, "serve an entree of filet of sole with a sauce made of—"

Just then the maid dashed in with the baby in her arms. "She's got an awful bruise on her head," she explained.

"Bathe with witch hazel. Rub with arnica. Paint with mercurochrome," directed Mrs. Naybors, without ceasing to write down the recipe she was getting. "I'll take her in a minute. I'm going to copy this recipe verbatim, just to show Henry I can, for once."

Interruptions Will Occur

As soon as the recipe was copied she rushed to comfort the baby, and hardly had she done that when Mrs. Hornin called to confer with her about come club committee affairs. They decided they would have to go over and confer with Mrs. M. T. Noyes, also. So Mrs. Naybors just had time to dash out to see the maid a minute.

"Everything just as planned, Imogene," she said, "except that here's a new recipe for the sauce for the filet of sole. It's rather novel, but follow it exactly."

Such a Natural Mistake

Dinner that evening started auspiciously. And when the entree was served York beamed. "You're too considerate," he said. "You know, I can't eat meat at all. But filet of sole! It takes me back to Marguery's in Paris. Can't I have a double portion? And how wonderful that sauce looks!"

But before the entree was dispatched York became suddenly ill and everyone else at table was looking pale. The party was spoiled. And

Mrs. Naybors never knew why till next day when she came on a scrap of paper on which was scribbled:

"Sauce for filet of sole: Mix equal parts of vinegar, salad oil, witch hazel, arnica, mercurochrome. Beat in yolks of two eggs—"

She stopped aghast. "Never again!" she murmured.

THE DEAD LION

Another familiar and favorite figure has gone the way of all flesh. This time the mourning goes for Numa, the massive lion, who in the last fifteen years has appeared with more or less dignity in nearly 200 moving pictures. He might have been called a foremost citizen of Hollywood, but for the fact that in recent years he has been the star at the Gay Lion Farm, where he was surrounded by more than 150 satellites.

He was the best-known and the best-beloved lion in the world and he wouldn't even bite a movie actor. When it came to acting it might be said that he knew the game better than most extras. He did his stuff intelligently and conscientiously. Most of it seemed foolish to him, but he never shirked the job. He drew about $75,000 for his services, but his wants were modest. All he craved was about fifteen pounds of hamburger every afternoon. Outside of that the boss might have his pay check.

Numa was less than twenty years old, which is not very ancient as lions go, but a cancer headed him off before his time and now his stuffed figure furnishes an impressive guardian of the office at the lion farm.

HITLER HIT

Herr Hitler aspires to be the Mussolini of Germany. To show his Fascist qualification he has pushed forth his chest in flamboyant and inflammatory speeches.

He was looking forward to the time when he could give commandment concerning the length of women's skirts and the color of men's shirts. He waved the Fascist torch wildy and tried to set fire to the Fatherland.

But the latest news from Germany shows that the noise was largely by Hitler himself. When the hour came for the Reichstag to vote for or against the Bruening Cabinet, a motion of confidence in the administration was carried by a majority of eighty-two.

Hitler was too much for even the Socialists to swallow. That party stood by things as they are in the crisis. The Hitler bloc was crumpled. The Chancellor received approval of his financial plans. The foreign loan against which Hitler tried to make political and personal capital was adopted with ease.

Then the Reichstag took an immediate recess until December 3 and came up for air!

POOR OLD CHINA!
By James J. Montague

(The elder statesmen in China complain that the jazz invasion is devastating the country.)

In early days when Chinese kings
Were almost always known as Mings,
There was no call
To gird at all
At youthful forms of folly,
Because the average Chinese kid
Did much as his forefathers did;
His almond eyes
Were worldly wise
And filled with melancholy.

But now the pastimes of the West
Have fired the young Mongolian breast;
Youth cares no more
For ancient lore,
But gads and jazzes nightly.
And if the older folk, aghast,
Recall the glories of the past
The kids, unmoved
When thus reproved,
Reply quite impolitely.

The land, which stood for countless years
Against the sharp barbarian spears—
Which never knew
The bill and coo
Of petters or of spooners,
Where even children were sedate
And bred from birth to venerate
The noble past—
Has flopped at last
For saxophones and crooners!

Hearst's Plan Paraphrased

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have just read, with interest, Mr. Hearst's radio plan for "True Temperance." But I would like to apply the same "reasoning" to bank robbing. Perhaps our laws have been too strict and a more "liberal" policy would be better. Following Mr. Hearst's outline, may I suggest the following:

(1.) Let the Federal government go into the bank-robbing business.

(2.) Allow a "restricted" number of robberies.

(3.) "Monopolize" bank robbing by maintaining a "high standard" of operating personnel.

(4.) Let the common people be "licensed" to do the robbing, but do not "license" anyone whose license has been revoked because of misuse or abuse of its privileges.

The "definite advantages" of such a plan:

(1.) It will "unify" bank robbing "throughout the nation."

(2.) It will abolish "bootleg" or "lawless" robbing.

(3.) It will make for "universal" robbing instead of "secret" robbing.

(4.) It will secure an "enormous income" for "the government."

(5.) It will "immediately establish many great industries" with the money which the robbers get from the banks.

"All these things are very desirable at any time" (for those who wish to rob banks.)

J. H. HOWARD.

The Dragnet Must Not Go!

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The dragnet is but a mild introduction, only an eye-opener to many, as to what our police department and our Sheriff's office and our detective agencies will be compelled to do, if crime does not let up in the next year or two.

This dragnet gesture is merely the first toddling steps that are necessary, as a forerunner, to a widespread and drastic battle against the commission of crime. And a word to you people who are, apparently, so grossly offended because you are stopped at night, and who are complaining about how Los Angeles is violating your constitutional rights, and how an officer of the law has no right to search you without a search warrant, and that this dragnet is going to keep tourists away from Los Angeles.

Your constitutional rights are, in a negligible degree, violated; but you must be liberal-minded and generous. If you are as good as you pretend to be, then do your bit to help the police and the Sheriff, and do nothing and say nothing that will tend to impede, delay, interrupt or embarrass the officers of the law who are giving you the best possible police protection that is possible at this time.

As for the matter of keeping tourists away, that is largely "the bunk." I dare to say, that if a check-up could be made on this, the results would show less than 1 per cent of all people headed for Los Angeles, that would change their minds and go somewhere else. Let us all get together and help our stalwart boys in blue to keep our city clean.

THOMAS BROWN KOUTS.

Women Knight Errants

SAN MARINO, Nov. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have been inspired by Mr. Gale's cartoon of October 7 to write you my thoughts about the message it contained.

A very serious and dangerous situation has arisen, that, if not checked, will undermine the three great gifts of America's children—health, wealth and happiness.

The danger of the present condition lies in the way we are looking at the so-called wave of financial depression that has swept over us. We are told by the Glooms, that far worse is yet to come! Are we women of America going to sit down with folded hands and allow ourselves to be told that nothing we could do would alter the situation? Did we calmly sit by our firesides, when the call to arms came to our men, when war swept our land? No we didn't. We buckled on our armor of white veil and gown and worked from sunup to sundown. The army of faithful American women are now ready for action, and we lay before you our plan of relief.

First, we will build our wall of safety, plug up all possible leaks and hang at sunrise the Glooms who are undermining the faith and loyalty we Americans possess at heart. We next strap on our knapsacks, containing the two necessary fighting tools, sunshine and service, used by us all during the World War. We now stand ready to march forward on our comradeship journey.

Thus shall we destroy the work of the Glooms and instead of being swamped by a wave of despair, we shall find ourselves on the hilltop of peace and contentment.

MAUD H. LACY.

MODERN YOUTH

The pretty young kindergarten mistress had been telling her pupils all about the winds, their power, different effects, and so on. "And, children," she went on, enthusiastically, "as I came to school this morning on the top of the bus something softly came and kissed my cheek. What do you think it was?"

"The conductor!" cried the children, joyously.—[Exchange.

PUBLIC LANDS

BY GEORGE H. CECIL
Executive Secretary Los Angeles Conservation Association

The eyes of everyone interested in the public land policy of the United States are undoubtedly fastened upon the movements of President Hoover's Public Land Commission, which has before it the matter of the disposition of the remaining territory included in the public domain.

This public land in California comprises some 20,000,000 acres, representing the residue of the lands in public ownership not being worth patenting under the various land laws. Since these laws were extremely liberal in their provisions and interpretations, it is safe to conclude that this residue is of little value to private enterprise and will remain public property. A considerable portion of the lands, however, have great value as watershed—the run-off from them being necessary to intensive agricultural development elsewhere.

Used unrestrictedly for grazing in the past, their value has decreased and they have deteriorated until they often present an actual menace to agricultural lands in the rich valleys through erosion or through loss of their water retaining capacity. Probably 80 per cent are used for grazing purposes and have their chief value as range land. Through misuse, it is estimated that their present capacity for that purpose is less than 25 per cent of what it was twenty years ago. Such deterioration will continue unless grazing practice is controlled or regulated.

A considerable portion of these lands is the home of game animals and birds which have greatly decreased in number because of the destruction of the brush cover which formerly afforded them protection and food.

The President has suggested the advisability of turning over to the various States the surface rights to these lands. In case such action were taken, two courses of conduct would open to the State: First, it could retain and administer such lands itself; second, it could pass as large areas as possible into private hands. In consideration of existing conditions it does not appear that either of these solutions to the problem would be wise.

The State of California has, at the present time, no constituted authority capable of administering and caring for such areas. Further, in their depleted and deteriorated condition, not only would the revenues therefrom be exceedingly small for many years to come, but the cost of improvements necessary to reclaim them would be a sizable burden for the State to carry. This situation is not peculiar to the State of California, since it may be said that none of the public land States has ever built up a machinery for the care, protection and conservation for the lands turned over to them by the Federal government for public schools, universities, and other purposes.

The taxes that might be derived from such lands, or the revenue that the State might derive from their control or administration would, for some years at least, amount to but little. On the other hand, the State now receives from road funds appropriated by Congress 7 cents each year for every acre of national forest land within its boundaries. It is safe to assume that the Federal government would make additional appropriations for lands placed under its administration and control.

Again, the Federal government would bear the cost of administration and rehabilitation and would, under the laws applying to the national forests (which laws would undoubtedly be extended to these lands,) turn over to the State 25 per cent of the gross receipts derived therefrom. Either of these two sources of revenue would more than offset any tax that might be derived from these lands, or that the State might hope for, for many years to come.

There are considerable areas, notably those lying in the Coachella Valley, that could be made extremely productive and a real contribution to the economic development of the State, were sufficient water for their utilization available. As pointed out, however, such development is not feasible through individual effort. With the continuance of these lands in the ownership of the Federal government, the Federal Reclamation Service would be in a position to develop them should water be available. It is felt that the logical agency to carry on work of this kind is the United States government, whose responsibility such development would become were the surface rights turned over to California.

Local interest in this question is indicated by recent action on the part of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, which has recommended that the remaining lands within the State of California be withdrawn from all forms of entry except under the mineral laws, and that such lands as lie contiguous to the existing national forests be added thereto and administered by the Forest Service.

A further recommendation has been made by the same organization that such portions of this property as cannot be administered advantageously in connection with the existing national forests be placed under the Department of Agriculture and that the Secretary of Agriculture be authorized to administer these lands in the same manner as is now being done on the national forests. It is felt that the Secretary of Agriculture is the proper authority to administer such lands because of experience gained in handling similar problems on the national forests in the West.

SHERIFF'S AIDE UNDER ARREST

Capt. H. J. Brooks Faces Federal Charge

Accused of Impersonating Immigration Officer

Head of County Farm-Theft Detail Denies Guilt

Capt. Howard J. Brooks, 48 years of age, head of the Sheriff's farm-theft detail, yesterday was arrested by Department of Justice agents on a charge of impersonating an immigration officer. Capt. Brooks has been in the Sheriff's office since 1922, and has an exceptional record in efficiency and honesty. He surrendered himself to Department of Justice agents and immigration officers as soon as he was informed that a complaint was issued against him.

Brooks was arrested following an investigation by Immigration Inspectors Dick and Del Guercio, lasting over a period of weeks and resulting in the arrests of Peter Pirotte and Clinton Heskett.

CHARGE DENIED

While Brooks admitted that he has known Heskett for about a year and has seen him about the Sheriff's office, he declared that the charge against him is a surprise and unjustified. He insisted that he is innocent of the charge, which involves the asserted obtaining of money from Maysao Kono, a Japanese, at Sawtelle, on May 20, last, to avoid the Japanese's deportation. The amount is not specified.

Undersheriff Dewar said that, pending hearing of the charges, Capt. Brooks is suspended. If he is acquitted he will be reinstated, it was announced. He was released by United States Commissioner Head on $2500 bail for hearing next week.

OTHERS INDICTED

Sheriff Traeger made it known that he has appointed A. R. (Casey) Jones to succeed Brooks temporarily. Jones has been employed in the Sheriff's office for the last seven years, most of the time as a robbery and burglary investigator. In 1923 he was wounded seriously in frustrating an escape of two prisoners in the County Jail elevator with Deputy Sheriff Higgins.

Thirteen other persons were accused of various Federal offenses.

FRANK G. SCHUMACHER DIES

Veteran Photographic Artist and Member of Pioneer Family Victim of Apoplexy

A career closely linked with the history of the growth of Los Angeles came to a close with the sudden death of Frank G. Schumacher, for years a prominent photographic artist of this city, when he succumbed to the effects of a stroke of apoplexy early yesterday morning at the family residence, 522 Shatto Place. He had been in poor health for the past year. He was 69 years of age.

Funeral services will be conducted at the residence at 2 p.m. tomorrow and burial will follow in the family plot at Evergreen Cemetery.

Frank G. Schumacher

Mr. Schumacher's father, as a volunteer in the war against Mexico, came here in 1848 with Stephenson's regiment and was stationed in the barracks at old Fort Moore. In 1852 he purchased property at the present site of the northwest corne of First and Spring streets, where the new State Building now is under construction, and in 1855 secured a city deed to it. His six children were born there and the property continued in the hands of the children and their direct descendants until it was sold to the county of Los Angeles last March.

For many years Mr. Schumacher was known here for his photographic work, and his art had received high honors, gold medals and prizes in exhibitions throughout this country and in the annual Paris salon. When he retired from this field in 1906 he was made an honorary member of the national organization of his fellow-artists.

Mr. Schumacher was one of the first members of the California Club, as well as holding memberships in the Los Angeles Athletic Club and several beach clubs.

He leaves a sister, Caroline Schumacher, a brother, Percy F. Schumacher, and two nephews, Kenneth E. Preuss and John Schumacher.

MACKAY BRIBE CASE DROPPED

Keyes's Chief Deputy Freed by Fitts's Request

District Attorney's Action Praised by Judge

Supreme Court Ruling Held Bar to Conviction

Vindicated after being under indictment for more than a year, Donald MacKay, chief trial deputy under former Dist.-Atty. Keyes, yesterday won a dismissal of his case in Superior Judge Schauer's court. MacKay was charged with accepting a $7500 bribe to dismiss felony charges against A. I. Lasker, auto finance promoter.

In dismissing the case upon the motion of Robert P. Stewart, Chief Deputy District Attorney, Judge Schauer pointed out that MacKay's reputation is cleared, inasmuch as under the law he was presumed to be innocent of the crime unless convicted and because of the fact that the dismissal was asked for lack of evidence and in the interests of justice.

When the motion was granted MacKay walked from the courtroom arm in arm with his mother, who was weeping. He was represented in court by Attorney Richard Cantillon.

The dismissal motion as made by Stewart made it clear that the request came as a direct result of a recent Supreme Court ruling in the Harold L. Davis case, which held that the uncorroborated testimony of Ben Getzoff, an accomplice, was insufficient to warrant conviction. Getzoff was the principal witness against MacKay. At MacKay's former trial the jury disagreed and was discharged.

Judge Schauer commended Dist.-Atty. Fitts for deferring reprosecution of MacKay until the Davis decision was handed down. He also commended the District Attorney for requesting the dismissal when it appeared that under the law it would be an injustice to prosecute MacKay.

STUDENTS' ROMANCE TO CULMINATE

Huntington Heiress Will Wed Pasadena Engineer Evening of 15th Inst.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Nov. 5.—Harriet Green Huntington, 20-year-old Pasadena heiress whose romance with Albert E. Doerr, 22-year-old engineer with the Consolidated Steel Corporation, has attracted attention here, will marry him on the evening of the 15th inst.

Yesterday the couple appeared at the appropriate bureau in Los Angeles and applied for a marriage license. Miss Huntington is the daughter of the late Howard Huntington and will be married at the home of her mother, Mrs. James R. Brehm, 1450 Hillcrest avenue. The bride-to-be is the grand-daughter of the late Henry E. Huntington, nephew of Collis P. Huntington, railway builder. She also is granddaughter of the late Adam Treadwell Green, pioneer in the settlement of San Francisco. Doerr's father is an official of the American Smelting and Refining Company and resides in Mexico City.

The romance started on the campus of Stanford University, where the bridegroom graduated last spring. Miss Huntington is a graduate of Smith College, Northampton, Mass., and later graduated from Stanford as well. A short automobile trip is being planned following the wedding, after which the couple will reside at 120 Arlington Drive, Pasadena.

The ceremony will take place at 9 p.m., and will be performed by Dr. Robert Freeman, pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church. Miss Margaret Huntington, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Jane Lee, Sally Eels, Lydia Ross, Frances Wallace, Mrs. Ralph Allen and Miss Joan Reppy. The best man will be Edward Thomas Dillon, Jr., and the ushers, all fraternity brothers of the bridegroom and members of Stanford chapter, Delta Kappa Epsilon, will be Ray Coleman, Bruce Shorts, Ralph W. Allen, John H. Butts, Richard Angus Grant and Jefferson Chandler Stephens.

WILKIE CASE OFF UNTIL TOMORROW

Court Postpones Trial of Deputy City Attorney and His Wife

Trial of Royal G. Wilkie, deputy City Attorney of Los Angeles, and his wife, Mrs. Aida M. Wilkie, on charges of reckless driving and intoxication, was postponed yesterday by Police Judge Riccardi at Pasadena until tomorrow morning.

Wilkie and his wife were arrested at South Fair Oaks avenue early this week. Officers charge they found liquor in the car. Wilkie and his wife deny this, asserting they were refused a sobriety test, or permission to telephone for counsel.

City Attorney Werner stated his office has adopted a policy of hands off until the facts are brought out in court. If Wilkie is convicted of drinking, or participating in a row with police officers, he will be dropped as deputy City Attorney Werner said.

College Comic Convention Plans Laid

With Miss Wilma Goodwin, editor of the Wampus, monthly comic magazine of the University of Southern California, as the hostess and Carl Fetterly, president of the Western Association of College Comics and a Trojan law student, as the host, a program has been planned for the reception of delegates from other far western colleges and universities who will attend the association convention at U.S.C. the 13th, 14th and 15th inst., it was announced by student leaders yesterday.

MISS WILMA GOODWIN

Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity, will join the members of Alpha Chi Alpha and Theta Sigma Phi, honorary and professional journalism sororities, in entertaining.

CARL FETTERLY

The program includes morning and afternoon business sessions, a tea dance at the Kappa Delta Sorority house, the Hawaii-S. C. football game, tour of the motion-picture studios, a formal dance and daily luncheons.

LAST RITES FOR PIONEER TO BE TODAY

Mrs. Mary S. Cresmer Who Died Here Tuesday Lived in State Forty-four Years

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Mary S. Cresmer, who died at her home, 4055 Oakwood avenue, Tuesday morning, after an illness of five weeks due to ailments incident to old age, will be conducted this morning at 10 o'clock from the Hollywood Cemetery Chapel with interment in a crypt in the Hollywood mausoleum. Dr. Griffis, pastor of the Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church, will be in charge.

She was 86 years of age and was born in Virginia and had resided in California for forty-four years and in Los Angeles for the past ten years. She leaves her husband and six children: J. E. Cresmer of Los Angeles; W. T. Cresmer of Chicago; Mrs. E. Hayes of Fresno, Mrs. Bessie Heaton of San Bernardino, Miss Bertha Cresmer of Los Angeles and Mrs. Nina Holden of Fresno. W. T. Cresmer arrived yesterday from the east to be present at the funeral today. He is a member of the advertising company of Williams, Lawrence and Cresmer of Chicago.

The Parker System of Group Dentistry Improves Service and Reduces Cost

Dental Price Problem Solved By Use of E. R. Parker System

HIGH prices for medical, dental and hospital services constitute one of the serious problems confronting present-day society.

PAINLESS PARKER Founder of the E. R. Parker System

The wealthy command the best service regardless of cost. Large fees to doctors and hospitals are no great hardship to them.

On the other hand, the very poor receive free service at public or charitable institutions.

Between these extremes is the great middle class—those who are neither rich nor very poor. These people, with moderate incomes, shrink from accepting charity. Hence they are obliged to pay—and under existing conditions to pay far beyond what their incomes justify.

This constitutes a menace to public health—particularly in the case of dentistry—since it encourages delay, and delay often results in unnecessary loss of teeth or in dangerous illness because of infected teeth.

Largely as a result of high prices, the great middle class neglect their teeth. It is a common thing to hear people say: "I can't afford to go to a dentist." And physicians say that neglect of teeth results in many serious and chronic ailments. Some, in fact, declare infected teeth to be the greatest danger to health today.

The dental price problem is solved by use of the E. R. Parker System, under which simple and well-known business principles are applied to the practice of dentistry.

Avail yourself now of the efficient and economical service offered by dentists using the E. R. Parker System.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Again the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra concerts form a delightful incentive for hostesses to entertain groups of friends before the evening and afternoon concerts.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Frankel will have in their loge Dr. and Mrs. Rensen Bird of Occidental College and Arthur Moulton Baird, the latter being the husband of Martha Baird, soloist of the pair of concerts. Following the concert, Mr. and Mrs. Frankel will entertain with an informal supper in their apartments at the Biltmore honoring Mr. and Mrs. Baird and Dr. and Mrs. Bird.

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Claudius Rives are entertaining at dinner in their home, preceding the concert, Mr. and Mrs. A. Stephen Vavra, taking them afterward to their loge at the Philharmonic.

Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. George Edwin Clossman and Mrs. Mayme Clossman-Koska are entertaining a party of friends at the Biltmore for luncheon, taking their guests afterward to the concert. Covers will be arranged for twenty guests.

Mrs. John McClurg Hays of Pittsburgh and Wheeling, W. Va., who is passing the winter in Southern California, will give a small luncheon at the Biltmore tomorrow afternoon preceding the concert.

Other hostesses who are planning luncheon parties before the afternoon concert include Mrs. Frank William Davey, Mrs. Chester Turner Hoag, Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, Mrs. Robert Irwin Rogers, Mrs. Georgia Keatinge Kennedy and Mrs. Charles Jeffras.

BURNING UP MONEY

YOU might as well throw dollar bills in the fire as wash fine silks and fluffy woolens in hot water. Perhaps you wonder how to get them clean any other way. Here's the answer:

White King Granulated Soap, made from the same sort of fine vegetable and nut oils that form the basis of good salad dressing, will yield quick, rich suds, thorough cleansing, and swift rinsing in the lukewarm water that delicate ginghams and prints demand. And it cannot injure anything that water won't harm. Its purity makes it safe.

White King solves every household washing problem—fabrics, dishes, silver, glass, floors, woodwork. And it's economical. A teaspoonful for the wash basin, a cupful for the washing machine—plenty. Put it on your list for today. Sold by your grocer.

THEY ENTERTAINED SUBDEBS

Hostesses of Attractive Luncheon

[Curtis Biltmore studios]

Mrs. F. H. V. Collins and Daughter Gene

MRS. F. H. V. COLLINS and her attractive young daughter, Miss Gene Collins, of North Sycamore avenue, Hollywood, entertained recently with an attractively appointed luncheon, followed by a theater party at El Capitan. The guests, classmates of Miss Gene at Westlake Hollywood School for Girls, included Misses Betty Cord, Elizabeth Murphy, Elizabeth Bassett, Barbara Easley, Betty Turton, Jane North and Elizabeth Shaffer, Mrs. William Lee Woollett and Mrs. D. T. Shaffer assisted Mrs. Collins in chaperoning the young subdebs. The luncheon table was centered with a huge bowl of pink roses and ferns, while tall pink whip candles lighted the board.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

HAM ROLL

Sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with five level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one teaspoonful of salt, chop into this three tablespoonfuls of butter and mix to a smooth dough with a scant cupful of milk, roll out a half an inch thick, on a floured board, and spread with a mixture made of one and one-half cupfuls of finely chopped cold boiled ham, one teaspoonful of onion juice, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, and one teaspoonful of made mustard. Roll up like a jelly roll, place in a baking pan, brush over with melted butter and bake for fifteen minutes in a hot oven. Place on a hot platter and pour over a white sauce.

WHOLEWHEAT SCONES

Sift three cupfuls of wholewheat flour with one cupful of white flour, six level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a half a teaspoonful of salt, and one tablespoonful of sugar, chop into this six tablespoonfuls of butter or shortening, and when like coarse meal, work to a smooth dough with one and a half cupfuls of milk. Turn out on a floured board, divide into even-sized pieces, roll out each piece, in a round about one inch thick, cut in four crosswise, place on a baking sheet, and brush with beaten egg, bake in a hot oven.

PUREE OF ONIONS

Boil two large peeled onions that have been cut in slices in boiling water until tender, drain and chop fine, heat three tablespoonfuls of flour, mix well, season with salt and pepper, add two cupfuls of the water the onions were boiled in and two cupfuls of boiling water in which one teaspoonful of beef extract has been dissolved, and stir until thick. Simmer for thirty minutes, rub through a sieve, reheat and add a half a cupful of hot cream. Serve with croutons.

APPLESAUCE CAKE

Beat to a cream a half a cupful of butter or shortening, and one cupful of sugar, sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with one-quarter of a teaspoonful of cloves, one and a half teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, one teaspoonful of nutmeg, a half a teaspoonful of baking soda and two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, add to the creamed butter and sugar, alternately with one cupful of strained apple sauce, and beat until smooth, add one cupful of seedless raisins, mix well, fill butter and floured layer cake tins with the mixture, and bake in a moderate oven.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, "PRACTICAL RECIPES," published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

For Bride-elect

Mrs. Cloyd Green and Mrs. D. Eugene Kinnett were hostesses Saturday at a delightful bridge and china shower at the latter's home in honor of Miss Margaret Miller, fiancee of Harry G. Hartwell, Jr. Flowers and decorations, as well as the dainty refreshments, carried out the Halloween motif, colors employed being black and orange. The honored guest was presented with a huge pumpkin which contained a china set in her favorite pattern. Guests included Mmes. Erwin Harlan, Harry G. Hartwell, Sr., Clifford Lewis, G. H. Miller, Earnest Preston, Roy Reynolds, J. Floyd Rice, William Stewart, Louis Bell, Arthur Merrick and the Misses Ebba Bowman, Kathryn Colburn, Betty Deats, Marion Graaf, Cornelia Glover, Carmen Lillywhite, Esther Pearson, Marjorie Slough, Helen Stough, Blanche Snyder, little Jane Miller and the honoree.

For Bride-Elect

A lovely affair of recent date was the buffet supper with which Miss Marjorie Reynolds of 653 North Berendo street entertained in honor of Miss Charlotte Williams and her fiance, Wilbur Printz, whose engagement was announced recently. Decorations carried out a white and green color motif and the guests included Misses Marjorie Burr, Ruth Burr, Bernice Webster, Betty Pollock, Margaret Graham, Alice Deline, and Denton Williams, Kenneth Wickert, Fred Hoffine, Dick Cassidy, Tom Lawrence, James Waugh, Bill Andrews, Messrs. and Mmes. C. B. Williams, W. L. Reynolds, the honor guests and hostess.

Felicitations

Congratulations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Clinton La Tourrette of 5326 Lemon Grove avenue over the arrival, October 25, in Hollywood Hospital, of a tiny son, who will be christened Louis Ten Eycke La Tourrette, after his two grandfathers.

Mrs. La Turrette formerly was Miss Elizabeth Myers, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Louis Wescott Myers of 269 South Lorraine Boulevard.

Gone East

Mrs. Deighton Simpson and her daughter, Miss Constance Deighton Simpson of West Pico street, left Sunday for Boston, where they were called by the serious illness of the former's son, Douglas Deighton Simpson, who recently had to undergo an operation. Before returning home Mrs. Deighton Simpson and her daughter will probably visit in New York City and Washington, D. C.

Betrothal Tea

At one of the loveliest affairs of the season the engagement of Miss Eleanor Roehr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Magnus Roehr of North Fuller avenue, Hollywood, to N. Michael Kacsur was announced at a bridge-tea given Saturday, October 25, in the Corticle Lido of the Hollywood Knickerbocker. The news was cleverly told by Gloria Riedel, the tiny cousin of the hostess, who acted as herald, distributing small colonial corsages, to which were attached the betrothal cards. No date is set as yet for the wedding, which, however, will be an event of the holiday season.

Bridge was enjoyed and later a delicious tea served. The tea table carried out a colonial motif in decorations of pink and yellow roses and tall wax tapers. The hostess was assisted by her mother and Mrs. Harold Rey (Marjory Dare,) a bride of last December.

Miss Roehr was graduated several years ago from University of Southern California, and was active in campus affairs, being a member of Kappa Delta Sorority, and secretary of her class. Her fiance received his schooling abroad.

Those included were Mmes. Magnus Roehr, V. T. Reuter, William Riedel, Harold Rey, Richard Whittington, Hugh Sears, Ralph McGoey, Marshall Hartranft, Charles Lechner, Ernest Chamberlain, William H. Johnson, Carl Hahsen and Misses Barbara Nedve, Ione Cowan, Ruth Dare, Virginia Hagelberg, Lyle Schroeder, Harrier Bailey, Thelma Weagley, Janette Johnson, Betty Donnelly, Rose Donnelly, tiny Gloria Riedel and the hostess, Miss Eleanor Roehr.

Formal Tea

Bel-Air Country Club was the setting recently for a formal tea given by members of Delta Psi Omega Sorority of Holmby College, the affair serving to present eleven pledges.

In the receiving line were Miss Eunice Webster, the sponsor; Miss Mary Della Callahan, president; Miss Marjorie Beidler, vice-president; Miss Virginia Lee, secretary, and the following pledges: Misses Ruth Brown, Helene Davidson, Judith Edwards, Helen Houck, Nancy Killgore, Elisabeth Martin, Mildred Randolph, Christine Rice, Dorothy Rohnert, Marian Thorpe and Mary Margaret Trotter.

Miss Mary Bly, harpist, gave a delightful program during the afternoon, the hours being from 4 till 6 o'clock.

Luncheon Party

Mrs. Charles Jeffras entertained with a very smart luncheon party at the Ambassador Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Robert Browning Twining, wife of Lieutenant-Commander Twining, and Misses Anita and Ruth Tarrant, daughters of Admiral and Mrs. William Tarrant. Her guests were: Miss Helen Moore, Miss Daisy Parsons, Mrs. George Hull, Miss Mary Peace, Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Mrs. Robert Ogden, Miss Flora Hollingsworth, Mrs. Myron Etienne, Mrs. Herbert Howard, Miss Betty Jane Caldwell, Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. Leonard Harbach, Miss Virginia Ducommon, Miss Glen Helen Winnett, Miss Martha Marsh, Miss Eleanor Roberts, Miss Hazel Nelson, Miss Ann Katharine Flint, Miss Carol Henderson, Mrs. Hunt Stromberg, Miss Elizabeth Wellborn, Miss Jane Woodin, Mrs. Robert H. Edwards, Mrs. Nathaniel Jeffras and Mrs. John B. Browne, Jr.

Sorority Supper-Dance

Alpha Beta Gamma Sorority of Holmby College entertained with a supper-dance November 1, in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt. The table was beautifully decorated in the sorority colors of green and gold. The hostesses included Misses Helen Herron, Margaret Ann Kendall, Jessamine McCollum, Betty Philbrick, Elizabeth McCollum, Kathrine McCarthy, Marian Ferris, Elizabeth Warner, Nadine Hostetler, Jean McKee, Marjorie Hay, Elizabeth Boerma, Ethel Hill, Roberta Perainger, and their escorts Bob Heffner, Ballard Crooker, Albert Harris, Frederick Pagers, Richard Justice, Bob Walker, Don MacKinnon, Stuart Peters, Bob Young, Dick Walker, Bill Warner, Fred Stimfig, Bob Schrub and Robert Peterson. Mr. and Mrs. William Livingston were chaperons.

Cleaner Rings

A tiny feather pulled back and forth between the prongs of the diamond ring and under the stone will clean the ring nicely.

Morning Mouth

Everybody has it... Astring-o-sol corrects it

Charm is impossible till you remove this Morning Beauty Taint

This 4-ounce bottle makes 12 full pints of refreshing mouth wash.

Don't let that unpleasant Morning-Mouth taste mar your charm. Shake a few dashes of Astring-o-sol in a quarter-glass of water when you get up. Then gargle the tingling liquid and swish it through your teeth!

Watch this simple Astring-o-sol treatment rid you of that taste. Your mouth and throat will feel cooled, refreshed and clean. Your breath will be purified. And you'll feel pepped up and ready for the day.

Astring-o-sol's amazing effectiveness as a mouth wash is due to the fact that it penetrates down deep into the tissues, tiny crevices and pockets; exerts a powerful antiseptic and germicidal action that kills the germs embedded there; is absolutely safe to the most delicate tissues; produces a mild astringent action that helps to drive out bacteria; and leaves an antiseptic effect that remains at the sources of infection for hours.

Because Astring-o-sol is a concentrated preparation, it: 1. Does More—you can use it in any strength; 2. Costs Less to Use—a 4-ounce bottle makes 12 full pints of refreshing mouth wash; 3. Tastes Better—you can dilute it to suit your taste; 4. Takes Up Less Space — in your medicine cabinet or traveling bag.

Try a bottle today. Dentists and Doctors use Astring-o-sol and prescribe it to their patients for its superior penetrating power, powerful antiseptic and germicidal activity, effective astringent and cleansing qualities.

FREE!

An artistic Lanster Glass—in your choice of 5 beautiful pastel colors—is given FREE with every bottle of Astring-o-sol. Your neighborhood druggist is now featuring this special introductory offer.

ELECTRO-THERAPY TREATMENTS

People have become remarkably interested in the different types of treatment with heat, light and electricity, and from all over the world letters pour in asking me to describe these treatments and outline the good which may reasonably be expected from them. The majority of people seem to be interested in the ultra-violet ray light, which is also known by various other names, such as actinic light, quartz light, sunshine light, Kromire light, mercury-quartz light, etc.

have become remarkably in the different types of with heat, light and elec- and from all over the world your in asking me to de- these treatments and outline and which may reasonably be from them. The majority seem to be interested in ultra-violet ray light, which is known by various other names, as actinic light, quartz light, light, Kromire light, mer- quartz light, etc.

The ultra-violet rays given off these lamps are very powerful and much more concentrated than the same rays given off by the sun. These rays do not redden the skin while being exposed, but reddening and burning may develop later if the treatment has been too long.

The treatment with the ultra-violet has been used with success in eczema, tuberculosis, rickets and many other diseases. The light increases the body's resistance in general and also its ability to absorb calcium and to metabolize fats. When concentrated, the light may be used to remove moles and warts, and may be given locally in such disorders as tonsilitis, infections in the mouth, ears, etc.

The ultra-violet light is primarily a chemical ray treatment; the deep therapy lamp is more of a heat treatment. A deep therapy lamp is the large lamp of five or six thousand candlepower which may be used over the abdomen or back and causes the organs to be bathed in an increased blood supply, and is of great assistance in aiding nutrition and elimination from the organs. The deep therapy lamp is often helpful in cases of branchitis or sore throat. This lamp's rays relax the body's tissues and for this reason are a valuable help in all manipulative treatments and the light and heat also help the elimination of toxins and promote the rapidity of healing.

The infra-red rays are at the opposite end of the spectrum from the ultra-violet rays. These are the heat-giving rays which are used to speed up the granulation of wounds and to stimulate the healing power of the body.

Diathermy is another method of treatment which is now found in many doctor's offices. By using this treatment the doctor can cause any amount of heat to be formed deep within the patient's body where other heat, such as from the hot water bottle or deep therapy lamp does not penetrate. The only sensation which the patient feels is a relaxing and pleasant sense of warmth. This heat brings a greater supply of blood to the sick area where it will do the most good. This machine is very valuable in pneumonia where the doctor wants heat to be generated deep within the chest, and the treatment is also beneficial in rheumatism, neuritis, asthma, sciatica, sprains and lumbago.

The sinusoidal current is another and quite different method of applying electricity to the body, as this current acts upon the muscles in much the same way that normal nerve impulses act. When the internal muscles have been neglected for years and the patient is really losing the use of them they can be put through a series of movements by this machine which causes the muscles to contract or relax. When properly used this machine is of value in raising prolapsed organs and in many cases of paralysis as well as intestinal weakness.

It is very unusual now to find a doctor's office which is not equipped with some of these methods of using electricity. In well-equipped offices you will find all of them; the possession of such instruments is an indication that the doctor is aware of all of the latest improved methods used in the cure of disease.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

The Gas Bill

Gas bills can be reduced greatly if the housewife will use a steamer with two or three compartments. All the vegetables for the meal may be prepared over the one burner instead of three, with exactly the same results. If all the compartments are not required, eggs may be hard boiled for next day's lunch or beets cooked for pickling.

A Handy Can

We have an old coffee can which we keep in the cellarway, in which go all the odd nails, screws, hooks and tacks that are always being found around the house at odd times. It is impossible to tell how often this can produces just exactly the thing we want at just the right time.

STORE RUN FOR DAY BY AMATEURS

Junior League Conducts Bullock's Wilshire Sales for Hospital Benefit

One hundred members of the Junior League of Los Angeles, acting as amateur saleswomen, yesterday took over the entire activities of Bullock's Wilshire for one day in the interest of their Junior League hospital fund.

The efficiency of the new clerks astonished everyone and their customers purchased more than was originally intended. Many of the Junior League members acted as manikins both in the tea room, where elaborate luncheon parties were held, and in various sections throughout the store, displaying the newest things in coats, dresses, pyjamas, negligees, hats, shoes and smart accessories.

One of the highlights of the affair was the assembling of merchandise by Junior Leaguers for the windows. The young women surprised even the experienced decorators and it was with difficulty that the three prize windows were chosen by the judges.

The first prize, a beautifully decorated picture frame, was awarded Mrs. Frank Matthiessen, who chose men's formal wear and accessories to display in her window.

Helen Barry won the second prize, a charming antique brocade bag, for her amusing display of Christmas toys—a regular circus parade effect, "Ready for Santa's Pack."

The third prize, a bottle of perfume, went to Mary O'Neil for her polo window, in which were included numerous cups won by American teams.

Mrs. Bradner Lee, Jr., and Mrs. Hans Koebig received honorable mention.

K. of C. Will Tour Europe

With nine foreign countries on the itinerary several hundred Southern Californians are expected to make the fourth annual summer vacation tour to Europe sponsored by the local council of the Knights of Columbus.

The party will leave Los Angeles early next June on a special Union Pacific train, according to an announcement made yesterday by Thomas B. Flanagan, financial secretary.

The party will sail from New York on June 28 on a Cunard liner. Reservations are now being made through the Mullin Travel Service.

AUTOPSY ORDERED IN CITY WORKER'S DEATH

Chief Deputy Coroner Macdonald yesterday ordered an autopsy on the body of John Breig, 53 years of age, city employee of 1119 East Fifty-ninth street, found dead in the cellar of his home. Breig, according to a Sheriff's office report, was discovered lifeless across a barrel of mash in the cellar by his nephew, Emil Breig. He leaves two grown daughters and a son.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

USE OF PROFANE WORDS NATURAL STAGE OF CHILDHOOD

There is a particular age at which children experiment in the use of all kinds of words. When the child goes out to play, sometimes even before that, he hears words used by adults which ill become his childish lips. In our diligent efforts to end the use of such words we are inclined to do just the things that encourage instead of discourage them.

If the word is a good one, we applaud its use; if it is a "swear" word we become highly excited, tremendously upset, and highly denunciatory. "Where on earth did you hear that word? Now march right upstairs and wash out your mouth with soap. That horrid, horrid word has dirtied your sweet little mouth."

MOTHER'S REACTION ALL-IMPORTANT

Of course, soap isn't pleasant, but the impression made upon the child by his mother's actions are far more lasting than the taste of the soap. He finds that a cannon cracker in his mother's ear is mild compared with his use of a good round "darn." Why should we act in a manner that will cause the child to repeat the word for the sake of its impression upon us, when we really want to stop his using it?

One young man of 6 was an ardent user of swear words. In fact he used them so constantly that the horrified neighbors refused to allow him to play with their children. Naturally his mother made every effort to end the habit. She scolded, she shamed, she threatened, and spanked, but he could not be trusted. The more emphasis she laid upon the desirability of never, never saying such things, the more frequently he said them.

One day he was invited to a party. His mother told the hostess frankly, "Now you send him home the very minute he says a bad word. I won't be hurt at all. He just must be punished." So off he went bright and shining, and a half-hour later he was back again. Without one word of questioning his irate mother took him over her knee and administered a sound spanking. Then she marched him upstairs to bed, and as she closed the door and he got his breath he said, between sobs, "The darn party ain't till next week."

PROPER TREATMENT

Why should parents keep on using methods which prove so useless? The very moment that a child begins using words that are not for children's lips, say quietly, "You must talk with words that you understand. You don't know the meaning of this word and so it is silly to use it." Pretend indifference, or even actual lack of understanding of what he says. The word then, no matter what it is, becomes meaningless to the child. If some other child uses it, tell your child that he doesn't know what he is talking about. He is a little boy using words that adults use and not knowing what they mean.

Don't get excited about the word. Don't do anything dramatic like washing a mouth out with soap. All such methods simply make the word that much more attractive, that much more thrilling to use, and just habit does the rest. Without even wanting to, or meaning to, a word like that becomes fixed in the child's language. Don't let it.

FIRST DIVISION SOCIETY PLANS CELEBRATION

Southern California Sector, First Division Society, A.E.F., will celebrate the anniversary of the armistice Monday evening at 306 West Third street. The veterans will assemble at 7 o'clock, get in line and partake of the feast, army style. A feature will be that the cooks and kitchen police will be the former officers of the division. The mess sergeant will be Col. Harcourt Hervey, assisted by majors, captains and lieutenants. Reservations should be made through Capt. Arthur King. Russell Barker of the entertainment committee, announces as a feature the appearance of the Firemen's orchestra. Vaudeville acts and radio artists will make up the rest of the program.

Final Rites for Pioneer to Be Today

Funeral services for James Henry Adams, retired banker and Southern California pioneer, who died Monday at his home, 711 West Forty-third street, will be conducted at 10 a.m. today in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Adams was 89 years of age. He was born in Bertrand, Mich. He came to Southern California forty-two years ago. During the '90's he founded several banks in Covina, Azusa and other cities. He was a veteran of the Civil War. He leaves two sons, R. H. and Guy E. Adams; two daughters, Mrs. Bertha Eckert and Mrs. Olga Renick, all of Los Angeles; one brother in South Dakota, and two sisters, Mrs. Mertha B. Pepper, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Helen W. Kendall, Glendale.

JUNIOR COLLEGE WILL GIVE ROBOT DRAMA

"R. U. R.," Karel Capek's imaginative drama of universal robots, will be presented with the use of papier-mache masks for the first time on any California university stage by the Los Angeles Junior College tomorrow and Saturday evenings. It will be directed by Harold Turney of the dramatics department, and Mary Lee Magarian, student assistant. A cast of more than thirty students will support the leads played by William Seineke, Gene Neilson, John Haig, Harold Owens, June Denny and William Calvert. Dr. Edmund Cykler's fifty-piece orchestra will play specially arranged scores.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

WHAT TO DO?

What to do? Would we could tell
What we do is always well.
—Bobby Coon.

Bobby Coon was running in a panic. This means that he was so frightened that he was running without any thought or plan. Behind a dog was barking and Bobby didn't need to see that dog to know that he was running with his nose to the ground and that he was having no trouble in following every twist and turn that he (Bobby Coon) had made. You see, Bobby's scent was so fresh and strong that the dog easily followed it by means of that wonderful nose of his. And back of the dog was the dog's master and at least one other hunter. Bobby knew this by the sound of voices which had reached him. Do you wonder that he was in a panic? It is a dreadful thing to have to turn and run for one's life.

Bobby's first thought was to run straight for his home, a certain big hollow tree, and he did head for it. By the time he was nearly there he had begun to get over his panic and do some real thinking.

"This won't do," thought Bobby. "No, sir, this won't do. If that dog were alone it would be all right. For that matter, if the dog were alone I could climb any of these trees and laugh at him, for thank goodness a dog cannot climb a tree. But those heartless hunters can climb or they can cut a tree down. It will not do to let them know where my home is. No, sir, it will not do at all. Somehow I must get rid of that dog, but how? Already I am getting tired. This is what comes of being so fat. Oh, dear, what to do? What to do? If I could reach the ledges deep in the green forest I would be safe. But they are too far away. I'm too fat to run so far. I am getting out of breath this very minute. I must have a bit of rest and a chance to regain a bit of rest and a chance to regain my health. Oh, dear, what to do?"

Bobby made for a certain big hemlock tree and scrambled up. A little more than halfway up a big branch extended and touched a big branch of a neighboring tree. The two branches formed a bridge over which Chatterer the Red Squirrel had crossed many time. Bobby crossed that way now. In the same manner he crossed from this second tree to another. Then, taking care to make no noise, he climbed down to the ground and once more took to his heels just as the dog reached the foot of the tree Bobby had climbed.

There was a sudden change in the dog's barking. There was even more excitement in it than before. "We've got him! We've got him! He's up in this tree! Hurry up! Hurry up! Hurry up!" he was barking,

Bobby made for a certain big hemlock tree and scrambled up and his master heard and understood.

Presently there was a crashing of brush and two hunters appeared at the foot of the tree. "We've treed him, all right; but I fear it is going to prove a hard tree to find him in," said one.

"I'll climb it. You be ready to shoot him," said the other

So this hunter began to climb the big hemlock tree, and the other hunter stood ready with a gun, and the dog barked more excitedly than ever. Bobby Coon, hearing all the noise, did his best to run faster.

"I must get away as far as I can before they find that I am not in that tree," panted Bobby. "Oh, dear, where, oh where shall I go? What to do? Oh, what to do? Where can I go that those hunters cannot bet me? I guess I'll have to try the old trick of breaking my trail by wading in the Laughing Brook, but it has been tried so often that I fear it will not work. I have a feeling that that dog and those hunters know all about that trick. I wonder where Farmer Brown's boy is? I didn't think he would let hunters come over here in the Green Forest. Oh, dear! Oh, dear!"

Meanwhile, the hunter in the tree was climbing higher and higher. As he climbed he flashed a light along each branch. "I don't believe that coon is in this tree at all," he called down.

"Then he must be in the next tree," replied the other hunter.

So the hunter in the tree came down and climbed the next tree with the same result.

"I'll take the dog and see if we can pick up his trail, for he must have come down without our knowing it," said the other.

Two minutes later the dog found Bobby's trail where he had come to the ground again and the hunt was on once more.

Make No Mistake
when you buy sanitary pads
—specify Kotex

Kotex is five times as absorbent as surgical cotton; it is designed to fit perfectly; it deodorizes. Hospitals use it—so should you.

YOU can't be too careful in choosing sanitary pads. Your health, your comfort are at stake. Old-fashioned methods are trying, uncomfortable, unhygienic. Substitutes for the best are unnecessary. Specify Kotex. It costs so little that women in every walk of life are using it. And once they try it, they never go back to other methods again.

Kotex is safe. Plenty of women have discovered that. Women who are on their feet all day, working hard, busy socially. They find that it gives a feeling of security you can't duplicate.

Designed to fit

It is designed to fit perfectly. Corners are rounded and tapered to fit inconspicuously under all types of frocks. It deodorizes. It is unbelievably soft and yielding. And—what is more—it stays soft. Indeed, Kotex is guaranteed to stay soft longer, to last longer than any other sanitary pad.

Kotex is made of Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding, laid in many air-cooled layers which you can adjust to your own needs. Each of these delicate layers is a quick, complete absorbent in itself—and tests have shown that Kotex is actually five times as absorbent as surgical cotton.

Hospitals use Kotex

Hospitals discovered that fact shortly after Kotex was invented and immediately they began to use it in preference to cotton. Today, 85% of our leading hospitals use Kotex absorbent. They specify Kotex for their women patients. They use millions and millions of pads a year.

Surely you could ask no safer guide in your own choice of sanitary protection than this overwhelming preference by hospitals, where hygienic safety and the greatest possible comfort are essential.

Next time you buy sanitary pads, specify Kotex. Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

KOTEX IS SOFT . . .

1. Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.
2. The Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.
3. In hospitals . . . The Kotex absorbent is the identical material used by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals.
4. Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly, by a special process.
5. Disposable, instantly, completely.

At 4 o'clock Sugar will help give you new Vigor

Wise indeed is the business man or woman who in mid-afternoon munches a piece of candy or takes "time out" for a moment for a sweetened drink. Such foods with their refined sugar content can do wonders in nourishing and thereby reviving a work-fagged body.

Scientists tell us that refined sugar cannot be matched by any other food product for quickness in nourishing the system. Its value, therefore, as presented in cookies, candy, milk drinks, tea or coffee, should not be overlooked. A glass of water sweetened with sugar has a remarkable revivifying effect.

These foods and beverages are readily accessible to the great majority of people in business.

Extensive experiments among office workers have proved that a sweet of some sort eaten in mid-afternoon renews vigor in a most speedy, satisfactory way. The Sugar Institute.

Move for Early Building of Breakwater Afoot

Project's Advance to Higher Class Projected

Port Envoys Carry Plea to National Capital

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Expedition of construction by the Federal government of the authorized extension of the Los Angeles-Long Beach breakwater will be asked at once, it was decided yesterday by the Harbor Commission, meeting at its San Pedro offices.

George Nicholson, port engineer, and H. H. Harris, deputy City Attorney, were instructed to proceed at once, leaving here last night for the national capital, where they will lay the city's request before the Board of Army Engineers.

The extension was authorized during the past session of Congress, but put by the engineers in Class Three. That class is for construction not deemed urgent, and generally requires years before gaining action. The mission of Nicholson and Harris will be to induce the board to advance the project into either Class One or Two. If inserted in Class One, it is understood construction would get under way within a few months; if in Class Two work might get under way in a year and a half.

Prospects for advancing the project on the building calendar are declared good in view of the government's desire at this time to stimulate Federal construction in the interests both of economy and employment.

While in Washington, Harris also will seek legal records wanted in Los Angeles city's suit to quiet title to water-front property in dispute. His assistant, Joseph T. Watson, already is at the capital.

VALUATION PLACED ON STRIP FOR FERRY

An appraised value of $1,094,625 was placed on 3000 feet of San Pedro water frontage sought from the Southern Pacific by the city of Los Angeles for ferry and other purposes, according to a report by the Mayor's Ferry Committee, reporting yesterday to the Harbor Commission.

The appraisal was made by W. H. Daum, president of the California Realty Association, as the final act of the committee, whose labors have extended over a year. That committee comprises L. C. Mott, president of San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, chairman; Shannon Crandall, former president of Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; George Nicholson, port engineer; Merrill, city bridge engineer, and Fred Eubank, Wilmington Chamber of Commerce.

The area runs along the channel from First to Tenth streets, then inland, irregularly to E. K. Wood lumber yard, and comprises 283,600 square feet. Valuation of different units range mostly around $1 and $2 a square foot, the waterfront unit being $762,025; the rest $332,600.

Appraisals also have been made for the Southern Pacific Railway by D. F. McClary, and the Harbor Commission is expected to confer with railway officials at once. It is understood the railway evaluation is materially higher, but that line officials have indicated a desire to meet city terms, as the Southern Pacific is not in the dock business.

The proposed acquirement is an outgrowth of the Council's promise of an adequate ferry system made in 1909 to induce San Pedro to come into the city of Los Angeles. The strip would afford not only a ferry slip but locations for modern passenger terminals, of which the city has none, as well as additional freight facilities.

The committee's considerations also took in proposals of a bridge across the channel, or a tube, both of which were rejected. Loss to Los Angeles of a major portion of Terminal Island business through lack of adequate communication is cited in the report.

Efforts were being made late yesterday to refloat Tommy's Lee's six-meter racing sloop Caprice, which was mysteriously sunk at her moorings at the California Yacht Club last Monday night. Divers located her early yesterday and she was expected to be raised by derrick barge last night.

Capt. A. C. Paulsen will bring the Panama Mail liner Guatemala in from New York, via the canal and Central American ports, this morning with 100 passengers and 3400 tons of freight.

Prominent among her passengers are Earl Suydam, head of Suydam bakeries on the Pacific Coast; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Short, prominent in Honolulu society; Jerry Vasconcelles, Denver banker, with Mrs. Vasconcelles, and Maj. Thomas B. Kennedy, U.S.A., retired, with Mrs. Kennedy.

Harbor commissioners yesterday remitted half of the full pilotage charged the Norwegian whaling tanker Kosmos, here late in the summer to lift 130,000 barrels of fuel oil for use in the Antarctics. The ship's call was listed as "commercial," whereas Sconhoft Ship Supply Company, agent, insisted the fuel was taken as bunkers, justifying the half pilotage rate. The commission ordered its tariff redrawn to obviate misinterpretation in the future, when full rates will be charged full cargoes.

"DERELICT" TO OPEN AT PARAMOUNT

With George Bancroft appearing in person at both evening performances tonight in connection with the opening of "Derelict," the Paramount Theater has arranged an entertaining program.

In addition to the presentation of "Derelict" on the screen, the first stage show direct from New York, "Sky High," will be offered. It is a Frank Cambria production. Rubinoff will conduct the orchestra in "Victor Herbert's Gems."

Earl Abel, the newly acquired Paramount organist, has arranged a novel organ solo. An all-talking comedy and Paramount sound news completes the program.

Gilbert Stars in Picture at Loew's Today

John Gilbert fights, frolics and romances his way through a number of world ports and adventures in his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, "Way for a Sailor," starting today at Loew's State Theater, with Wallace Beery featured in the supporting cast. The new picture is said to be a striking departure from the star's previous roles.

The feminine lead is portrayed by Leila Hyams. Others are Polly Moran and Doris Lloyd. Sam Wood directed from a novel by Albert Richard Wetjen.

Rube Wolf starts his final two weeks today as master of ceremonies on the stage at Loew's State. Panchon and Marco's new presentation is called "Espanola."

Carrillo Tells Stage Ambition

Leo Carrillo's ambition is to portray the young husband in a modern comedy of domestic life.

"Fate or the playwright seems to condemn me to roving roles and I never have any home life on the stage," says the star of "Mister Antonio," which Henry Duffy is presenting at the Hollywood Playhouse.

"I am always a gypsy, a bandit, a toreador, a priest, or a Mississippi gambler. Now I am an Italian hurdy-gurdy man. The only time I got to play indoors was in 'Lombardi, Ltd.' and then I was the proprietor of a dressmaking shop.

"I wish someone would write a play in which I could wear evening clothes, as other stars, and conduct witty and occasionally romantic dialogue with the heroine."

ALICE D. G. MILLER REMAINS AT M.-G.-M.

Alice D. G. Miller is one of the small group of writers who have survived the tests of dialogue writing and emerged with honors.

Despite offers from other studios, made when her availability was reported, Miss Miller is remaining with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer on Irving Thalberg's writing staff and will be associated with the unit headed by Hunt Stromberg for the creation of a Ramon Novarro vehicle.

OAKIE "GOES NATIVE" TODAY AT BARD'S

Jack Oakie and Jeanette MacDonald in a South Sea island farce, "Let's Go Native," starts today at Bard's Eighth street Theater.

In the cast supporting the festive Oakie and Miss MacDonald are James Hall, William Austin, Eugene Pallette, Kay Francis and Skeets Gallagher.

That fascinating young singer, Jose Mojica, is not to be allowed to go forth into the cold world without a new contract as has been the case with so many vocalists who have been engaged by picture concerns since the rise of talking pictures.

DON JOSE MOJICA

Instead Mojica yesterday signed a new long-term contract with Fox under the terms of which he is to appear as star in three pictures, probably musicals, to be produced by the organization next year.

In the meantime Senor Mojica is leaving for a concert tour involving appearances in France, Italy and Spain. He will return to this country in February to fulfill some grand opera engagements in Chicago and New York, and thence will come back to Hollywood to start work on the first of the three Fox pictures for which he is scheduled. So far no announcement of stories has been made.

There is a possibility that if the market looks favorable Mojica may star in a film grand opera or two, but nothing has been settled. However, it appears inevitable that in time grand opera will reach the screen, and the Fox company, ever anxious to give the public the highest class product possible, may decide to go in for the classics.

MEXICAN PLAYER WITH UNIVERSAL

Another Mexican stage star has been acquired by Universal, and will shortly, we learned yesterday, sign a long-term contract with that organization.

CELIA MONTALVAN

The star is named Celia Montalvan. She was an ornament of the stage in Mexico City before coming to Los Angeles. Scouts for Universal saw her down there, and offered her a lead in a Spanish version of "Boudoir Diplomat."

Arriving, she created such a very favorable impression that it is reported as certain that she will sign a contract, not only for Spanish pictures, but for English language ones as well, especially as she is studying to perfect her English. Miss Montalvan is said to be a sort of happy combination of Norma Talmadge and Gloria Swanson, both as to looks and ability.

ANOTHER CINDERELLA SIGNED BY RADIO

No matter how our pictures advance in the matter of sophistication, the young actresses who get into them continue to at ain their ambitions along the same old Cinderella lines.

LOIS RICHARDSON

Take Lois Richardson, for instance. Miss Richardson was yesterday morning just a pretty little girl in the wardrobe department of Radio Pictures studio. Yesterday afternoon she was an actress with a part opposite Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, comedians, in "Hook, Line and Sinker."

It was on the spur of the moment that Edward Cline, the director, decided on Miss Richardson. A girl was needed for a nice part, and there wasn't an actress on the lot who was available. Cline's eye fell on Lois.

"Girl," said he, "come here."

"H-mmmm, said Eddie.

"H-mmmmm," said Wheeler.

"Uh-huh," said Woolsey.

She is a very pretty girl, and as matters turned out, she responded beautifully to direction, we hear; so that there is no likelihood that she will have to go back to the wardrobe department.

Alice Day Expects Stork

Alice Day, pretty screen actress and the wife of Jack Cohn, broker, is, we learn on good authority, expecting the visit of the stork late next spring. In the meantime, Miss Day is in the Hollywood Hospital suffering with a severe cold.

Tiompkin Writes for Glass

Dimitri Tiompkin, musical composer, who was imported from New York to write the music for Universal's "Resurrection," has finished his task and is about to go east.

The composer has been engaged by Montague Glass, he tells us, to write the music for a show based on a story Glass is to write.

Gayne Whitman Plays Lead

Gayne Whitman, despite his good looks, gave such a good presentment of a hard-hearted villain in a Universal serial recently that he has been engaged for another such role in a new serial called "Heroes of the Flame."

Robert Hill will direct the chapter play, the story of which was written by Henry MacRae, who is in charge of all serials at Universal.

Ilka Chase to Stage

Ilka Chase, who has been vampiring around in the talkers during the past year or two, is going to quit Hollywood temporarily at least.

Miss Chase, we learned yesterday, is leaving within a week or so for New York, where she will appear in a new play to be produced by David Belasco, but not yet titled.

Actress Regains Spotlight

Sarah Padden

Who was a former vaudeville and stage favorite, plays the chief character role in "Today," the film starting today at the R.-K.-O. Theater.

"LIFE OF PARTY" HELD OVER

Winnie Lightner's screen comedy, "The Life of the Party," is proving successful and will be held over for a second week at both Warner Brothers Hollywood and Downtown theaters.

"The Life of the Party" is not a musical comedy—it is all comedy and with the exception of one song by Miss Lightner, "Poison Ivy," the comedienne devotes herself entirely to the snaring of millionaires and extracting their bank rolls.

Arthur Caesar, Broadway wit, is responsible for some novel and sparkling dialogue. Roy Del Ruth is responsible for the direction.

The cast of the comedy includes Irene Delroy, Jack Whiting, Charles Butterworth and Charles Judels. Butterworth is said to run Miss Lightner a close race in laugh honors.

Star Continues Screen Battles in New Picture

One dark-haired film senorita is usually enough to keep two men busy fighting, but in Victor McLaglen's starring vehicle, "A Devil With Women," which starts today at the Boulevard Theater, the actor and his friend successfully come to blows over three charmers.

VICTOR McLAGLEN

Mona Maris, Luana Alcaniz and Mona Rico play the roles of the heartbreakers in the picture. A revolution forms the main background to the story. In the cast are included Humphrey Bogart, John St. Polis, Mrs. Jiminez and Michael Vavitch. Irving Cummings directed.

'Madam Satan' to Start Run in Hollywood

"Madam Satan" starts today at Pantages Hollywood Theater, together with a new program that includes a miniature musical presentation on the stage arranged by Le Roy Prinz.

The Cecil B. De Mille screen feature is based on an original story which concerns the film matrimonial adventures of Kay Johnson and Reginald Denny.

Le Roy Prinz, who produced the week's stage offering, is also responsible for some colorful ballet and dance numbers in the picture. Lillian Roth also has a prominent part.

Slim Martin and the orchestra have a new musical specialty prepared, and a Knute Rockne football film, news reel and short subjects will complete the bill.

Miss Greenwood Out to Set New Theater Record

Light-footed Charlotte Greenwood has leaped into her seventh week at El Capitan Theater in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath."

While she asserts that there is not much thrill in breaking her own record, she intends to smash her house box-office score of thirteen weeks established last season.

Interest in the farce has shown no sign of lagging since the opening night, the management reports. With Miss Greenwood in the cast are Johnny Arthur, Sally Starr, John Litel, Norma Drew, Grace Stafford and others.

Stars to Hear Mrs. Campbell

Several producers of Hollywood, Culver City and Universal City have hinted to their stars and players in talking pictures that they would not be at all displeased to see the actors at the lecture on "Beautiful Speech and the Art of Acting," which Mrs. Patrick Campbell will give Sunday night at the Vine-street Theater. The English beauty and actress will illustrate her topic by excerpts from scenes she has played on the stage.

A social interest is lent this special matinee by the fact that Mrs. Campbell is said to be one of the few English actresses of impregnable position in British society. On the stage she has never used her own name, Beatrice Stella Cornwallis-West, it is reported.

Noted Pianist Will Play at Philharmonic

BY I. M. J.

Martha Baird, American pianist, is better known in Europe than in her own country. She has returned to California to play tonight with the Philharmonic Orchestra of Los Angeles. For fifteen years Miss Baird has lived away from her native Pasadena and her performances tonight and tomorrow afternoon will meet a warm expectation from interested Southern Californians.

Miss Baird's stock has been American for several generations. But she has had the good fortune to have lived in England and Germany and to have imbibed their knowledge of the fine arts, also to have basked in the encouragement which Europeans offer earnest young musicians. This has given her a poise and assurance which many talented young Americans fail to acquire during years of buffeting and neglect.

Amusing experiences in the British Isles, playing with orchestras none too well subsidized and employing the substitute system, have taught Miss Baird appreciation of the fine orchestras of the United States. She is especially pleased to be presented this season with several of the major orchestras of the country. Preceding her Los Angeles appearance, she played with the Boston Symphony under Koussevitzky, and after performances with the San Francisco Symphony under Cameron and the Chicago orchestra with Stock, she will again play with the Boston orchestra.

Boston welcomes her as its own now as Miss Baird married an American of near-by Providence last May, having divorced her former husband from The Netherlands. She reports the music life of Boston as being greatly stimulated by the Brahms Festival of last season, when Arthur Schnabel, one of the world's greatest pianists and incidentally Miss Baird's teacher, played the Brahms concerti with Koussevitzky.

From her survey of European peoples, Miss Baird has drawn the unusual conclusion that the Latin races are not as genuinely emotional as the northern ones. She finds the latter more deeply responsive.

The pair of programs Dr. Redzinsky has planned for tonight and tomorrow afternoon will give the audiences a fair opportunity to settle this discussion of Latin and Teutonic temperaments, for there are the Latins: Berlioz, Coppola and Enesco; and the Germans: Beethoven and Schumann, represented. Miss Baird plays the enjoyable and poetic concerto in A minor by Schumann, his only one.

Honor Given Screen Writer

The honor of having her name placed in electric lights over the theater marquee has been accorded Zoe Akins by the producers of her current stage play, "The Greeks Had a Name for It." Less than a half-dozen feminine playwrights have enjoyed such recognition in the history of the New York stage.

Miss Akins returned to Hollywood recently, where her latest screen play for Ruth Chatterton, "The Right to Love," is in production at the Paramount studios.

SMALLMAN AND CHOIR WIN PRAISE

Distinguished Audience Hears Choral Singing at Philharmonic

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Unaccompanied choir singing in the West has reached a high state of excellence when it can attract as large and distinguished an audience as the Smallman A. Cappella Choir drew to the Philharmonic Auditorium last night. Aided by a small orchestra, pianos and organ, these thirty-six Los Angeles zealots for part-singing were conducted by John Smallman through a program remarkable for its interest and beauty.

This was the seventh Auditorium concert for this band and one of the most notable for unity sustained tone and intricate passage work. Beginning with an old Spanish motet sung with Russian vigor, the program continued with an old English carol; "Corpus Christi," by the young composer, Peter Warlock, Cesar Franck's "Gloria in Excelsis," with obbligatos by Axel Simonsen, violoncellist, and Ben Bolstad, tenor presented the great Belgian in a different light from that of his orchestral and chamber music compositions. It was a study in skillful antiphony.

"Sing we and chant it," is a favorite English "ballet for voices" and a dance it was when the choir bandied its phrases back and forth. Robinson's Negro song, "Water Boy," was sung as an encore and the Di Lasso "Echo Song" was so realistically done that its repetition was required.

After a group of Hebrew chants the choir sang three numbers by their famous admirer, Percy Grainger. "The Marching Song of Democracy" with organ, small orchestra and piano was a splendidly successful effort. The swing and the lilt of it was fair to hear and John Smallman received an ovation for building his concert up to such a climax. Once more the Los Angeles A Cappella Choir has proven the worth of its years of work and the sincere musicianship of its courageous founder and director, John Smallman. In the years to come, the tone and dynamics of this choir will become smoother and rounder as individual singers improve their art. The ensemble lacks but little.

Criterion audiences are exhibiting interest in the life of "Billy the Kid," because of the fact that Director King Vidor has included five real-life characters in the story.

The historical persons seen in the "reallife" version of "Billy the Kid" are Gen. Lew Wallace, Governor of the Territory of New Mexico; Sheriff Pat Garrett, played by Wallace Beery; the Kid himself, enacted by John Mack Brown; Tunstall, introduced as Tunston, and played by Wyndham Standing, and McSween, portrayed by Russell Simpson.

Then there is Blanche Frederici as Mrs. McSween and Brewer, the foreman for Tunstall, who is played by Jack Carlyle.

"Du Barry" in Final Week at United Artists

"Du Barry, Woman of Passion," starring Norma Talmadge, is now in its second and final week at the United Artists Theater. The film features three other well-known players, William Farnum, Conrad Nagel and Hobart Bosworth.

Miss Talmadge gives another of her characteristic portrayals as Du Barry, whose romances were the talk of all France.

Gaylord Carter, who is playing "Musical Memories" on the organ, is also receiving favorable comment.

Players Added to Brown Film

Clarence Brown has added three more prominent players to the cast in support of Greta Garbo in "Inspiration" at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. They are Paul McAllister, Arthur Hoyt and Richard Tucker.

These additions to the fifth Brown-Garbo production, augment one of the most imposing casts ever assembled for a picture. The company now includes, in addition to the newcomers, Robert Montgomery, Lewis Stone, Marjorie Rambeau, Gwen Lee, Joan Marsh, Zelda Sears, Beryl Mercer, John Miljan and Judith Voselli.

BROWN TO GO EAST

George Brown, who has been officiating as the press representative for Grauman's Chinese Theater for some time past, is terminating his affiliation with Fox West Coast Theaters and has accepted a position in the East, according to an announcement yesterday. Brown came highly recommended from the East to Grauman's, and, in the opinion of his confreres, as a local publicist, has added more laurels to his record.

ACTOR PLAYS GOLF

CITY TEACHERS INSTITUTE SET

Annual Instruction Program Carries New Features

Only Two General Sessions Scheduled This Year

Special Meetings Daily With Recreational Evenings

An increased number of small specialized meetings in both mornings and afternoons, with only two general sessions is the new plan for the annual City Teachers' Institute, December 15 to 19, according to Robert H. Lane, assistant superintendent of schools.

In previous years the institute consisted of general sessions in the forenoon in six of the large downtown auditoriums, with a few special sections in the afternoon. Mr. Lane has found that teachers are more interested in the special sections than they are in the addresses made by speakers on general topics.

SPEAKERS ENGAGED

The list of speakers for the general sessions includes Dr. Frank Bohn, formerly a special feature writer of the New York Times, whose subject will be "The Great American Adventure."

Dr. Samuel W. Grafflin, New York City, is scheduled as one of the general session speakers. His subjects will be "The New Aristocracy" and "The Advantage of Keeping America Strong."

Dr. Hugh Mearns of New York University, who has played a prominent part in developing creative poetry among school children, is also listed as one of the general session speakers.

POET TO APPEAR

Vachel Lindsay, English poet; Dr. Maxie N. Woodring, professor of education at Columbia University; Lorado Taft, Chicago sculptor; Dr. Willis A. Sutton, president of the National Education Association, and superintendent of Atlanta city schools, are others who will be presented.

Special sections will be held in the Ambassador Theater, Polytechnic High School auditorium, Hollywood High School Memorial Auditorium, Belasco Theater, Patriotic Hall and other halls. Ten of these special sections will be held each day during the three days of the institute.

Perhaps the most outstanding events of the institute are the morning and afternoon sections to be held at California Institute of Technology on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

EVENING RECREATION

Evening events, recreational in character, have been given a place on the institute program. Among these offerings are the Cecelian Singers, under direction of John Smallman.

The Ephebian Society will present a Russian evening program with music and dancing at the Hollywood High School Memorial Auditorium.

The city teachers' group has arranged for a program by the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra in its auditorium. A play now in rehearsal will be presented by the Polytechnic Evening High School students in their auditorium, and the Kindergarten Club will put on a show at Manual Arts auditorium.

M. Pierre de Lannux, editor, writer, linguist and speaker, will present a program sponsored by the World Friendship Group.

Nation Pays Honor to Pioneer Fruit

Dicky Kibby and Some Fine Fruit

WITH the entire nation celebrating National Apple Week this week, the fruit that has made sections of the Pacific Coast famous and is gaining in planting in Southern California has changed its name from the "Pioneer of Fruit," to the "King of Fruit."

Gaining its inception in this country with the earliest pioneers, the apple was planted and transplanted throughout the nation until it reached the Pacific Ocean where a suitable soil was found.

It has grown from a product shown and shipped only in the barrel to the box, basket and carton.

Now with a crop estimated at 153,369,000 bushels, according to R. A. Smith, supervisor of agriculture for the Union Pacific System, the entire nation is paying tribute to the pioneer of fruits.

In Southern California the crop is estimated at more than 81 per cent perfect and will give the State approximately 11,502,000 bushels.

THREE HELD AS MYSTERY VEILS DEATH

Woman Found Lifeless With Bruises on Body After Drinking Party

Death came mysteriously yesterday to Gwendolyn Truscott, 33 years of age, of 660 West Washington street, but police will not decide on the cause until an autopsy has been performed. Meanwhile, Jess Adams, 48 years of age, of 137 North Yates street, a chef, and Jack Teal, 33, a window washer, also living at the West Washington address, have been arrested on suspicion of murder and Chester Creasman, 30, of 839 South Coronado street, on suspicion of burglary.

Detective Lieutenant Shat ock reported there had been a drinking party in the woman's apartment. Her nude body is said to have born bruises when found in bed. Shattock added she had lived for a time with Teal as his wife.

Creasman, not known at first to have been involved in the case, was taken in custody when he was found sitting an automobile in front of 3484 West Eleventh street. The automobile was not his, and when questioned by police explained he had merely entered it to rest after having come from a drinking party at 660 West Washington street.

ASSESSMENT ROLL DELAYED

The City Council yesterday continued until December 18 further consideration of the confirmation of assessments for the opening of Edison Place between Hellman avenue and Oak Hill avenue.

Hollywood Pair Escape Charges

Investigation into the activities of Josh Binney and Robert E. Wharff, Hollywood promoters, was closed by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Whitaker yesterday with the announcement that he has been unable to find sufficient evidence to warrant prosecution.

The case was dropped with the understanding that Binney and Wharff will return the money invested in their enterprises by persons who became dissatisfied.

The inquiry was started ten days ago on the request of several persons who asserted they had paid the promoters money for shares in motion-picture enterprises with the understanding they would receive employment in films. The employment was not forthcoming, they charged.

HOW FASHIONS DEVELOP TOLD

Advertising Given Credit for Stimulating Good Taste

Styles Directly Affected by Penetrating Publicity

Coast Manager of "Vogue" Delivers Radio Talk

Good taste and appreciation of beauty have been greatly stimulated by advertising, Ralph F. Blanchard, Pacific Coast manager for Vogue magazine, yesterday told a radio audience in an address on the value of advertising broadcast by the Los Angeles Advertising Club and sponsored by the University of Southern California. Mr. Blanchard spoke on "The Influence of Advertising on Styles," from a manuscript that had been prepared by Edna Woolman Chase, editor of Vogue. His remarks were broadcast over KMPC.

RALPH F. BLANCHARD

"There was a time when people purchased clothing for utility only," said Mr. Blanchard. "Style and beauty were merely incidentals, something you thought of in about the same way you thought about heaven, or having a million dollars.

BRYAN PARTLY TO BLAME

"The philosophy of the so-called plain people was somewhat opposed to very much emphasis on the frivolities of fashion. Bryan and other prophets of mediocrity even advanced the theory that a patch on one's garments was a badge of honor. And because style—new style—was a relatively rare and expensive commodity, people submerged their inherent desire for beautiful things under this false logic.

"Dresses were patterned after last year's designs in New York. And not always the best designs, either. Houses were ornamented by atrocious bits of gingerbread whose sole justification for being was that their sponsors did not know any better.

"Golden oak furniture, upholstered in a particularly anemic shade of tan leather, decorated—or should I say desecrated—our living-rooms. We were content with plain things because we had to be. We were starved for beauty and didn't know it. And there existed no means of letting us know it. No wonder the Victorians were a dour lot. But we can't blame them. They didn't create their environment. It created them.

THEN CAME ADVERTISING

"Advertising changed that picture.

"We may never have realized how close is the relationship between the dull, orderly routine of business and the creation of things from which dreams are made; but it is quite true that by the unromantic achievement of shortening the distance between the buyer and the seller of merchandise, advertising opened the way to a quickened appreciation of beauty, brought news of another world beyond narrow horizons, gave us inspiration."

Discussing fashions, a subject dear to every woman and increasingly so to every man, Mr. Blanchard stated wealthy families are "fashion's testing ground." They constitute "a sort of experimental laboratory, they are the tryers of new things."

QUICK ECHOES

"The acceptance of these people who take their fashion in deadly earnest is immediately echoed by manufacturers and merchants the country over," he continued. "Nation-wide advertising is put to work, sweeping into your life and mine, making us acutely aware that fashion has again changed, that there is something new for us to acquire.

"But underneath the acceptance lies another story of advertising's influence—perhaps the greatest influence of all. For not only has advertising sold a specific style and a specific style commodity; it has also been responsible for selling the whole idea of style to America, for making us interested in style, willing to obey it.

"Style today affects practically every one of us, rich and poor, male and female, young and old. All classes are style-conscious. As you travel about the country you see the same fashions worn by the women and girls in remote rural towns that you see on Fifth avenue, New York City.

EXPERTS STARTED IT

"The fashion experts, the counselors, the bell-wethers and the fashion magazines are only indirectly responsible for this widespread acceptance of correct style. They started it, of course, but they didn't have very much to do with its penetrating into the small towns and villages.

"The more popular household and fiction magazines, or the daily newspapers, are responsible for this. The advertising appearing in these periodicals is the only source of style information of millions of persons. Without that information style could not be nearly so widespread.

"Without the buying incentive which advertising fosters, style—correct style, that is—could not be nearly so universally adopted by all classes of people.

"Advertising not only influences style itself, but it has helped drive out bad style and opened the way for a wider recognition of good style."

WALKUP ACTION IN SIGHT TODAY

Grand Jury Slated to Take Some Definite Step

Indictments Possibly to Be Returned in "Plot"

Deadlock Has Existed for More Than Fortnight

Deadlocked for more than a fortnight, the county grand jury today is expected to take definite action one way or the other concerning the charge made be Maj. Charles Walkup, Police Commissioner, that a group of prominent Los Angeles politicians conspired to entrap him in a frame-up plot.

When the last witnesses were heard, the grand jury was unable to reach a decision, several members declaring they did not believe the charge had been proved.

Maj. Walkup charged that Helen Lee was persuaded by certain influential persons to attempt to lure him to her room and after compromising him to call in the police. The Police Commissioner, however, suspected a plot and instigated an inquiry before the asserted plot was consummated.

Should the grand jury decide to take action today, it may return an indictment charging conspiracy naming several persons.

UNION MAN SEEKS BALM IN OUSTING

Film Cameraman Demands Reinstating and Damages From Former Affiliation

Asserting he was expelled from membership in a motion-picture labor union without cause D. C. Hobbs, cameraman, yesterday sued the union and its members to compel his reinstatement, incidentally asking $25,000 damages for preventing him from working at his profession by depriving him of his union card.

The defendant is Local No. 37, International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Operators. Hobbs is also a member of Local No. 40, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, in which organization he is compelled to maintain membership, he says, because a cameraman is sometimes required to perform work under the jurisdiction of the other union.

As a member of the I.B.E.W. Hobbs was the author of a set of resolutions calling on the national organization of the I.A.T.S.E. to reprimand its local chapter, No. 37, for assertedly allowing its members to perform work previously allotted to the I.B.E.W. by an agreement between the two unions and the requirements of the American Federation of Labor.

Hobbs's other union, the I.A.T.S.E., thereupon tried him for what they called "an act of nonunionism," and and in November, 1929, expelled him from membership. The plaintiff asserts his trial was unfair, that he had no proper notification and was not allowed to make an adequate defense.

the producers to throw more gold into the junk pile than they have put in their treasuries—and those millions, he said, keep increasing year by year. But, he declared, the satisfaction of the leaders in having reached higher standards and greater achievements through "constructive discontent" far outweigh any monetary loss.

"The education of public taste in motion pictures is one of the great problems and one of the great constructive efforts of this industry. No producer or distributor or exhibitor can continue in business unless he gives the public what the public will accept and pay for. But I do not know of a single individual of importance who is content to have this great industry held down to the levels which would be indicated by an unqualified acceptance of what might be termed 'box-office standards.'"

GOOD TASTE URGED

Hays urged good taste in production but declared that only as the general level of the public taste rises to higher standards can the picture industry bring the general level of the product up to cherished standards.

"Good taste is good business," he said, "and to offend good taste is to fortify sales resistance. Nothing unclean can maintain growth and vitality. When a tree begins to collect blights, it begins to wither. So does reputation. So does business."

The speaker asserted that the education of public taste becomes effective when the public is supplied with entertainment better in every phase than is expected or demanded, so that thereby the thousands who see it acquire, unconsciously, new standards of taste for themselves.

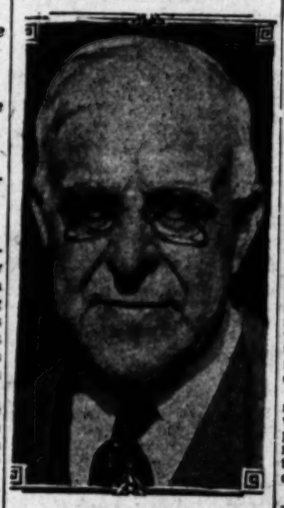
In closing Hays directed attention to "the inner artists" always demanding the better, thus carrying forward the motion-picture art and "making it more than ever the foremost instrument for public amusement, public education and public leadership."

During the program Conrad Nagel, vice-president of the academy, announced that the organization is planning a new building for the executive offices and other department which are now at 7046 Hollywood Boulevard. Details of the plans were not stated.

STUDENTS' PLAY TONIGHT

"Outward Bound," student dramatics production at the University of California at Los Angeles, will be presented tonight under the direction of the University Dramatics Society. A second performance is scheduled for tomorrow night. The production was written by Sutton Vane and deals with a party of shipmates drawn from all walks of life. The play is produced by Dean McHenry, president of the dramatics society.

FATE OF FINANCIER TO BE FIXED MONDAY



George E. Bittinger

George E. Bittinger, convicted financier, yesterday appeared before Superior Judge Hahn on his application for probation and the matter was continued until Monday, at the request of the probation officer. The financier was remanded to the County Jail.

Bittinger, 62 years of age, was general manager of the Mortgage Discount Company and of the Calivada Securities Corporation. He was convicted of appropriating to his own use $9500 of company funds. While his trial was in progress, he attempted suicide by poison and bullet, but recovered.

Sigma Nu Will Open Two New Chapters Here

Installation of two Sigma Nu Fraternity chapters, one at the University of Southern California and the other at University of California at Los Angeles, will be celebrated today and tomorrow at the Elks' Temple. Dr. R. R. Von Kleinsmid of U.S.C. and Dr. E. C. Moore of U.C.L.A. will be speakers at the installation banquet tomorrow evening.

The two groups to be taken into the national organization of Sigma Nu are Theta Sigma Nu at U.S.C., and Alpha Delta Tau at U.C.L.A. The former will be known as Epsilon Omicron chapter of Sigma Nu and the latter as Epsilon Pi chapter of Sigma Nu.

Loyal Sigma Nus are invited to avail themselves of this opportunity to attend these ceremonies and renew their fraternal vows.

FREDERICK PLISCHKE RITES WILL BE TODAY

Funeral services for Frederick W. Plischke, retired Los Angeles police officer on the force for thirty years, will be conducted by the Golden State Masonic Lodge today at 2 p.m. in Grace Chapel, Inglewood Park Cemetery. Arrangements are under the direction of Hammond & Mispagel. Mr. Plischke died Tuesday at his home, 4042 West Slauson avenue. He had been ill for some time. He was 63 years of age. He had lived in Los Angeles for forty-three years. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Lydia M. Plischke, and two daughters, Mrs. A. King and Mrs. Ruth P. Rodriguez.

PLANS FOR POSTAL CLERK MEETING HERE OUTLINED

Preliminary plans for the convention of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks in the Biltmore in September, 1931, were drafted yesterday, following the arrival of Thomas F. Flaherty, secretary-treasurer of the organization, of Washington, D. C.

Flaherty said that approximately 2700 delegates and visitors will come to Los Angeles from all parts of the country, with representation expected from the International Postal Congress, with which the American society is affiliated.

The visitor delivered addresses to Los Angeles postoffice employees at meetings in Patriotic Hall in the afternoon and evening. He will remain here a few days before continuing to San Francisco for the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the San Francisco chapter of the federation.

Flaherty expressed the belief that a bill providing a forty-four-hour week for postal workers will be passed by the House before Christmas. Flaherty expects a battle in the Senate, with excellent prospects of victory.

In the visitors' opinion, the postal service is undermanned. Two thousand additional mail clerks are needed, he said.

Flaherty is at the Biltmore and is accompanied by his wife and Ella Barbara Joan Johnson, daughter of Walter Johnson, baseball luminary.

Little Company Will Celebrate

The A. K. Little Company will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the company at a dinner to be given employees of both its retail and wholesale Los Angeles establishments at the Los Angeles Athletic Club this evening.

Judge Elliott Craig will preside, and Walter C. Day, general manager of the company, will give a business reminiscences. Brandt Foster will talk on "Coming in the Crowd," and James W. Ellis of the editorial staff will direct the program. Harold Proctor, tenor, and Robert L. Bowen of Santa Ana will give vocal numbers.

Westwood Team Leaves for Game With Oregon

Clash Saturday Likely to Prove Webfoot Test

Coach Spears's Team Has Not Been Beaten to Date

BY FRANK ROCHE

In a fighting mood because of the fact that their Oregon University opponents had dubbed them as "just a workout" through the official school paper, the Emerald, the U.C.L.A. Bruin football team, thirty-four strong, pulled out for Eugene last night on one of Mr. Southern Pacific's choo choos. Just before the team left the players were read an article from an Oregon paper, in which the Bruins were classed as more or less a set-up for the Webfooters. They were really pointing for the Oregon State game, which is still more than a week away.

The Bruin team, in charge of Head Coach "Bunker Bill" Spaulding and A. J. Starseneger, assistant coach, left the Glendale station of the S.P. with the cheers of the students and a large delegation of alumni ringing in their ears. It was thoroughly evident that they had all the moral support necessary from this end. Whether that will do them any good looking t[illegible] line or not Saturday afternoon at Eugene is something else again.

With the exception of Wellendorf, the entire squad was in tip-top shape when they headed north for their invasion of the Webfoot land. Wellendorf has a pulled tendon in his right leg that has kept him out of practice for a good part of last week and this week. He is making the trip because Spaulding needs him [illegible], he can play at all.

Malhaupt, the other wingman who was on the shelf, will be back in the deck for the Oregon game. He worked out yesterday with the team and his toe injury seems to have disappeared.

The Bruins in two conference games with Oregon were beaten each time. They bowed here in 1[illegible] by a 26-to-6 score and last year 27 to 0. They really aboud a little better this season against the Webfooters. The Bruins have a stronger team than last year's although it does lack some of the power shown by the 29 outfit. The Bruins will work out at Westwood tomorrow morning. On Friday they arrive at Eugene where they will run through a light drill.

Oregon is undefeated to date. The Webfoot team coached by "Doc" Spears has only to win two more games and they have

ALL-MARINE FOOTBALL AND BASEBALL TEAMS DISCONTINUED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (AP)—An order for the discontinuance of the all marine football and baseball teams was issued today by Maj.-Gen. Ben H. Fuller, Marine Corps commandant.

In place of the all-team, post teams will be maintained at Quantico, Va.; Parris Island, S. C., and San Diego, Cal.

Maj. David L. Brewster, Marine Corps athletic officer, said the President's Cup game would be played each year.

OXY PREPS FOR CALTECH

Tigers Schedule Stiff Workout Today for Crucial Contest at Rose Bowl Tomorrow Night

The Oxy Tigers have another heavy workout on tap today in preparation for their crucial battle with the Caltech Engineers tomorrow night in the Rose Bowl. This afternoon's practice session on Patterson Field will revolve around signal drill and defense against the tricky Tech attack, which features forward and lateral passes.

Coach Eddie Kienholz drove his aggregation through their third straight day of scrimmage yesterday afternoon. The Oxy mentor has perfected two or three new plays to spring on the league - leading Caltech team, and is out to upset Fox Stanton's title hopes, and, incidentally, get back into the title race himself.

COACH ED KIENHOLZ

The showing made by the Bengals to date has not been too impressive, but Fox Stanton has not under-rated their potential strength, and figures his chances as only even to take the laurels home tomorrow night. On paper, however, the Engineers appear to be from one to two touchdowns better than the Eagle Rockers. The game is certain to be hard fought and a thriller throughout.

STANTON PREPARES NEW TRICKS FOR OXY

Coach "Fox" Stanton of Caltech expects to have sufficient tricks up his sleeve to confound Edgar H. Kienholz, Tiger mentor, tomorrow night when the two strategists send their elevens out on the Rose Bowl's greensward to do battle.

However, the odds against the Beavers upsetting both the Bengals and Aztecs are too heavy for them to get too optimistic over the prospects.

The Engineer offense will be strong, with Capt. Walt Dickey officiating at half and "Red" Watson at fullback. These stalwarts are the heaviest men on the team, weighing in at about 175 and 185 pounds, respectively, smacking the line with tremendous power. The former figures on the receiving end of Stanton's deceptive lateral pass plays. Goodman at quarter and Bennett at the other half complete the Tech backfield. The latter is the Beavers' best blocker and figures prominently in the interference.

JELLIFFE FOX HILLS MEDALIST

Match Play Starts Today in Invitational Event; Coleman Shoots 75

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Imagine the embarrassment of Southern California's select coterie of low-handicap amateurs, who yesterday let Bill Jelliffe's 74 slip by to win medal honors in the qualifying play for Fox Hills's first annual invitation tournament.

FAY COLEMAN

It has been a long, long time since a score of 74 has been low in an invitation tournament, or any other local event for that matter, and would indicate that the east course is a championship test of golf, indeed.

Jelliffe hung up his 74 on Tuesday and a flock of par shooters banged away at that score yesterday without a single hit being registered. Fay Coleman of the California Country Club, Southern California amateur champion, furnished the closest competition, banging out a 75.

Frank Tatum of Los Angeles also had a 75. Neither he nor Fay will play through.

Other low scorers were Ernie Combs, Jr., of Virginia with a 76, Phil Carter of Rancho, 77; Lee Pendergrass of Rancho, 78, and George Arnseau and Billy Jack of Girard, 79's.

Jelliffe looms as a favorite in the championship flight of thirty-two. He has scored two notable victories this year in the Los Angeles city championship and the Rancho invitational tournament. Bill faces a tough opponent in H. K. Bachelder, one of Rancho's finest players, this morning.

Low gross and low net trophies were awarded in each of four classes and the winners are as follows: Class A, Jelliffe, low gross, 74; H. E. Mortimer, low net, 76-6—70; Class B, Cecil Noe, low gross, 80; W. S. Goodrich, low net, 83-13—71; Class C, Rex Klinker, low gross, 85; T. D. Meddick, low net, 87-15—69; Class D, F. B. McKinley and H. C. Mancado tied for low gross, 93; L. W. Rucker, low net, 99-29—70.

BY FRANK ROCHE

Eric Pedley, the West Coast's White Knight of the Mallet, the only native son of this Golden State, ever to crash the polo gates of the nation and make the American "Big Four," will make his first local appearance since his recent eastern triumphs, on Sunday, when he rides at the Uplifters' Club field. Pedley, as the world now knows, stole the show at the last international matches between Great Britain and the United States. He was the difference, many of the experts who witnessed the games stated, between defeat and victory

WOMEN'S GOLF GROUP CHANGES PAR SYSTEM

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—Definite improvement in the quality of golf played by American women was indicated today by a marked stiffening in the yardage standard for determining women's par. The new figures, adopted by the women's committee of the United States Golf Association and announced by H. H. Ramsay, chairman of the championship committee, are as follows:

Up to 200 yards, par three.

Two hundred and one to 375 yards, par four

Three hundred and seventy-six yards and over, par five.

These yardages exceed the old by ten yards on the shorter holes and more than twenty-five on the longer ones. Holes of more than 500 yards formerly were par six, but par five now is the maximum for even the longest holes.

A uniform yardage never before has been officially adopted by the women's committee of the U.S.G.A., but the former standard was in general use by the women's eastern, western and southern associations.

As the handicap eligibility for the women's national championship in the future will be based on the new figures, it was recommended all State, sectional and district women's golf associations throughout the United States adopt this yardage as the standard from which to compute their handicaps.

CHARLEY ERB ON AIR TONIGHT

Charley Erb, former California quarterback, will be on the air tonight at 9:30 o'clock for The Times Sports Edition of the Air, being interviewed by Paul Lowry, sports editor of The Times. Erb played quarter on the famous California teams of 1920, '21 and '22 and while he was barking signals the Bears never lost a football game. Quite a record for a quarterback! Charley will tell something of those old days and also give you the low down on the present California team which faces the Trojans at the Coliseum Saturday. Erb coached at Idaho several years and is exceptionally well qualified to speak regarding the Trojans and Bears. KHJ, tonight at 9:30.

WHEN the current football season started folks out Los Angeles way were wondering if Orv Mohler would make good at the all-important quarterback post with the U.S.C. Trojans. Coach Howard Jones likes to have three capable quarterbacks around, to alternate at running the team and doing most of the ball carrying. Morley Drury was his most famous quarterback since coming to U.S.C., although "Devil May" Kaer was nationally known. Jones already had a good quarterback in Marshall Duffield, and Orv Mohler, though weighing in the 160's, was expected to be Duffield's understudy.

But would Orv make good? Nobody knew just how good he was, as he had been injured frequently as a freshman. In Alhambra High School, however, he had a great reputation, being all-State quarterback and helping to win a couple of championships for his team. But young Mr. Mohler soon showed the stuff he was made of. You can't keep a good man down, especially one who comes by his athletic ability naturally, as Orv does. He is the son of "Kid" Mohler, famous old-time ball player of San Francisco and other teams, and inherits his dad's gray matter as well as athletic ability.

LA BARBA-TAYLOR BOUT ON NEW YORK'S HORIZON

Bud Taylor and Fidel La Barba are to clash in New York on the 28th inst. providing the split on percentages is ironed out.

Eddie Long, manager of Taylor, has talked twice by long-distance phone to Tom McArdle of Madison Square Garden since last Monday night.

The Garden people, believing that Kid Chocolate was a cinch to beat La Barba, had already signed Taylor to meet the Negro. Now that Fidel won a new deal has to be made.

It is said that George Blake is asking more for La Barba than McArdle can pay Taylor. The Indiana boxer wants as much as Fidel gets. Taylor holds a record of being one of two men who ever sold out the Garden four times.

Paul Berlenbach did it when he was at the peak stopping everybody. But while Berlenbach's popularity lasted two years Taylor was a "sellout" back as far as 1923 and as late as 1928.

Taylor is no sure bet to defeat Maurice Holtzer when they clash at the Olympic Tuesday night. Holtzer proved his class by winning from Goldie Hess a short time ago.

They rank Holtzer as highly now as they do Kid Francis. Holtzer has gone to Soper's ranch to train. Paulie Walker is also at Ojai getting ready for the Young Corbett bout.

The Olympic yesterday signed Baby Sal Sorio who has won eight out of nine fights by knockouts, to box Len Porter, star Negro lightweight and junior welter, in the semi-wind-up under Taylor and Holtzer.

The other bouts are Hymie Miller vs. Charley Ernst, Carl Johnson vs. Willie Fausto and Al Wilson vs. Richie Franklin.

CORBETT KAYOES COOPER

OAKLAND, Nov. 5. (AP)—Young Corbett, southpaw welterweight of Fresno, knocked out Farmer Joe Cooper, of Terre Haute, Ind., in the first round of their ten-round bout in Oakland Auditorium tonight.

Cooper proved only a punching bag for the Fresno lefthander, who has decisions over two former welterweight champions, Jackie Fields and Young Jack Thompson, to his credit.

The fight had barely gotten under way when Corbett shot over a terrific left to the body that caused Cooper to double up. He managed to save himself by going into a clinch. After a few preliminary skirmishes again, Corbett shot over another left to the body and caught his opponent on the chin with a left uppercut, and Cooper went down for the full count. Corbett weighed 148 3-4, and Cooper 149.

CALIFORNIA SQUAD STILL UNKNOWN QUANTITY

Fans Unable to Uncover Real Worth

BY BILL HENRY

"How good—or how bad—are the California Bears?"

That seems to be the burning query of the moment. Pretty nearly everybody seems convinced that the Trojans are good. In fact there are a few rabid individuals who are already beginning to proclaim that the 1930 team is the best in Trojan history. The smart birds have decided that they are good — plenty good—but claims to more distinction than that are a trifle premature at this writing.

"NIBS" PRICE

On the other hand there is no such unanimity of opinion regarding Mr. Nibs Price's aggregation of trained seals. When you figure that the Bears have lost half their games this season you can't say that they are a great team. On the other hand, when you figure that their second team dropped one of the games, another that they dropped was to Washington State and one of their victories was gained at the expense of St. Mary's—well, you just can't say that they're terrible either.

NO DISGRACE

It certainly is no disgrace to lose to Washington State. In fact, as good a team as the Trojans met the same fate. It really is quite an accomplishment to beat St. Mary's. Nobody else has done it for some little time. It looks very much as though we'd have to say for the Bears that they at least are hard to beat.

This much can be said for them. The Bears have a tough line. The Trojan forwards will

Continued drill against California's modified Notre Dame shift formations occupied Howard Jones's Trojans for most of yesterday afternoon. The athletes toiled until 5:30 while the Spartans dashed hither and thither about the confines of Bovard Field without getting anywhere in particular.

HOWARD JONES

Russ Saunders, star quarterback of last year's varsity and now assistant freshman coach, played quarterback in the Spartan backfield, and tossed a lot of passes. From their games to date, Nibs Price's athletes are specializing in the overhead style of attack, and Saunders did his best to do the work of Ed Griffiths and Frank Kirwan.

Jones drilled both the first and second teams against the Spartans, and then sent the same elevens against the fourth string in an intensive drill on offense. The Herd had a flock of new pass plays all set for the Stanford game, but when the short-side spinners worked so well, they didn't have to resort to anything unusual in the air, and Jones is now polishing up these plays in case they are needed Saturday.

USUAL TEAM

The usual first team was in fort last night. This included Wilcox and Arbelbide, ends; Hall and Smith, tackles; Baker and Shaw, guards; Williamson, center; Duffield, quarter; Pinckert and Apsit, halfbacks, and Musick, fullback.

The second team included Sperling and Clark at ends; Pisenn at one tackle, and Bond and Armistead working alternately at the other; Black and Gentry, guards; Hawkins, center; Mohler, quarter; Mal-

Ineligibilities and Injuries Hit Both Manual Arts and Polytechnic Football Cam

MATHEWS LOST TO TOILER TEAM

Halfback Leaves School, Howard Injured

Stawisky, Ralphs Not on Mechanic Line-up

Eldnayen Restored to Good Scholastic Graces

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Bad luck, traveling with a bang, hit both the Manual Arts and the Poly football camps yesterday right where it hurts. Officials at the Toiler institution announced that Wilmer Mathews, star halfback, had left school, and that three other regulars, Bill Howard, plunging fullback; Dave Anderson, huge tackle, and Kelley Gregory, end, were on the crippled list.

Voyle Brennan, Poly coach, stated that in all probability Sam Stawicky, all-city guard, and Dewey Ralphs, stellar halfback, would not be in the starting line-up against Los Angeles High tomorrow at Wrigley Field. Both Stawisky and Ralphs were injured some time ago and while Ralphs's broken thumb has healed all right, he still cannot handle a ball with any amount of precision. Stawisky's bad leg has not responded to treatment as it should.

Over at Manual Arts, the general consensus of opinion is that Mathews will not be missed, but that Howard, who is nursing a bruised elbow, will be needed badly to turn back the onward rush of the Hollywood Redskins.

Anderson has a bad leg, but will start against the Movie City team, while Gregory's knee injury will not keep him on the sidelines.

While for a time yesterday it was believed that Nebb Eldnayen, the Toilers' star tackle, would be ineligible, Bill Foster, head of the Manual Arts department, announced that in all probability the big Basque would be okay.

Eldnayen was a bit behind in Spanish, but as it is his native tongue, it didn't take him long to make up the back work.

Jim Stewart, Toiler coach, who has been confined at home because of exposure to scarlet fever, returned to Manual late yesterday afternoon in time to take the brunt of the work off Charley Toney's shoulders.

Two patent rumors were afoot yesterday, one had Walter Clark, Fremont's best ball packer, ineligible, while the other had Norberg, the Garfield quarterback, out for the season.

However, Bill Hanny, head of the physical-education department at Fremont, declared that there was nothing to the Clark rumor and Dove W. Adamson, vice-principal at Garfield, routed the Norberg story.

Fremont and Jefferson tangle tomorrow on the Pathfinders' gridiron, while Garfield entertains the Roosevelt Rough Riders.

One other game is listed, Fairfax at Belmont, with the outcome a toss-up.

In the two feature contests, the Romans will most likely take the field a slight favorite over the Mechanics, because of the injuries to Stawisky and Ralphs, while Manual Arts' edge of victory over Hollywood has dwindled considerably. With Howard out of the game, the battle should be pretty even.

Both the El Monte-Puente and Downey-Montebello games in the first round in the San Gabriel Valley League have been postponed until Armistice Day, it was announced yesterday. The El Monte-Puente game will decide the league championship.

a clean slate in the Coast Conference race. That is they have to beat the Bruins and Oregon State. St. Mary's, the last game on their schedule, is a nonconference affair. True enough, the Oregon schedule this year has been anything but a tough one but at that they should rate heavy favorites to whip Spaulding's team which seems to have no offensive outside of a forward passing attack.

Spaulding stated that he believes his team will give the Oregon team a real battle and that was all he had to say about the outcome of the game for publication.

The players who journeyed north were:

Ends—Haight, Mulhaupt, Smith, Sorensen, Stickel, Stouffen, Waldron, Wellendorf.

Tackles—Ballie, Hampton, McMillan, Norfleet, Willoughby, Zimmerman, Clark.

Guards—Carter, J. Duncan, Jones, Reinhard.

Centers—Goodstein, Milum, Oliver.

Quarterbacks—Bergdahl, Solomon.

Halfbacks—Decker, Forster, Guttormsen, Painter, Roberts, Dennis.

Fullbacks — Duncan, Grossman, Lowe, Thoe.

twice against Oregon State on October 4, his pass to Apsit scored the Trojan's only touchdown in their 6-to-7 defeat by Washington State on October 11; and he romped through and around the Utah Aggies for three scores on October 18. But his big day arrived on October 25 against Pop Warner's Cardinals. Mohler went in in the second quarter after Duffield had been doing sensational work and made the fans forget all about his blond predecessor. In two plays he weaved and drove through dozens of Stanford tacklers for thirty yards or more, and his pass to Arbelbide scored another touchdown five minutes later.

Mohler is a cool, nervy and brainy quarterback, who is hard to stop without some kind of gain. He did a little flying during the summer now he's flying high on one of the best teams the Trojans ever had.

Bears' Punt Formation Is Real Threat

BY SOL METZGER

California's Golden Bears think highly of a kicking formation. It's a fine deployment of gridiron players for deception. A defense may expect anything, either a kick, a run or a pass. Which makes it somewhat ideal for the offense.

Watch "Nibs" Price's eleven this Saturday when it stacks up against Howard Jones's Trojans of Southern California, the team that smothered Pitt in the last New Year's game, but which got an unexpected upset at the hands of California last fall, 13 to 7.

From this punt formation ball is snapped to 4, the quarter, who spins to his right and goes through all the motions of feeding it to the No. 3 back, digging to the left along with all other hands in the backfield. All these motions of passing a ball in this manner are executed with the passer's back to the opponents and his entire body crouched down behind his line to hide him from them.

A move like this is made to lure the secondary off to its right side to stop the threatened flank movement. That done, 4 calmly turns back facing his line and drives full steam ahead through the opening made. Tomorrow we'll take a peep at another California play, a powerful sweep off tackle from another formation.

lory and Hammack, halfbacks, and Shaver, fullback.

Jones is quite worried about the Bear contest. Price has a fine, big, hustling experienced line. The probable starting lineup was received at Al Wesson's office yesterday, and the forward wall contained the names of six seniors and one junior. On his second line, Price has four juniors and three sophomores.

On the other hand the Trojans have two seniors, four juniors and one sophomore in the first team line, and seven sophomores on the second squad. Inasmuch as the work of the linesmen determines the worth of a football team, California has a decided edge on the Trojans in experienced linesmen. Only three of the Bears' fourteen linesmen are inexperienced as far as varsity work goes. Eight of the fourteen Trojans are playing their first year of varsity competition.

And that is what is worrying Jones. The Trojan mentor, still gloomily regarding that 13-7 setback of last year, is driving his charges hard for Saturday's game. "The Bears may have lost three games already this season," he tells his athletes, "but they've got a lot of good—very good—linesmen. And if the team ever starts clicking, there's no telling how good Price's men will be."

LINE-UPS GIVEN

The men on the first two Trojan teams have a total of seventeen years of varsity experience, the first two Bear teams have a grand total of twenty-three years. Which gives Price a decided edge in experienced material. Here is a table showing how the squads compare in veterans. The numbers give the years of varsity experience for each man. Incidentally, this is the way the teams will line up in the Coliseum Saturday:

TROJANS

First team—Arbelbide (1) and Wilcox (2,) ends; Hall (1) and F Smith (0,) tackles; Baker (1) and Shaw (2,) guards; Williamson (1) center; Duffield (2,) quarterback; Pinckert (1) and Apsit (2,) halfbacks; Musick (1,) fullback. Total, 14.

Second team—Sparling (0) and Clark (0,) ends; Plaehn (0) and R Brown (0,) tackles; Gentry (0) and Black (0,) guards; Hawkins (0,) center; Mohler (0,) quarterback; Mallory (1) and Hammack (1,) halfbacks; Shaver (1,) fullback. Total, 3.

BEARS

First team—Thornton (2) and Avery (2,) ends; Timmerman (2) and Cahn (1,) tackles; Beckett (2) and Handy (2,) guards; Eickmeyer (2,) center; Griffiths (1,) quarterback; Schaldach (0) and McCutcheon (1,) halfbacks; R. Gill (1,) fullback. Total, 16.

Second team—Whyte (1) and Stone (0,) ends; Coombs (1) and Del Georgio (0,) tackles; D. Handy (1) and S. Gill (0,) guards; Medanich (1,) center; Kirwan (1,) quarterback; East (0) and Vallanos (1,) halfbacks; Garrity (2,) fullback. Total, 7.

"KING" BAGGOTT DIES IN HAWAIIAN HOME

C. A. (King) Baggott, well-known Hawaiian sportsman, died at his home in Lihue, Kauai, early yesterday morning, according to a cable received in Los Angeles by John P. Ness. Baggott was recently elected to the House of Representatives of the Territory. He is survived by his widow and three children.

King Baggott came in contact with Pacific Coast and Southern California polo fans two years ago when he came here with the Hawaiian-Australian team.

SPEED KING IS ASCOT ENTRANT

Wilbur Shaw Lured by 100-Lap Prize Money Event

One of the foremost speed kings of the United States yesterday cast his goggles in the ring for the 100-lap prize money to be offered at the Legion Ascot Speedway next Sunday afternoon, when Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis driver, wired his entry to local officials.

Shaw telegraphed from Trinidad, Colo., that he is bringing his racing car by motor transport and intends to compete in events on Southwestern tracks during the next several months.

The Indiana pilot has never appeared on the Pacific Coast and he undoubtedly will attract considerable attention when he lines up with the field of some forty drivers for the qualifying Sunday. Ranked among the ten leading A.A.A. major speedway contestants during the past five years, the 28-year-old Hoosier ace has won some of the classics of the eastern circuit. He is said to be able to manipulate a mount on a dirt track as well as a board or brick oval and even the hazardous turns of Ascot are expected to hold no mysteries for him.

Considerable interest was also manifest yesterday in the announcement by Mel Kenealy, 1929 champion, that his new Fronty "job" has been completed. The Irishman will test the car on the Ascot oval for the first time this afternoon.

Having driven the course as often perhaps as any other driver, Mel believes he knows what kind of a chariot can be driven to the money at Ascot. He says his new sixteen-valve creation represents "a Miss of a "perfect dirt-track job" and he intends to get away to a flying start this week.

Pre-Olympic Ring Victors to Get Trip

Winners of the pre-Olympic amateur boxing tournament to be held under the auspices of the Los Angeles A.C. at the Olympic November 19-20, will be sent to San Francisco for the far western ring championships December 2 and 3. This announcement was made yesterday by Charley Keppen of the L.A.A.C., following a conversation with Percy Locey of the Olympic Club. Locey declared that the best northern talent may also be sent here for the local tournament.

Sagehens Hold Hard Workout

CLAREMONT, Nov. 5.—Blocking and tackling drill will form an important part of the tough workouts which remain for Coach Eugene Nixon's Pomona College football team in preparation for the Whittier game Armistice Day, it was indicated this afternoon, as the Sagehens went through another long workout.

Nixon drilled his men much of the time today in the fundamentals of the game. Under the Pomona system a team must function as one man, each player in every play. The lack of this co-ordination, it is felt, has contributed to the poor Sagehen showing so far this season.

The Sagehens also ran through offensive drill today, as Nixon attempts to polish the Blue attack. The Hens looked strong in scrimmage, although they still show the effects of Saturday's hard game at Arizona.

Punting also played a large part in the workout, with Hal Hager and Don Murdy handling the kicking duties. The efficiency of these men is expected to help in the Whittier contest, for Pomona has played a strong kicking game so far.

Gene Tunney Takes Stand in Law Suit

his life in defense of the $300,000 suit brought by Tim Mara, Broadway bookmaker, for asserted breach of contract.

Tunney was so voluble, so intent on missing no details in painting the picture of his career and reciting his own version of the events that led to the suit, that Justice Peter A. Hatting took under advisement a motion to throw out much of his testimony. But he let Gentleman Gene ramble on telling his tale in his own words.

As the first witness for the defense Emory Buckner, former United States Attorney, called Mrs. Rose Salsberg, now of Los Angeles. She said she was a stenographer in the law office of Alan Carruthers here in 1926 and typed the three contracts upon which Mara based his suit. Mara claims Tunney entered into a verbal agreement in May, 1926, to pay him 25 per cent of his ring earnings if he became champion of the world. He also asserts Tunney contracted to give him 10 per cent of his $200,000 purse for a fight with Jack Dempsey in return for Mara's help in getting the match, advice and exploitation.

Mrs. Salsberg testified Gibson and Mara in 1926 had a contract drawn giving Mara 10 per cent of Tunney's purse for a Dempsey fight, but that the original stipulation was the match, barred in New York State at that time because the State Athletic Commission recognized Harry Wills as the logical contender, must take place there.

Tunney's testimony, long awaited, told of the 25-a-week job he took when 16 years of age in a steamship office and left as a clerk earning $16.50 a week to join the Marines in 1918. He bested for fun every night, he said, but did not take the sport seriously until he enlisted in the Marines during the World War and won the heavyweight championship of the A.E.F. The big fighter, as keen and close to condition as in his fighting days, struck the firmest blow in his own defense when he told dramatically of a talk he had with the late Tex Rickard, Madison Square Garden promotor, in July of 1926, several months before his alleged arrangement with Mara. They met in the apartment of a friend.

"Jack Dempsey will fight for no one but me," Tunney quoted Rickard as saying. "He had one experience fighting for some one else and he didn't get his money. Gene, I can make you champion if you'll string along with me."

"You mean you want me to fight Dempsey?" Tunney said he asked, and Rickard said "Yes."

"Then you've got me," Gene testified he answered, they shook hands and the agreement was made.

Equipose Is Victor Over Stake Rival

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5. (AP)—Given a masterful ride by Sonny Workman, the late Harry Payne Whitney's Equipose gained revenge over the Greentree stable's Twenty Grand in winning the $40,000 added Pimlico futurity at the Baltimore track today. Twice beaten this year by Twenty Grand the Whitney colt, restrained until the last turn of the mile-and-sixteenth route, overtook the flying Mate, which had set the pace, and outclassed the Greentree star to win by a half-length. Mate, owned by A. C. Bostwick, finished third.

LOYOLA, SANTA CLARA DUCATS GO ON SALE

Football tickets for the Loyola University-Santa Clara grid game to be played at the Los Angeles Coliseum were put on sale yesterday, according to an announcement made by Victor Lawler, graduate manager of the local institution.

The Lions meet the Broncos on Saturday afternoon, the 22nd inst.

The ducats may be obtained at Donavan & Seamans, jewelers; B. H. Dyas' Los Angeles and Hollywood stores, Coliseum office and at the athletic department of Loyola University, Del Rey.

Union Oilers to Face Shell Pucks Tonight

Buster Smith, one of the best forwards on the Coast, was signed to a contract yesterday by Manager Al Claman of the Union Oil ice hockey squad and will make his first appearance tonight at the Winter Garden when Union and the Shell Oil Tigers clash in a very important game in the local ice hockey league.

The addition of "Buster" makes the Union squad the favorite to annex this evening's clash as well as the championship of the Southern California Hockey League. Smith will probably hold down the center berth, working with Chuck Warren and Clarence Keyes.

While the Union forces will take the ice tonight favorites over the Shell Oilers, Manager Doc Claman of the Shell sextet is confident that his forward combination of Comber, Wells, Fritz and Mason will be able to get enough goals to make things interesting during the course of the game.

MONARCHS, MAPLE LEAFS TO MIX AT PALAIS DE GLACE

Hockey sticks are expected to fly fast and furiously tonight at the Palais de Glace when play will be resumed in the senior league with the Hollywood Monarchs facing the Maple Leafs. These teams, including the aforementioned and the Los Angeles Bruins, are now tied for first place in the circuit with two wins and two losses apiece.

As a result of the many fist fights last Monday in the Bruin-Monarch tilt, President M. R. Kester has notified league referees that they are to hand out major penalties for unnecessary rough stuff in the tilt tonight.

LOYOLA PREPS DRILLING

Coach Bernie Donahue of Loyola High School is preparing his charges for their game with the San Diego Army and Navy Academy on Friday afternoon. The two teams have been deadly rivals for the past five years and always play hard games. They will meet on the Loyola Venice Boulevard field.

Notre Dame Heavy Favorite Over Pennsylvania

Detroit-Fordham, Navy and Ohio State Tangle

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Intersectional football comes to its peak on Saturday and to get anything like even break in the more important games played to date, the East will need something like a clean-up. So far the margin among the leaders has been all with the West.

Notre Dame has beaten Navy, Carnegie and Pittsburgh. Michigan State has handed Colgate its only defeat. Wisconsin has stopped the poison ivy in Pennsylvania. Marquette has beaten Boston College.

Saturday's schedule will bring out the most interesting intersectional match of the year, so far as the East and Midwest are concerned. Army plays Illinois. Harvard plays Michigan. Pennsylvania faces Notre Dame, Fordham goes to Detroit and Navy plays Ohio State. These are all teams of the upper level—hard and fairly even tests. Of these games the Army has the better chance to win.

TWO GOOD PASSERS

The Harvard-Michigan clash should be one of the best of the day. Harvard has a better passing attack, but Barry Wood will find a worthy passing rival in Newman of Michigan, Benny Friedman's young pupil who has been one of the sensations of the year. So far Wood has not been up to his 1929 standard, but a large part of this has been due to poor protection from a Crimson line that has lost several regulars here and there.

The passing battle between Wood and Newman should be one of the best competitions of a busy day. Newman has passed Michigan to victories in two of her big games. Friedman, who knows what real passing is, rates Newman as the best he has seen this year. If Wood gets his share of protection, this duel will be something to look at along the air route.

Pennsylvania draws the hardest task of the afternoon in facing Notre Dame. Penn's case isn't hopeless, but stopping that Notre Dame attack is something to ask from any team.

One of the closest and hardest games of the day will bring Fordham and Detroit University together. Detroit has been somewhat underrated through a defeat by Iowa, but Dorais has one of his best squads and Fordham will need all it has to get safely by this ambuscade.

This makes Fordham's fifth hard game in a row and these long, unbroken drives in time begin to bear down upon weary nerves. Notre Dame and Fordham are two teams that go into action who have not been checked since 1928, and that a long way back in modern football history.

The Navy, after a slow start, has something ready to offer Ohio State. The Buckeye defense is stronger than its attack and the Navy has a first-class chance to do most of the scoring if it can show the same improvement it has turned in since the Princeton party. The Navy attack will find that Fesler alone is a rugged fortification to be dismantled.

Whether or not Fidel La Barba of Stanford used the Pop Warner single wing back system in his attack on Ray Chocolate is a matter of detail, but at least the Stanford product didn't protect proved that a college education pays—even in the ring.

La Barba, lacking in speed and boxing skill compared to the fast, clever Chocolate, called on two of the winning details of competition. These were headwork and determination, sometimes known as head and heart. He proved that if you can map out the right campaign in advance and then stick to it you can beat a rival equipped with more implements of war.

If La Barba had lagged at any stage he would have left the needed opening for a counter attack that might easily have carried too many guns. He left no such opening, even when he was hard pressed in the rounds to keep his program intact. The Stanford product was one of the smart men of his trade, and this smartness will carry him still further along a well read.

THIRTY PLAYERS ON ARIZONA GRID ROSTER

Word was received yesterday by the department football officials at the Arizona State College team to be made up of thirty players for the game here Tuesday night at Wrigley Field with the Smoke-ers. E. O. Barnett, athletic director of the local department, received a roster from Coach Rudy Hizo, who will accompany the team here.

The lumberjacks in their only appearance locally this season stopped Whittier College. For two straight years they won the Southern title. In 1928-1929 they ruled supreme in their section of the country. A number of Southern California teams have tasted defeat at the games with the Lumberjacks in the past three years.

NEW RECORDS SET BY WEIGHT LIFTERS

Four new American records and one world's mark were established last night at the Los Angeles Athletic Club weight-lifting meet held for members of the club.

The meet, which was attended by a crowd of nearly 200 people, saw Andre Aross set two new American records, Mario Cerratana a new American mark and Jerry Kingsley break his former world record in the abdominal raise and set an American record for the one-hand-press with dumbells.

Officials to Fete Tom Lieb

Tom Lieb, Loyola University coach, will be the guest of honor tonight at the regular meeting of the Southern California football officials at Central Junior High. Lieb's Lions rather startled the local grid world last week by holding the strong Olympic Club to a scoreless tie. Earlier in the year the Olympic Club defeated the California Bears.

CHEVY CHASE STAGES WOMEN'S TOURNEY

Women golfers of the Chevy Chase Golf Club will have an opportunity of trying their hand at tournament competition this month, according to Charley Johnston, with a fifty-four-hole medal play event on the program.

Three cards must be turned in this month and the W. H. Joplin trophy will be awarded the low net winner.

Third-round matches have been completed in the Charley Belsey trophy tournament. Tom Carpenter faces L. J. Goodenough and E. J. LaVigne meets H. B. Menardi in the semifinal round.

Results of third-round matches were as follows: Carpenter defeated Charles Hester, 4 and 3; Goodenough defeated Whyte Womack, 2 up; LaVigne defeated C. J. Gaines, 5 and 3; Menardi defeated Al Collier, 2 and 1.

Menardi's win over Collier was something of an upset. The victor plays to a 12 handicap, but has shown exceptional improvement lately.

GOOD FISHING REPORT FROM HERMOSA BARGE

Good fishing reports continue to come from the big Olympic fishing barge at Hermosa Beach. Capt. J. M. Anderson, skipper of the big vessel, reports excellent angling conditions with heavy daily catches of mackerel, sand dabs, perch, bonito and halibut. Pier anglers are catching croakers, smelt and mackerel, while corbina and croakers continue to be hooked by surf fishermen.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

THE JUMP COUNTS

THE old story of the team that gets the jump winning the ball game was never more true than in California's 15-7 victory over the Trojans last year. Query—who'll get the jump Saturday?

In 1929 Duffield kicked off poorly—25 yards—and Pitto ran the ball back 10 yards. There were the Bears with the oval in their possession on their own 45-yard line, and when Benny Lom kicked 47 yards out of bounds the Trojans were in a hole they never got out of successfully.

Before the quarter ended the Bears had pushed over a touchdown, and you can trace it right back to that poor kick-off, Lom's remarkable punt and the battling spirit of the Bears.

Before the game Southern California was as much as a 3-1 favortie in some quarters.

But the Bears entered the game with the proper mental attitude, got the jump, made fifteen points in the first half and held the Trojans to seven in the last two periods.

WAIT FOR THE BREAK

AND by the way, California played ball in that first period last year that was reminiscent of the Andy Smith days when the slogan was "Kick and Wait for the Breaks."

There were no less than seven punts in the initial quarter—four by Lom and three by Duffield.

And finally California got the break it had been waiting for—a fumble by Jim Musick which was recovered by Griffiths on the Trojan 40-yard line. A 15-yard pass by Lom to Eisan, a 20-yard run around end by Griffiths, a buck by Griffiths and three by Rusty Gill and the ball was over.

But the history of those punts by Lom and Duffield is epochal. First of all, Lom punted 47 yards out of bounds.

Duffield kicked back 54 yards straight up the field.

These distances are from the line of scrimmage, not from the point where the kicker toed the ball.

Lom punted 39 yards. Duffield kicked 35 yards out of bounds.

Lom punted 42 yards. The Trojans tried three line plays, and Duffield kicked 35 yards out of bounds to the point from where Lom had booted the leather, the Bears' 40-yard line.

Lom punted 43 yards. Duffield ran back the kick 18 yards, and then the Trojans made the first down of the day on an offside penalty, a 2-yard gain by Duffield and a 7-yard smash by Pinckert. This put the ball on the Trojans' 45-yard line.

Then came the series of breaks that paved the way to the California score. Lom intercepted a pass. Then Musick intercepted a pass and dashed 25 yards, only to fumble the ball into the possession of Griffiths. From there the Bears rode to their touchdown.

LA BARBA'S "BREAK"

FIDEL LA BARBA'S victory over Kid Chocolate in New York the other night was hailed with real enthusiasm by his local followers.

Fidel had a "break" coming to him, and victory over a New York favorite in New York is a victory well worth while.

The "Koed" beat La Barba in their first meeting although George Blake always swore the decision was off color.

La Barba's last eastern invasion was disastrous.

Bouts with Earl Mastro, Bud Taylor and Chocolate all had to be called off for one reason or another, and saddest of all Blake's wife died at New York.

Fidel has been with Blake ever since he knew enough to lace on a glove—through the amateur days when he was winning Coast titles, then the Olympic crown at Paris in 1924, and finally as professional—and the Blakes were the same to him as father and mother.

In 1925 Fidel won the flyweight championship, relinquished the crown when he outgrew the division, went to Stanford, married and then returned to the ring as a featherweight.

In Chocolate he beat the best man of the division. But Battalino, the featherweight king, is one of those synthetic champions destined to lose his title the first time he meets a good man. And naturally we all hope Fidel gets that chance.

BEARS MYSTERY TEAM

find them no such pushovers as were the Stanford linemen. If you read through the play-by-play of California's games this year you'll find that they have been hard to push around or through.

On the other hand, they haven't much of an offense. But, on second thought, when did they ever have one? Certainly not recently. Nibs Price has enough of the ancient Andy Smith idea in his head to figure first on holding the other fellow and secondly to advance the ball if possible. A new type of offense, a sort of a parody on the Rockne shift, has done nothing more than help to gum things up, offensively speaking. The boys don't learn a smooth shift overnight.

BIG LINE

The Bear line is big and belligerent. Ted Beckett is as tough a mug as ever speared an opponent. He tackles 'em all over the field and is a rough and ready individual. The rest of the line seems to follow his example, and the Trojans are in for some terrific thumps. There are plenty of good substitutes on Nibs's bench also, and Rusty Gill can back up a line with anybody.

Offensively, the Bears are not so hot. They may be by now but they haven't been so far. Price has a wealth of material, but injuries and inexperience seem to have resulted in just one long parade of signal shouters, one apparently about as bad as the one before. Potter seems to be the fair-haired boy just now, but he was preceded by half a dozen others, none of whom seemed to be able to marshal anything that looked like a consistent attack.

Price has a flock of good ball carriers but, despite his loud cheers that with Benny Lom gone there would be no more one-man teams at California, the 1930 Bears look just about like the 1927, 1928 and 1929 crew except that Hank Schaldach's Teutonic personality scintillates where once the Arabian profile of Benny Lom was to be seen.

THE OFFENSE

Schaldach, a junior college transfer, is fast, strong and fairly shifty and is a good passer. So far the Bear offense has consisted of giving the ball to Mr. Schaldach, who would either slice off tackle or swoop wide outside end, and, more times than not, wind up by backing furiously toward his own goal and throwing a terrific toss into the atmosphere where somebody—apparently it didn't matter who—might catch it.

The shift, as it worked in the early games of the season, isn't likely to fool anybody and apparently the Bear quarterbacks are not capable of marshaling a diversified or powerful running attack, so it looks very much as though the game would consist largely, as far as the Bears are concerned, of trying to keep the Trojans from running wild —a rather large order.

California's hope of victory seems to rest largely on two possibilities —they either have to get some kind of a break and score that way or else just keep throwing those long passes in the hope that the well-known Trojan inability to stop this kind of a game will give them a touchdown or so.

BEARS TO ARRIVE TOMORROW MORNING

The Golden Bears will arrive here on the Southern Pacific Padre tomorrow morning at Glendale at 9 o'clock and will be accompanied by two special trains of northern rooters.

Two additional special trains will arrive in Los Angeles Saturday morning at 8:40 bearing the California band and party of about 800 students. A second section of the Lark will bring football fans from San Francisco, arriving here at 9:30 a.m. Friday.

JACKIE CARR MAKES COMEBACK TONIGHT

A main event which promises to be as sensational as any held at the Pasadena Arena has been arranged for tonight's show by Promoter Morrie Cohan of the arena. He has signed Jackie Carr, the welterweight pride of Glendale, and Alfonso Gonzales, the Texas Cyclone, to meet in the final bout. Bobby Reister will meet the winner shortly at the arena. Carr is making a comeback after a long absence from the ring.

There will be five bouts of four rounds each as follows: Don Kennedy vs. Elliott Padillo, 128 pounds; Eddie Guangco vs. John Rogers, 122 pounds; Ben Mosselle vs. Henry Gainten, 162 pounds; Joe Skube vs. Dutch Hart, 150 pounds, and Primo Jorial vs. Luis Ayala, 116 pounds.

Powers, Stern in Finals of Handball Play

Joe Powers of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and Art Stern of the Y.M.C.A., are the finalists in the Southern California handball championship play. Powers, defending champion, defeated Morris of the Elks Club, 21-12; 21-6 yesterday while Stern downed Hayek of the Y.M.C.A. 21-19; 21-14.

PEDLEY SWINGS MALLET SUNDAY

for the Americans in the tournament.

When Pedley rides on the field at the picturesque Rustic Canyon club Sunday, he no doubt will get a thundering ovation from Southern California polo followers who are expected out in numbers to see their famous star perform.

Eric will ride on a team composed of Will Rogers, Jr., Hal Roach, Clair Brunson and himself. Opposed to this team will be one led by Carl Crawford, brawny six-goal player, who hails from Chicago. Lionel Pedley, brother of Eric, Snowy Baker and Charles Crawford are the other members of the team that will furnish the opposition.

Pedley is sort of polo tradition to the Southland now. Starting as a youngster Riverside some years ago he stepped along fast until as a member of the famous original Midwick "Big Four" he won national fame and an eight-goal rating, when the Purple riders copped the senior and open championships in the short space of one month. That was in 1924. He was the first west coast man ever to be picked on an international squad, being named as an alternate that year.

At that time, however, the eastern critics were sure that Eric was not fitted for the No. 1 position, the one he tried out for. What a shock they got in the last tryouts, when Eric's goal shooting brought praise that rocked the country. And as history tells us in the big matches themselves Pedley was almost the whole works.

The line-ups:

Whites		Reds
Will Rogers, Jr.	No. 1	Chas. Crawford
Hal Roach	No. 2	Lionel Pedley
Eric Pedley	No. 3	Carl Crawford
Clair Brunson	Back	Snowy Baker

Bowling

The Durant Motors of Long Beach won two games and totals from the Hubbell Pirds at Compton, Rico being the best with 594 total.

The Alco Tool Company won 3 points from the Mutual Building and Loan Association at Compton. George Farmer had a game score of 224, and the best totals with 595.

The Landier Music Company romped on the Metropolitan Health Institute at San Pedro for four straights. Nick Baskovich was the star performer with 226 and 622.

Al Hammond gave his A. H. Rude & Co., team a 627 score, but didn't get much help and the Minot Day team from Fullerton won two games and totals.

Sunset Gasoline of Santa Ana won three games and totals from the MacDonald Sporting Goods at Santa Ana. H. Christman of the Sunset team was high man, 598 for totals, and Wolfe had the best game score with 229.

The B.P.O.E., No. 1870, of Compton couldn't get going and Daddy Miller's Long Beach Sun team walked off with four straights at the Arcade. Cid Doolittle's 601 was the best score of the match.

The Press-Telegram team won two games and totals from the Hancock Gasoline team at the Arcade. The last game was won by the Gasoline five, by 12 pins.

With Art Morse getting three games better than 200 the Wilmington Bowl team won two games and totals from the Knights of Pythias at the Bath-house Alleys. Morse totaled 622 with 214 being high.

The McCaslin Brown Built Shoes, leaders in the team standings of the No. 2 Central, continue to drive along at a fast clip. They won three from the Fuhrmann Shellacs. J. Rosa had the best total with 603.

Howard Lockhart of the Woodbury Studio team did his best to beat the Luxor team, No. 2, by smacking the sticks for a 665 count. Howard was alone, as the Luxors grabbed two games and totals.

The P. & S. Carpet Cleaners took the Parky's Service Station for three games and totals at Highland Park. Dicky Boy Whitman was high man, counting 580, closely followed by Art Penneman with 563.

The Pekomane Recreation and the Alpha Beta Markets stood one each going into the last game, when the Recreation boys got to going and cracked a 997 score that was good for the final game and totals.

Probably the most interesting match of this division was the one played at Pekomane between the Rexall Candy and Southland Drugs. All of the six games were well over the 900 mark, the druggists getting 3 points. They totaled 2858.

The Spot Cafe team has 903, 901 and 1024 for a total of 2828 and won the entire series from the North Hollywood Merchants. Moosa Grarebeck was the high man with a count of 630 and 256 for high game score.

Pacific Auto Association won four from the Jensen's Recreation.

The Gibraltar Finance won the first game from the Brunswick-Balke-Collender team, only to drop the remaining two and totals. Jimmie Koshi had 583 for high totals.

"Ezz" Horsley of the Philadelphia Cigars and Turpa Lohmeyer of the Gilmore Oils staged a hot match for individual honors at the Hollywood Rec. "Ezz" finished with a 626 count and Turpa 620. The Gilmores won two games and totals. George Ramsey gave the Gilmores a 241 count in the second game.

After dropping the first game to the Brehmes Pickles, the Recreation came back to take the remaining games and totals. Paul Briggs did the best work with 624 total.

Sparkletts won two games and totals from the Jewel City Undertakers at the Glendale Recreation. Ed Errett's 593 for the losers was the best individual total.

GEORGE COOK BEATS KENNEDY IN RING GO

DOUBLE BILL ON MAT CARD

Lewis, Marshall Battle on Feature Program

Promoter Lou Daro scheduled a double main event for the Olympic Wednesday night when he signed Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's mat king, to meet Jose Domingues, Mexican wrestling champion, in a best-two-out-of-three fall finish bout.

The other three-fall finish bout will bring together Everette Marshall, the Colorado airplane spin exponent, and Henri De Glane, French champion and former Greco-Roman wrestling champion.

Lewis is eager to get started here again, as he is after a return match here with Champion Gus Sonnenberg, with the "billygoat" butt barred. This is known to be the only big mat center in the country where the butt is barred. With Lewis and Don George, the Hollywood mat idol, both after a return meeting here with Sonnenberg, close followers of the game look for a four-cornered battle here for a title match.

Both De Glane and Marshall are anxious to get another shot at Sonnenberg. George, who suffered neck injuries in his sensational battle with Sonnenberg here last week was in the gym yesterday going through light exercises. Within ten days he expects to start heavy training work again.

The night that De Glane was beaten by Sonnenberg, he had scored the first fall against the champion, when the mat king caught him in the pit of the stomach with a billy-goat butt that carried him through the ropes into the ringside seats. The Frenchman received a deep cut under his chin and on the back of his head. He was in the hospital for several days, and for a time it was feared he had suffered a skull fracture. That was the first bout De Glane had lost in the eleven years on the mat.

COVINA BABES LOSE TO EL MONTE, 33-0

Scoring 21 points in the first quarter, the El Monte lightweight football team walloped the Covina Babes, 33 to 0, yesterday in a game played on the former's gridiron. Muller proved to be a tower of strength in the line for the Lions on defense, while Pearson gained most of his team's yardage and scored three touchdowns.

UNBEATEN ELEVENS TO TANGLE SUNDAY

With both teams predicting a victory, the stage is all set for Sunday's banner soccer clash at Loyola Field between the unbeaten L.A.A.C. and Hollywood elevens. This game is the biggest of the season and will decide the winner for the first round of play.

The Sheiks will start with Vic Copeland, goal; Thomas and Hawkins, backs; Southerland, Ernie Copeland and Stewart, halfbacks, and Close, Downie, Cowie, McDill and Ramsay, forwards. The downtown team will use Koelmel, goal; Tunicliffe and Tunaclife, backs; Semple, Allan and Roffredo, halfbacks, and Scott, Robertson, Hepburn, Owens and Pearson, forwards.

BRUIN, BEAR HARRIERS MEET HERE SATURDAY

The cross-country teams of U.C.L.A. and the University of California will clash Saturday morning over the new Westwood course of four miles in the first harrier meet of the season. The meet is rated a toss-up, with both teams rated strong.

The Bruin cross-country teams have a record of being undefeated in eight years of coaching, according to Guy Harris, coach, and will be out to maintain that record. Capt. Art Thurman and Bill Van Meres are the stars of the Bruin harrier team this year.

BITTO, WAGNER DRAW

Joe Bitto and Billy Wagner battled to an eight-round draw in the main event at the Pico Bowl last night. Berny Richardson stopped Jack Groves in the third round of the semi-wind-up. In the special event Billy Burns outpointed Percy Rodriguez. Georgie Burns drew with Antero Palacios, while Paul Burke and Frankie Jeffrebo also fought a draw in the curtain-raiser.

KELLEY KARS TO TACKLE ROYAL GIANTS TONIGHT

In an effort to even up the series with their colored rivals, the Kelley Kars will send Win Ballou to the mound against the Royal Giants in tonight's Winter League game at Wrigley Field. Ballou beat the Giants last Saturday, 5 to 3, and figures to be even more effective under the arcs with his dazzling fast ones and downers.

The Giants defeated Fred Haney's Kelley Kars in a double-header last Sunday, and Manager Lonnie Goodwin says that they're off to the races from now on. "Those two victories were all the Giants needed to pep them up and from now on they'll be awfully tough to beat," claims Lonnie.

Fans who saw last week's Wrigley Field games were impressed by the hustling spirit and good ball put up by the rival athletes. The Giants form a colorful outfit and are always pulling the unexpected, especially when they get on the paths.

Wes Kingdon's Commercial Club nine, which has in its line-up such stars as Jim Turner, Louie Ahmada, Hollis Thurston, Jack Fenton, Johnny Moore and Fuzzy Hufft, will furnish the opposition for the Royal Giants at Wrigley Field Saturday and Sunday. The Commercials defeated the Shell Oilers in eleven innings last Sunday and nosed out the major league all-Stars in ten frames in their only two starts this fall.

SMALL BOXERS GET CHANCE SATURDAY

After giving heavier boxers the breaks for several weeks, Carlo Curtis will give the smaller boxers a chance to show at the Main-street club Saturday night when featherweights and bantamweights will supply the action. There are four featherweights in the two feature six-round bouts, Mickey Hall being matched with Leo Domingo and Louis Ramos with Joe Vasquez. The four are very evenly matched and Curtis is confident that the two winners will supply him with a slashing main event for the following week.

BILL HUNTER TO BE HONORED

Bill Hunter, director of athletics at U.S.C., will be guest of honor at Coach Cunningham's training table at the Black-Pyne Military Institute tomorrow afternoon. The event is being held as a curtain-raiser prior to the cadets' trek to Claremont where the soldiers' varsity eleven will meet the powerful Webb School football team.

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Thus far on the Greystoke estates, during Tarzan's absence, life had followed its usual routine. Korak managed the activities of the farmhouse and in his leisure moments exercised the Golden Lion upon a leash. At such times he was very cautious, for he feared for his own powers of control over Jad-bal-ja. And it required little imagination to visualize what would happen if in the absence of Tarzan, its master, the Golden Lion, reared fearless among men, should take to the jungle and revert to its natural, savage state.

Then befell the first of a series of events that were to bring Tarzan of the Apes to the brink of disaster. Came a native runner from Nairobi bearing a cable message to Lady Greystoke announcing the serious illness of her father in London. Jane discussed the situation with her son. It would be weeks before a runner could reach Tarzan. It was decided, therefore, that she should set out immediately. Korak was to accompany her as far as Nairobi. Then he was to return to the ranch and resume its responsibility until his father's return.

Now it is a long trek from the Greystoke estates to the little African town of Nairobi. Korak had not yet returned when, three weeks later, Jad-bal-ja escaped. A careless black, whose duty it was to feed the Golden Lion, accidentally left the cage door unfastened. The shrewd beast observed it, inserted a great, padded paw and the gate swung open. Jad-bal-ja dropped softly to the ground. He easily leaped the inclosing fence and loped off in the direction of the jungle. Thorough search by the affrighted blacks failed to find him. Woe to any foes who cross the path of this King of Beasts!

That same night Tarzan approached the camp fires of the strange party he had been following. Unseen by them, the ape-man halted in the foliage of a tree directly in the center of their camp which was brilliantly lighted by enormous fires of brushwood. Before one of these sat three white men. Two were great, bull-necked fellows, evidently middle-class Englishmen. The other was tall, slender and handsome, with regular features and dark wavy hair. This chap now entered a near-by tent from which came the sound of conversation. Tarzan, amazed, recognized one voice as that of a woman.
